ENGLISHMEN FIRED UPON.

Commander of the Venezuelan Frontier Police Exchanges Shots With a Hunting Party.

Kingston, Jamaica, Sept. 3.—Advises to hand from the north-west territory of British Guiana tell of an attack made on an English settler and his party by the Venezuelan frontier police. George H. Moore is a grant holder on the English side of the Amacura river. The other day he left his residence with a party of Englishmen for a fishing and hunting expedition to Bauma. When the boat got opposite to the Venezuelan outpost station at the mouth of the Amacura, the party were hailed by the garrison and informed that they would not be allowed to proceed. Mr. Moore asked why, on what grounds, and by what authority?

No answer was given and thereupon the boat, which had been luffed at the challenge, hauled its wind and proceeded onward. On seeing this Col. Castania the officer in command of the station, ran out on the shore flourishing a rifle and yelling out that he would shoot if the boat did not run in. Not believing that the officer could be in earnest Mr. Moore made a derisive reply, whereupon Castania opened fire. By the time he had got two shots Moore and his friends were answering, and Castania was hit on the leg. The wound was a very slight one, but it stopped him, and he hobbled into the station.

Meanwhile the soldiers of the guard were seen to be busy with a gun that stood on a little eminence and commanded the mouth of the river. To get out of range Moore had to run his boat right under the gun. Seeing this the Venezuelans supposed that the Englishmen were going to surrender and ran down to meet them. But Moore and his friends were by this time in a fine rage and up to mischief. The opportunity was too good to be lost. At the first sign of fight the whole garrison of six men had run out of the station to man the gun, leaving their arms in the building. When the boat grounded within a few yards of the station door, the garrison were still some twenty yards off, and there was only Castania in the station nursing his wounded leg.

Apparently Castania had not seen the boat coming in. At any rate, before he knew what hit him, Moore and his three companions were in the station and had him down, and by the time the garrison were on hand they found four rifles covering them. Castania threatened the Englishman with instant death and destruction, calling on the men to shoot down the "gringos". But, unfortunately, the "gringos" were between the men and their arms, thus being completely masters of the situation.

Eventually a truce was patched up, and the party of Englishmen left their disconcerted assailants cowed, but in no amiable mood. The incident was at once reported to the colonial authorities at Georgetown, but it appears that sooner than interrupt the present friendly conditions of diplomatic negotiations no action has been taken in the matter.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 1.—Vice-President and General Manager Shaughnessy, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is now here, and was interviewed by the City Council and Board of Trade this morning. In reply to the various matters brought up, Mr. Shaughnessy stated that his company had now under consideration the question of a direct service to the Yukon, and at the present time one of the officers of the company was arranging for the necessary steamers. He also stated that the company intended to put on a much better service between Vancouver and Victoria. He then briefly referred to the company's service in the Kootenay, stating that in a short time Rossland would be reached from here in a day.

Since the closing of the Indian Famine Fund in Canada on the first of July additional subscriptions, amounting to three thousand two hundred and thirty-nine dollars, have been received, which makes a total of one hundred and seventy-nine thousand one hundred and sixty-one dollars.

GRAVENHURST, Sept. 1.—Mrs. Anchorn, Toronto, and Richard Moore, Fergus both inexperienced canoeists, attempted to run the Moon river chute by the Short Portage. The canoe upset, Mrs. Anchorn was drowned at once, but Moore was rescued by Mrs. Hodgins, Toronto, who waded in and with the aid of a branch of a tree saved his life.

MORE NEPOTISM.

The list is growing. Sir Richard Cartwright started it by appointing his son to a position in the Mounted Police. Then Secretary of State Scott secured a place for his brother as land agent at Battleford.

Afterwards Mr. Sifton's uncle got off with a contract without tender. Subsequently a boom was started in favor of a Governorship for Mr. Sifton's father.

Mr. M. C. Cameron next appeared on the surface and claimed a postmaster-ship for his son-in-law.

This was after Mr. Hardy had secured the judgeship for his brother, and Mr. Ross the registrarship for his brother-in-law, and Mr. Dryden the registrarship for his brother, and Mr. Gibson of Huron, the registrarship for his brother.

But Mr. Pelletier, the Speaker of the Senate, has eclipsed everything in this line.

His son, a lieutenant, is created a lieutenant-colonel provisionally, so that he can take the position of district officer commanding in Quebec over the heads of all the qualified officers in that part of the country.—Mail and Empire.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH.

A young man named John Livingstone had a narrow escape from a frightful death in the barrel factory at the sugar refinery yesterday morning. He was working near the shaft when in some manner his clothes caught in the shaft. Livingstone with remarkable presence of mind put his feet under the plainer, holding himself firmly. Almost in an instant his clothes were torn off. A man named Murray, who was near by, seized Livingstone's body and gave the alarm and the engine was stopped and Livingstone was extricated from his perilous position. His face was badly bruised and his arms, sides and legs badly lacerated. While rather painful his injuries are not considered of a serious nature.—Moncton Times.

It is a painful sight to see an otherwise robust man limping along on a crutch or cane, a sufferer from rheumatism. Rheumatism is a disease that will never attack a man who keeps his blood pure and rich. There is just one way to do this. That is, to keep the digestion and assimilation perfect and the liver and bowels active. All cases of rheumatism are promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It creates a keen, hearty appetite, corrects all disorders of the digestion, and all weakness of the stomach. It makes the assimilation perfect, the liver active, the blood pure and rich with the life-giving elements of the food, the nerves strong and steady, and it drives all impurities and abnormal acids from the blood. It allays inflammation and dispels pain. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It does not make corpulent people more corpulent. Unlike cod liver oil, it does not buter the fatty flesh, but tears down the unhealthy, half-dead tissues that constitute corpulence, carries them away and excretes them, replacing them with the firm tissues of health. Thousands have testified to its merits. Sold at all medicine stores.

"I have been afflicted with rheumatism and kidney trouble," writes Mr. C. B. White, of Grove, Georgia Co., Ohio. "I suffered untold pain. I was afraid I would lose my mind. At times I was almost entirely helpless. There had not been a night for three years that I could rest in any position. I tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I used three bottles of it and am well of both diseases."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them and there's nothing else "just as good."

A Disgusted Scotchman.

A famous astronomer, whose knowledge of arithmetical facts was a dreadful engine of conversation, once diverted himself by asking the company if they were aware of the immense distance they were from heaven. It was, he informed them, so many millions of diameters of the solar system and would take many thousand years to traverse. "I don't know the distance nor the time," exclaimed a Scotchman who was present, "that it would take you to get to heaven. But I know this—it will not take you a millionth part of the time to go to the other place."—San Francisco Argonaut.

The Curing Room.

Cheese is only half made when placed in the curing room, and its value depends largely upon how it is treated there. The temperature should be constant and should be from 60 to 65 degrees. If the temperature is too high, the cheese will go off flavor, if too low or uneven will not cure properly. The stove should be placed in the center of the curing room and should have a jacket around it to prevent the heat from striking the cheese nearest the stove. The jacket should also be a few inches from the floor, so that the cold air may pass under it and rise above as it heats, thus causing a complete circulation of warm air through the room.

KLONDYKE!

The Land of Golden nuggets

JOSEPH LADUE, the new Bonanza King of the Klondike, dike Gold Regions, gives the facts. His book reads like "The Arabian Nights" BUT Joseph Ladue KNOWS whereof he writes. He was the first man on the spot when the first gold was discovered last August, 1896. He located one rich claim, and immediately purchased twelve others at a low price before their value was known. He has refused $100,000 for any ONE of these claims, as they are rich with virgin gold nuggets beyond the dreams of avarice, Joseph Ladue then at the mouth of the Klondyke and Yukon Rivers, by erecting the first house in the region in September, one month after the gold was first discovered. He bought 178 acres from the government on the city site where his town lots, 150x50, are now selling for $5,000 each.

Mr. Ladue was fortunate enough to be successful in his trading post investments to have on hand ample capital to carry out his plans, and there is no man living who is better posted on Alaska and the great North West Territories than Mr. Joseph Ladue. He has just returned from that country to his old home in Schuyler Falls, N. Y., where he passed a large portion of his boyhood and early manhood. Mr. Ladue left his home nearly twenty years ago to seek his fortune in the West, going first to the Black Hills, where he was successful in gold mining, thence to Arizona and the Pacific Coast, and finally located in Alaska and the North West, where he has covered almost the entire country since 1882. Mr. Ladue is a typical pioneer; strong, hardy and resolute—a man of iron as one must needs be to go through the hardships he has and come out with a constitution unbroken and unimpaired at the age of about forty-three. Mr. Ladue has not only worked his muscles to good advantage to himself with the result of an abundance of the world's goods far beyond the dreams of men, but he has evidently all his time been closely observing the conditions of that strange country—the Yukon Valley—which has so suddenly become one of the great centres upon which human interest throughout the world is focussed.

When the wonderful stories began to come down from the Yukon country it was naturally concluded that it was at least half exaggeration. That any such amount of gold could be taken in so short a time from a country like that under the most unfavorable conditions was held to be incredible. But when the great bags of virgin gold began to be poured out upon mint counters in San Francisco under the eyes of the whole world (for modern journalism does this, annihilating time and space), people began to wonder, and the wonder grew day by day as the real facts were disclosed, and now people who are well informed as to the facts declare that half the truth has not been told of the golden treasures of the Yukon Valley.

As we have already said, there is no man alive to day who knows more about this wonderful country than does Mr. Ladue. What makes his talk of it specially interesting and reliable is the fact that his knowledge of it is practical. It has not been gained from hearsay nor from desolatory visits made now and then at certain favorable seasons of the year, but from steady living there through the long summer days and the long winter nights year in and year out for 15 years, where he now owns the best mining claims on the Klondyke and its tributaries.

In presenting his book to the public we do so knowing that it is by an authority on the subject of which he writes. His first work entitled is a brief description of the new gold regions, and anyone desiring authentic information should not fail to avail themselves of our
