IN MEMORIAM

MRS. AMBROSE DOYLE

Once again the All-Just and All-Merciful Hand of God, has taken from our midst, a well loved friend, wife and mother, one whose popularity and high standing among all who knew her serve to indicate her good-will towards others.

The news of the death of Mrs. Ambrose Doyle, at the Charlottetown Hospital on Thursday, February 9th, brought genuine sorrow to her many friends. During her brief illness she was visited by her pastor, Rev. O. P. Wood and received the last rites of the Catholic Church of which she was a devout member.

Born at Covehead in 1873, she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James McGraith. After her marriage in 1903 she resided at Pleasant Grove; here she devoted herself always to her home and to her family, and in those interests she was occupied to the end. She loved her home, and all who knew her well remember her for her kind hospitality. She leaves to mourn their loss, her sorrowing husband, five sons Frank at home; Wilfred in Halifax; Leo at Pleasant Grove; Reginald in Halifax and Vincent in Vancouver. Two daughters, Kathleen, Mrs. William O'Connell, Ten Mile House; Marie in Halifax; also two children who died in infancy. Three sisters Georgie, Gertrude and Lillian, one brother Patrick; also twelve grand children to whom she was devotedly attached.

The funeral was held on Saturday morning, February 11th, at St. Eugene's Church, Covehead. Rev.

O. P. Wood, the parish priest was the celebrant at the Requiem High Mass and also conducted the services at the grave. The pallbearers were: Frank Watts, Farnell Curran, Arthur Wyatt, Joseph Hughes, John Oswell and Alfred Morrison. May her soul rest in peace.

CAMPING & BADGE WORK

Plans are now being made for this Summer's campaign. Every Scout on the Island will be given the opportunity of attending a camp and we hope that all work done there will be on First Class Tests and above.

This means that you have three and one-half months to get your boys through their Second Class work. Yes, it can be done, if you plan a definite programme and stick to it.

To date many Troops are holding meetings regularly but are doing little or no Scout work.

How can you expect to lead these boys if you don't give them the opportunity of advancing?

How can we have A-1 camps if many of the boys are still struggling through Tenderfoot and early Second Class tests?

Lord Baden-Powell said: "A boy does not really get the full value of Scout training until he is a First Class Scout." "As the boy becomes conscious of no longer being a Tenderfoot and of being a responsible and trusted individual with power to do things, he becomes self-reliant." This is very important if we are to turn these boys of today into useful and manly citizens for tomorrow.

You can do it. Will you try?

Individual Troop camping is still the Scout ideal and Leaders should plan and conduct their own Troop Camp, if at all possible. Plans for camp, the raising of necessary funds for equipment, food and transportation, hikes and overnight camps, are all part of Scout training. These activities throughout the year, all lead up to the grand adventure — the long term Troop Summer Camp. Every Scout should have the opportunity to experience the thrill of Summer Camping. That is why the majority of boys come into Scouting.

Someone asked, "How do you get news of a Group in the Scout bulletin?" The answer is — send in a note marked for the attention of "Scout News" of any special activity, especially good hikes. We cannot put it in if we do not hear about it.

Will you oblige me by securing any action pictures you can in connection with the campaign to provide staves for the Scouts of Lunenburg. I am anxious to obtain pictures of Scouts sitting the staves, bundling them for shipment, and any other good action shots in connection with the project. Meanwhile General Spry asks me to send his encouragement to you in the campaign and expresses the hope that the objective of getting the staves ready for final shipment to Greece on St. George's Day, April 23rd., will be achieved.

Yours truly, (Sgd.) Leonard L. Johnson Executive Commissioner for Public Relations.

NOTE: Please have your staves in Charlottetown by April 1st. — E.G.K.

HAVE YOU TAKEN GILWELL TRAINING?

Canadian Headquarters and our Provincial Council are very anxious that all Leaders have Gilwell Training. This year, July 18th to 28th., the Maritime Scoutmasters Gilwell will be held in New Brunswick, and John Thurman will attend on July 24th, 25th, and 26th. Who is left? Just the Camp Chief from Gilwell Park in England!

This is the opportunity of a lifetime, so make your plans now. Your only expenses will be from your home to the boat, as the Provincial Council will take care of registration and camp fees and expenses incurred out of the Province.

WINTER WOODCRAFT (Continued)

The Route It is a mistake to plan Winter hikes which take Scouts too far from the starting place — the route, one way, should not exceed three miles... especially if the snow is deep and you are travelling across country... as you should be. There is nothing so dull to Scouts, or others interested in woodcraft or nature, as a Winter road ploughed almost bare of snow where you must jump at the approach of every car.

Your Winter hike should take you over various types of country — through snow-covered fields, along the shore-line, through woods, over streams, ponds, swamps, up-hill and down in the low places. In this way more opportunities will be found to study different points of nature, to gain experience in hiking, and to thoroughly enjoy the different types of scenery.

Winter Hiking Hints It is good to plan your hike so that the return trip is over country not traversed on the first stage of the outing. An outdoor light mid-day meal with hot drinks, followed by skiing, skating, tobogganing or snow fighting — then a short trip to a cabin or cottage which has been heated by a fire prepared by a few Scouts who are not interested in these activities and who preceded the main body to the shelter is ideal. A full course meal, prepared by these perhaps older boys, for the entire group and served with ceremony, followed by a sing-song makes a full day. The time spent indoors gives the fellows a chance to rest, relax, dry wet clothing or change to dry tog.

Chills

It is important on Winter hikes that we guard against the Scouts becoming chilled — wet feet are dangerous, and an extra pair of socks packed in your rucksack comes in handy — an extra sweater is also useful. Speaking of chills, have you ever noticed that after eating, especially outdoors, you feel cool? That's because blood is drawn from other parts of the body to the stomach to help digest your food. Remember, it's a mistake to eat when you are very tired, for then your food doesn't digest properly. Too distant hikes are bad. Rest a few minutes in every half hour. Furthermore, if you are wet and tired your resistance may be lowered so that a chill may come on. Good Scouts should know that when a fellow gets so cold his teeth begin to chatter, it's a danger signal and trouble is a-brewing unless he changes to dry clothes and gets warmer through his body.

It's a mistake also, Winter or Summer, to gulp down ice cold water when you are overheated. The sudden chill from a cold drink is quite a shock to your insides and may cramp you or start a chill. When you drink very cold water on a hike, roll it around in your mouth a few seconds before swallowing it.

That's all for now. "TALL TIMBER".

HAVE YOU TRIED THIS?

Boom Coming Over! In this game the Troop Hall becomes a ship. The four corners are marked with semi-circles as (1) Brig or Jail, (2) Hold, (3) Galley, and (4) Cabin.

The Captain (Scoutmaster) will call the names listed alternately on which command the boys will run to the corner called. On the command "Boom Coming Over", the boys will fall on the floor.

If they are not quick enough they will be hit by the imaginary boom and so be sent to the "brig". If they are in a marked corner and fall on the above command, they will be sent to the "brig" if any of them is outside the small semicircle.

On the command "Brig" no one moves, as naturally no one wants to go to jail. The boy remaining, after all others are in the "brig" is, of course, the winner.

Dear Lonies: With the current issue, the Lone Scout opens the third year of Lone Scouting on P. E. I. and the editor "Hawkeye", hopes that by this time next year, they will have an enrollment of at least 100 active Lonies. The formative years of any group are full of hills and hollows but Lone Scouting has a firm foundation and the Lone Scout Department is ready to expand.

What has been accomplished so far? About one hundred boys have received some Scout training and many, through their own initiative, have received a great deal. Counting this issue, the P. E. I. LONE SCOUT has been published fifteen times. Lone Scout Austin Gallant of Nail Pond was one of thirty First-Class Scouts who attended the Jamboree in Ottawa last summer. Countless people, friends, neighbours, parents and counselors of Lone Scouts have been brought into contact with and perhaps learned a little of what Scouting is aiming to do in the way of youth training toward producing good and useful citizens.

What Are Our Aims? 1. To spread Scouting through P. E. I. where centres are too small to support or populate a regular Troop. 2. To teach Scouting, or at least place Scouting, within the reach of every boy between the ages of twelve and seventeen years. The rest, with the little help we can give, will be up to the boy and his counselor friend. 3. To aid Game Officers by having Lone Scouts feed and report on the location of Partridge, Pheasants, and other animals who may need help during our bad winter. 4. To do our best through preparation to aid anyone who might call on the "Lone Scouts" in a worthy cause. We Will Seek Aid From - 1.
