

Ottawa Museum Official Relieved Of His Duties

OTTAWA (CP)—Violent clashes of personality at the National Museum have resulted in the director of the human history branch being permanently relieved of administrative duties and offered a purely scientific job.

The offer of another post in the government service to Dr. Jacques Rousseau, 53, follows an inquiry into serious unrest among senior scientific personnel in the museum's human history branch.

Resources Minister Alvin Hamilton reported to the Commons Tuesday that the inquiry undertaken last June showed the unrest to be "purely and simply a case of violent clashes of personalities."

He gave no indication of the other persons involved but newspaper reports several weeks ago quoted both Dr. Rousseau and Dr. Marius Barbeau, noted 75-year-old anthropologist who works part-time at the museum, in uncomplimentary remarks about each other.

MID-FEBRUARY DEADLINE

It is understood Dr. Rousseau has been given until about mid-February to decide on the offer. If he declines, he will be asked to resign and, if he again declines, will be discharged, informants said.

Dr. Rousseau is an ethnobotanist—a scientist who traces human migrations through study of plants used in the daily lives of the people concerned—and he became director of the human history branch in the fall of 1956.

At that time, the former Liberal government divided the museum's work into natural history and human history. Dr. L. S. Russell, director of the natural history branch, has been performing Dr. Rousseau's administrative functions since Dec. 29 and will continue to do so as acting head of the human history branch.

NO REFLECTION

Mr. Hamilton said nothing in the matter studied nor in the report of the inquiry by Deputy Minister Gordon Robertson "has at any time or in any way reflected on his (Dr. Rousseau's) reputation or standing as a scientist."

Mr. Hamilton said the Civil Service Commission fully concurs in the conclusions reached. In late December, when the museum troubles were being widely reported, Dr. Barbeau was quoted as praising Dr. Rousseau as a scientist but describing him as one who had a "sense of persecution." Dr. Rousseau on the other hand charged Dr. Barbeau with "trying to run the museum."

Spuds Shipped From G'town To Halifax Via C.N. Railway

GEORGETOWN — Work was completed on Saturday, at the Georgetown potato warehouse of the construction, filling and loading of 4,000 boxes of potatoes, each containing 100 pounds.

The boxes were constructed here from box shooks trucked to Georgetown from New Brunswick. The potatoes were first graded then dyed, packed into boxes and loaded into railway cars and by the end of the week were enroute to Halifax, N.S., from where they will be transported by ship to southern markets.

Work is continuing on grading and car loading of the remaining potatoes in the shed and they also will be rafted to mainland ports for shipment by water. All this became necessary when an ocean freighter was unable to reach this port a couple of weeks ago, due to an exceptionally heavy concentration of ice in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

At the time, the harbor at Georgetown was open for shipping, but the heavy gulf ice caused the cancellation of several ships which would otherwise have loaded cargoes of potatoes at this winter port.

Arts Can Be More Important Than Politics, Group Is Told

Dr. Frank MacKinnon was guest speaker at the January meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club held at the Charlottetown Hotel.

Speak on the topic "Citizenship and Education," Dr. MacKinnon dealt with tradition and culture as basic elements in education and citizenship. Knowledge of history and tradition, he said, is important to give meaning and background to our life. It enables us to benefit from the experience of preceding generations, it gives a sense of continuity of life and produces a deeper loyalty on the part of our citizens.

Cultural activities, such as art, music, literature, can be more important to a country than the work of its politicians and businessmen. These creative works live longer in the memory of posterity and make a greater impression on peoples of other lands.

The goal of a world citizenship is more likely to be attained through mingling of the cultures of different nations. He pointed out that preservation of our tradition and culture can also have dollars and cents value in connection with tourist trade and might help to lessen the constant depletion of our population.

Develop Culture
Dr. MacKinnon stressed the need for development of culture

In the coming age when there will be longer periods of leisure, and deplored the fact that Prince Edward Island is the only province which has no art gallery, no museum and no archives to keep alive our traditions and develop our culture.

Miss Margaret Collins introduced the speaker, and thanks for his interesting address were expressed by Mrs. Fred Pickard.

The president Miss Iphigene Arsenault, presided at the business meeting. Miss Gertrude Love, of the committee on equal pay for equal work, reported having a meeting with the minister of labour, Hon. Alex. MacIsaac, regarding proposed legislation on this subject. Would Ease Soviet Fears WASHINGTON (CP)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday the West must be ready to make "any material moves" to assure the rest of the European community so it would not want to make war.

At the same time, Eisenhower denounced as "an exercise in futility" the Soviet proposal to neutralize and isolate the German people.

The United States, he said, does not want to see a revival of Hitler-type militarism any more than does the Soviet Union. The best way to avoid this, he said, was to integrate Germany with the rest of the European community so it would not want to make war.

Mr. Eisenhower said in a statement the "active direction of operations will be in the hands of these three men." There was no indication of when work would begin in the mine.

CCF To Protest Mass Executions

OTTAWA (CP)—Mass executions of supporters of fallen Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista will be protested in the Commons, CCF House Leader Hazen Argue said Wednesday on the eve of the opening of the next session.

Mr. Argue said the CCF had sympathized with the rebel Fidel Castro, whose forces came to power Jan. 1, but that executions of Batista supporters had caused "surprise and concern."

He would ask the government to express its disapproval to the Castro administration and ask assurance that Castro's enemies are given fair and proper trial.

Red Ensign Is Flown Now

TORONTO (CP)—The Red Ensign replaced the Union Jack on the flagpole in front of the Ontario legislature buildings at Queen's Park Wednesday.

Deputy Public Works Minister J. D. Millar said he ordered the change after the Union Jack that was flown previously wore out. Premier Frost declined to comment on the action "for the time being."

Mr. Millar said the Red Ensign is just as much Canada's flag as the Union Jack.

Ontario Welfare Minister Louis Ocell welcomed the ensign, saying: "It's the next best thing to a flag of our own."

120 Expected To Attend 3-Day Circuit Assembly

MONTAGUE—The Montague congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses is getting ready to play host to approximately 120 Island Witnesses, during their semi-annual circuit assembly in Montague. It was announced last night the assembly is to be held Friday through Sunday.

Martin MacPherson, presiding minister of the group, in discussing this announcement to the congregation pointed to the challenge to Christian thinking and Christian works in the rising tide of materialism.

Mr. MacPherson said that Jehovah's Witnesses are enrolled in ministerial training of at least five classes weekly. "We maintain," he emphasized, "that if a religion is worth believing it is worth putting into practice."

"For that reason, the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, sponsors of the three-day Montague refresher program, have set the theme of the assembly as "Expanding Our Ministry," he explained.
