Raceway Dispute, Water Rates Aired At Town Council Session

SUMMERSIDE BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN

The touchy dispute between the Horsemen's Club and the town council on the new barn project at Summerside's Raceway was aired last night at the monthly meeting of the town council here.

No settlement was reached but Mayor W. E. Jenkins said in effect the Horsemen's Club should designate a representative with power of attorney to aid in the deadlock which has now existed for four days with work being halted since Saturday morning.

"This is a sort of a joint effort", Mayor Jenkins said, "things surely can come to some satisfactory term. I think the parties should get together and iron out their differences".

Passed at last night's meeting was a new water rate that would enable the commercial customer to pay $215 on a two-month billing basis.

The new rates, effective Nov. 1, are as follows: 60 cents per 1,000 gallons for the first 50,000 gallons per month; 50 cents per 1,000 gallons for the next 50,000 gallons per month; 40 cents per 1000 gallons for the next 100,000 gallons per month; 30 cents per 1,000 gallons for all over 200,000 gallons per month.

BUILDING RE-ROOFED

In other matters reported by the council: Summerside's civic building was re-roofed and the contracting went to Fitzgerald and Snow of Summerside, lowest bidders at $3,950.

Coun. George Key, Jr. indicated, for their efforts, that "unsuccessful tenderers should be thanked When tenders are called, opened, received and closed they should be thanked for competitive tendering. We don't seem to be notifying them. Anytime tenders are unsuccessful they should be recognized," Coun. Key said.

Tax collections, month ending October amounted to $430, 352.62 with further collections of $26,000. Tax arrears reduction amounted to $21,609.86 with a further reduction of $1135.38 for a total of $22,745.24. Coun. Leo Wood urged that firm action be taken on town taxes.

STREETS PAVED

Summerside's public works program showed maintenance repairs along with the paving of St. Stephen and Phillips Street, Victoria Road and Linden Street East were shaled and Massey Street widened.

Town police reports revealed criminal offences are increasing and the trend can be expected until spring, it was stated. During October two attempted breaks were reported, one at Gaudets Save Easy and the other at Agnew Surpass Shoe Store. Four breaks were reported. Seven accidents with damage in excess of $100 were investigated. Twelve accidents were reported with damage less than $100. A total of $2040.50 was collected from bicycles, dog licenses, fines, a parking violators and parking meters.

Statistics of the electric department showed that higher electrical loads off the fall-winter-spring seasons considerably decrease the amount of low cost surplus power available through the inter connection with the Maritime Electric Company. The proportion, as a result, generated in the Summerside plant will increase considerably in this period. An 11.7 per cent increase in total kilowatt hours was reported in October over October 1963. Continued growth as at this rate would double in sales in less than seven years, it was reported.

Civic Stadium, managed by Charles Hogan, reported an overall operating loss for October of $844.66 The deficit as of October was $6,198.76.

George Key commended Civic Stadium for the condition it is in. "It is spic and span", he said, "you need this to draw fans".

Summerside Fire Department responded to two silent alarms with no resulting damage.

Student Fund Increase Said Not Requested

CAPITAL BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN

OTTAWA — The government of Prince Edward Island has made no representations to have the amount of money available for student loans to P.E.I. residents increased, Larry Pennell, parliamentary secretary to Finance Minister Walter Gordon, said here Monday.

Replying to a question from Queens' MP Heath Macquarrie, Mr. Pennell said the provincial allocation to P.E.I. under the loan plan was $232,000 for the year ending June 30, 1965.

"There has been liaison on this and other matters between the federal and provincial officials. No representations, however, have been received from the government of Prince Edward Island," Mr. Pennell said.

Reports from P.E.I. have indicated that the full amount of the loan fund has been used up and there are a number of other students who want to secure the financial help.

Blood Donor Total Is 157

A total of 56 donors registered at Borden, and 101 at St. Peter's Bay to chalk up a total of 157 the first day of this week's series of Red Cross blood donor clinics.

At Borden, the clinic was under the joint sponsorship of the Borden branch of the Royal Canadian Legion, the Albany Lions' Club and the Carleton Siding Women's Institute, and representatives of each of these organizations were on hand to assist at the clinic which was held at the Legion Home there.

Last night's clinic which took place at the Holy Name Hall in St. Peter's Bay was the first held in that community since 1958 and was organized at the special request of the Lions' Club there which sponsored it and arranged for helpers who were drawn from among their own members, the high school Red Cross, and the local Girl Guide company. Nurses from the community assisted the mobile Red Cross blood donor team from Halifax, and the members of the Greenwich and St. Peter's Bay Women's Institutes provided the refreshments for the donors.

The Lions' Club were pleased that 71 of the donors in attendance at last night's clinic were residents of St. Peter's Bay. They were also encouraged by the number of new donors who turned up. Colin Jackson, King Lion of the Club, said he felt that with this year's good start a better response would be forthcoming at future clinics.

Today, the mobile Red Cross blood donor team from Halifax, which is here for the fifth time this year, moves on to Summerside where clinics will be held today and tomorrow at the Royal Canadian Legion building there between 2-4 and 7-9 each day. Summerside's objective for the two days of clinics is at least 540 donors, and George Smallman representing the Junior Chamber of Commerce is the chairman of the committee.
