

Moscow Says Summit Talks Delay U. S. Fault

By VINCENT BUIST
MOSCOW (Reuters) — Soviet Premier Bulganin accused the United States in a letter released here Friday night of deliberately delaying an East-West summit conference.

He told President Eisenhower that continued U.S. espousal of conference items "known to be unacceptable beforehand" is holding up a top-level meeting.

Bulganin appealed to Eisenhower to be more "realistic" about a conference agenda.

The letter, replying to one from Eisenhower Feb. 15, was handed over in Washington Thursday by Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov.

REJECTS THREE ITEMS

It flatly rejects three conference items proposed by Eisenhower. These are German reunification, the situation in East European Communist countries and revision of the veto power in the United Nations Security Council.

A delay in the talks also has been caused, he said, by U.S. refusal to reply on a number of what he described as concrete Soviet proposals.

Bulganin said there are "no unmountable obstacles" to agreement on the renunciation of nuclear weapons, termination of nuclear tests and an atom-free zone in central Europe.

The Soviet news agency Tass said both Eisenhower's letter of Feb. 15 and Bulganin's reply will be published in Soviet newspapers today. Moscow radio's home service broadcast Bulganin's letter Friday night.

His letter covered all the main points of a memorandum delivered in Washington a week ago. The memorandum, published Thursday night, proposed an agenda for the summit talks.

ACCEPT ONE PROPOSAL

It included Russia's acceptance of Eisenhower's proposal to discuss the use of cosmic space for peaceful purposes only.

The Soviet premier said he considers his exchange of letters with Eisenhower as of "positive significance" on the road to the summit.

Bulganin disagreed with the American charge that Russia is insisting on limiting the conference agenda to Soviet-proposed subjects.

AREA OF AGREEMENT

Russia is willing, he said, to examine subjects proposed by the United States as long as there is some chance of agreement.

As for German reunification, Bulganin said this must be left to the two German governments.

He said Russia also "regards as unacceptable" the end of the principle of unanimity (veto power) in the UN Security Council.

Regarding the East European countries, Bulganin said it would be "dangerous to the cause of peace" to interfere in their domestic or foreign policies.

Finest $100 In Assault Case

A fine of $100.00 and costs of 30 days was imposed upon a resident of Mimingash when he was convicted of assault causing grievous bodily harm. The accused was also ordered to pay damages of $33.98 by Magistrate R. S. Hinton, Q. C. in Magistrate's Court, Summerside Thursday.

The informant was the accused's brother-in-law, who declared he suffered a badly cut hand after the accused went wild with an axe during a drinking spree.

A resident of Summerside charged under the Excise Act with possession of parts of a still had his case further adjourned by consent for one week.

The case of a Carleton resident charged with hunting pheasant during the closed season was further adjourned for one week after evidence was given by four witnesses.

Want Alberton-Tignish Road Paved Through Greenmount

A large delegation from the Western part of the Island yesterday waited upon the Minister of Highways requesting that the proposed pavement between Alberton and Tignish take a course through the Greenmount area rather than the Western Road.

Hon. Mr. MacKay had announced Thursday night at an O'Leary meeting that tenders had been called for the 13 mile stretch of pavement to go by way of the Western Road.

ALMOST 200 NAMES

In their brief containing almost 200 names the delegation pointed out that the Greenmount route has 73 houses compared to 35 on the Western Road. The former has two schools and two churches whereas the latter has only one school.

They further pointed out that the main electric power line from Summerside to Alberton follows the Greenmount route and at the present time the line cannot be properly serviced due to heavy snow conditions. Main trunk telephone lines also follow the same route.

TRAVELLED ROUTE

It was also shown that all market lobsters in May and June travel the Greenmount route to Alberton and Borden. All farms in the area are highly productive with resultant heavy traffic in the fall and spring. There are two potato warehouses on the Rayner Road, about one mile from Greenmount and most all farm produce comes to Tignish.

They stated that the busses use the Greenmount route in summer and fall due to the heavier concentration of population. The route is one mile shorter than the proposed western road and presents a much more scenic view.

A FORMER PROMISE

The tenth observation in the brief was that Hon. Thane A. Campbell while he was Premier in 1939 promised that the Greenmount route would be the part of the road paved to Tignish.

After hearing the brief and discussing the matter with the delegation, Mr. MacKay said the request would be given every consideration. He pointed out however that they were a little late in coming forward with their suggestions in view of the fact that tenders had already been called for the paving of the Western Road. He intimated that this need not mean that the matter was finally settled.

We receive only 14 per cent. Through the years the Real Estate owner has had to assume more and more of the burden of Municipal financing in Canada, and the same situation has developed within our Municipalities in this Province.

ASSESSMENT LIMIT

With assessments of Real Property at close to their maximum level, and with the current tax rates in our Provincial Municipalities already up to a figure which tends to discourage people from building within those Municipalities and drives more and more of them to locate outside our boundaries each year, our Municipalities would, one might think, turn to other fields of taxation. Unfortunately, few if any of such sources are available to us.

You will recall that in the year 1942 it was deemed expedient by the Federal Government as a War measure that certain forms of taxation on the three levels of Government in Canada be centralized at Ottawa, to allow for control of such fields of taxation.

As a result, these various fields of taxation then available to the Provincial and Municipal authorities were abandoned. A Dominion - Provincial Agreement followed, by which the Federal Government agreed to pay to the Provincial Government a sum in lieu of such abandoned taxes, and in turn the Provincial Government would reimburse the Municipalities for such sources of revenue then waived. Prime Municipal tax source so abandoned at that time was the Municipal Income Tax.

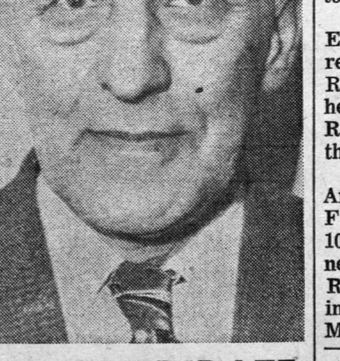

INCREASED FED REVENUE

Unfortunately, too, while those abandoned fields of taxation have produced a steadily increasing source of revenue to our Federal Government, yet we feel our per capita grant has not increased in anything like the same proportion.

It is interesting to note, as well, that in this Province the greater proportion of taxes paid into the Federal Treasury emanates from our Municipalities.

APPROPRIATE TIME

In view of the foregoing, it is respectfully submitted that now would be an appropriate time for our Provincial Government to give consideration to the revision of the per capita grant paid by it to our Municipalities. We point out that in our sister Province of New Brunswick the per capita grant to the Towns there has been $7.50 for some years past, and in the case of their Cities, the per capita grant runs to as high as $15.00. Based on our experience of the past few years, we feel that our fiscal needs of those years should have merited for us an annual per capita grant of between $7.00 and $8.00.

However, it may be, Mr. Premier, that your Government had planned to give our Municipalities an even greater portion of such Special Grant that we are suggesting, and if that be the case, be assured that we shall have no objection thereto.

NEED RECOGNIZED

This need has been recognized in Ottawa by the Prime Minister, when at last Fall's Dominion - Provincial Conference representatives of the Municipalities were invited to sit in on their meeting, and one of the salient factors at such meeting was financial aid to Canadian Municipalities.

This same need was previously recognized by the Federal Government through its earlier decision in recognizing the rights of the Municipalities to assess Federal Government property in the same way as any other property, and then to apply to it the prevailing Municipal Tax rate.

P. M.'S STATEMENT

Last week, during the appearance here of the Prime Minister, he again reiterated the position of the Federal Government on this matter, and pointed out that "with such additional grant of $2,500,000.00 to this Province from the Federal Treasury for the next four years it should be possible for the Provincial Government to give assistance to the various Municipalities in order to relieve them from the load that rests upon them today wherein Real Property is taxed to such an extent that the holder of Real Property finds it more and more inexpedient to own such property".

In view of this, we feel that as Municipalities are entitled to a substantial increase in our per capita Grant.

That Special Grant to this Province constitutes approximately $25.00 per capita, and it is unamplified by the amount of our Municipalities. We point out that same should be a minimum of $25.00 per capita based on the fact that we should have been receiving a minimum of $7.50 per capita this last number of years, and likewise based on our estimated increased fiscal needs of $3.75 for the next four years, which, taking into account our present per capita Grant of $3.00, would mean $11.25 per capita, and which said minimum increase of $3.25 would mean that the share to our Provincial Municipalities of said Special Grant would constitute an amount of $23,629.75 or a mere approximate 10 per cent of same for the aforementioned 31 per cent of the population.

INCREASED SERVICES

It should be pointed out, as well, that Municipalities have to plan their expenditures by the measure of their revenue, and that while even now on that basis most of us are heavily in debt or unable to provide minimum services and with such debt charges one on our most serious financial problems, nevertheless there are a great number of fields in which we would desire to become active and provide services to our citizens, all of which low prices for registration, which we enjoyed for the last two years, came to an end on the 31st of December. The writer, feeling that we were entitled to a better deal than our American cousins because of our location and the fact that our breeders could not obtain comparable prices for their colts and fillies, decided to place before the directors a new proposition which would be continued for all time. It was as follows: "Complete applications on foals born prior to January 1st — $5.00; fees for yearlings — $10.00; and thereafter, $15.00."

This was strongly supported by directors McCurdy and DeWitt, and our native son, Joe O'Brien, certainly helped us with the remarks he made. The vote was unanimous, and we hope that our breeders will take advantage of the low price and register yearlings and other ages. Looking over the rules for registration in the Canadian Livestock Records, we note that an animal 48 months of age or over, even though standardbred, can only be registered subject to the approval of the board of directors, which, we believe, is in the best interest in maintaining pedigree records. A non-standard trotter or pacer of any age must pay $15.00 whether owned by a member or non-member.

HAVE ADVANTAGES

This province is known as "The Kentucky of Canada" and from the writer's earliest recollection of horse racing, which was at Upton Park in 1885, pedigree was important and the harness horse industry was bringing a tremendous lot of money here, because of our production of good, sound carriage horses which were exported to the Eastern United States.

Our soil has always been a helpful factor in the growth of good trotters and pacers, and our colts are also of good quality, and we have the best of hay and the purest water. So all the elements of nutrition are here.

What makes the buyers wonder is that so many breeders do not attend to the very essential matter of registration. We hope, through this column, to refer to it from time to time, so that some reform will take place and we will be on a par with other provinces with respect to registration.

IN BERMUDA

We are delighted to have a letter, with photo enclosures, of Leslie Lucille, 2.15 2.5, that the writer sold to Dr. Claude Tereira, Hamilton, Bermuda. A short time after her arrival in Bermuda, she won a race, equalling her record, but we have not had any particulars of her racing since.

She looks "in the pink" and we hope that she is giving much pleasure to the doctor, who was a veterinarian here for several years before returning to his native Bermuda.

A Moncton friend has sent us an item stating that Dr. J. A. Delaney of that city has brought in two good race prospects from the United States — High Dandy and Queen Frisco, 2.06 2.5. She is by Frisco Dale 2.01, and her dam is Queen Abbey, 3.2.08 2.5, the dam of four with records better than 2.08. She is eligible to the 2.19 pace.

And now we turn to the entry list for the Prince Edward Island Colt Futurities stakes of 1958. We are not sure, but we think the number of entries in the two-year-old trot and pace, and three-year-old pace, are near records.

This list, we are sure, will be perused with great interest. Our congratulations to hard-working breeding stock from western Canada.

They? That's for the Huns to know and for us to find out. A few days ago a traveller met me on the street and remarked: "I thought there were no Huns in Prince County until yesterday I saw three covets from Portage west. One was at the village of Portage. One covey held 11 birds and the others 8 or 9 each. Other commercial travellers covering the West end of the province have the same story to report from all sections of West Prince.

EVEN BRIGHTER

The Hun picture is even brighter in Queens and Kings counties. An electrical inspector who has his headquarters at City Hall told me this week he saw four covets one afternoon while on an inspection tour in the Rustico, New Glasgow and Hunter River areas. One held four only. The others were in the 12 to 18 bracket.

A covey has showed up at Victoria Park. Nobody appears to be able to accurately estimate its number, the tally runs from 12 to 16. They are securing grit at the outlet of the Kinsmen's Bathing Pool built by them for the benefit of children. Huns are great foragers but need a steady supply of grit. It acts as teeth and they'll become crop-bound and die without it.

I was asked for advice with regard to cutting the daily bag on Huns from 8 to 5. I advised leaving it stand at 8 on the grounds that the way the covets were acting they could raise the limit from 8 to 16 without any more birds being bagged. I also raised the point it might be quite a chore getting it back to 8 if this change was ever requested. Those who were responsible for the bag limit reduction were motivated by the best of intentions but it would be well for them to remember that in future any such recommendations be presented only after a careful study of its pros and cons. In this specific instance I feel that the change in the Regulations did not effect the season kill on Huns one way or the other.

NOT ALARMED

Some concern has been expressed over losses incurred due to present crusted snow conditions particularly in West Prince. I believe that snow conditions have worsened in Eastern Kings this week. This columnist is not alarmed at the moment over winter losses that may result. Birds nearing the end of their

Who Will Decide Pupils Is Wasting Time In School

by "d"

There is a movement in scholastic circles, small as yet but growing, to expel from the schools pupils who can, but won't make any progress in their school work. If these pioneer educational authorities are convinced that students, to use the word loosely, are receiving no benefit themselves, and are wasting the time of the teachers, besides proving a distraction in the classrooms, they go. It is difficult to muster a convincing argument against such summary action, we think however, that, particularly in more or less convention-bound areas, pupils who do not commit acts of defiance to authority or other outrages which for a long time have invited expulsion, will continue to remain in school, matter how much or how often they are wasting it. It takes a courage to break with tradition.

UP TO PARENTS

What teachers could do, ever, is to put the problem squarely and unflinchingly before the parents, and let them make the decision. The teachers tell the parents their children are wasting time in school, and little benefit from the experience. Make it plain to the parent or girl is only bad habits of neglect and and therefore deriving more than good from his dear old rule days.

Then if the parents are aried to have this problem decided continue, so be it, probably not as good as as insisting on an honest expulsion, but at least it allowing the parents to be the foot's paradise of boys that Johnny is in some mous way absorbing some from his school attendance.
