U.S. paratroopers and marines early Monday pushed toward each other and established a supply corridor in Santo Domingo, within half a mile of rebel forces' stronghold in the beleaguered Dominican capital. The corridor begins at Duarte Bridge and extends west and south to a point a few blocks from the U.S. embassy. The narrow corridor, 2 and 2 1/2 miles long, virtually encircles the Dominican rebels who are entrenched in the heart of the city's business district. (AP Wirephoto)

Quebec Gov't Is Planning Study Of Housing Needs

TRIOIS-RIVIERES: Que (CP) A provincial-municipal study of housing and plans for the creation of a government housing agency were announced here by Pierre Laporte, minister of municipal affairs. He said credits will be voted at the current session of the legislature "to finance, together with the municipalities, a study that will allow us to establish exactly the needs of Quebec in the matter of housing."

Mr. Laporte said credits also will be voted "for the preparation of the organizational law that will serve as the base for Quebec policy in housing."

He said the bill will be introduced to the legislature early next year and would serve to create the Quebec General Housing Corporation (La Societe Generale d'Habitation du Quebec). This would be the agency for the implementation of provincial housing policy.

Mr. Laporte made the announcements in a speech to the Association des Gerants Municipaux (The Association of Municipal Managers), now meeting here.

HELP FIX PRIORITIES He said the proposed study would take in all the municipalities that could serve as locations for a housing program and for what he called the establishment of priorities.

Mr. Laporte said the new corporation would have at its disposal the money necessary for making investments required as part of the big program of urban renewal.

He said the Quebec government will undertake its program in such a way as to allow the municipalities to receive their share of the capital made available to the province by the central government, notably under the National Housing Act.

He said the provincial government should receive a report on housing in a few days from a commission of government experts. This would be a "very general" report, he said.

He said the housing question is very serious and of prime importance.

Trois-Rivieres is 80 miles northwest of Montreal. The text of Mr. Laporte's address was made available to the press before delivery.

Alta. Considers Door-To-Door Sales Controls

RED DEER, Alta. (CP)—The Alberta government is considering a proposal to grant customers of door-to-door salesmen a five-day period in which they can cancel contracts, G. J. Armstrong, chief provincial licensing officer, said here.

He told the annual meeting of the Alberta Association of Consumers door-to-door salesmen and non-registered trade schools cause his office the greatest problems.

Trade schools should be registered, but not all are," he said. Persons who take courses from some private schools later find they are not qualified for some jobs.

He added the government has trouble enforcing its Fair Trade and Practices Act which prohibits its offering customers gifts, premiums or concessions to induce them to buy goods or services.

The legislation is powerless to control goods manufactured outside Alberta which contain gifts or offer prizes, he said.

Many Mars Features Like Those On Earth

By RALPH DIGHTON PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Not far away as the cosmos goes—close enough to "hit" with a rocket—lies a world intriguingly similar to our own.

White caps at its North and South Poles, just as earth does, and they grow smaller in summer as if melting under the heat of the sun.

Spreading razzledly toward the equator from these caps are vast areas that darken in spring, as if there were vegetation fed by water from melting polar ice.

Across the yellowish red "desert" that circles the equator, stretches a network of lines much like the irrigation canals in some of earth's deserts.

Where these lines intersect are smudges which astronomers call oases.

Above one W-shaped network rise W-shaped bluffs that materialize in the way clouds form above rivers on earth.

On that world, which has a day only 37 minutes longer than earth's, temperatures rise at noon to a comfortable 80 degrees Fahrenheit.

Around that world whirl two tiny moons which behave much like the artificial satellites men are beginning to hurl into orbit around earth.

That world is Mars, which at its closest is 36,000,000 miles from earth.

QUESTIONS UNANSWERED Are its canals structures built by intelligent, tool-wielding beings?

Do these beings still live—adapting through evolution to a world which though similar in some aspects is far different from our own?

Hawker Siddeley Earnings Higher

TORONTO (CP)—President E. J. Emmert said here earnings of Hawker Siddeley Canada Ltd. in the first quarter of 1965 were higher than last year. He did not give figures.

C. H. Drury, chief of the company's steel operations, told the annual meeting that sales last year increased 5.6 per cent over 1963.

He said the buoyant domestic market placed a heavy strain on the company's mills and plants and products were sold on an allocation basis to customers.

Despite the increase in sales, he said a desirable profit level was not attained because of higher costs and the price erosion in steel rods, nails and reinforcing bars caused by foreign competition.

He said this year will be one of high activity during the first six months for the companies managed by Dosco Steel Ltd.

HIGH RATE PREDICTED Mr. Drury told shareholders the rod and bar mill at Sydney should operate at a high rate for most of the year.

Following Mr. Drury's remarks, Mr. Emmert said the Sydney operation will be boosted because the company has received a $10,000,000 contract to supply rails to Mexico.

J. E. Clubb, head of Dosco Industries Ltd., said there had been an 8 1/2-per-cent sales increase in 1964.

During the question period, Sir Roy Dobson said if Hawker Siddeley's earnings continue growing it will not be long before a dividend is paid.

As reported earlier, earnings in 1964 were $3,020,438, equal to 27 cents a share, compared with $2,191,847 or 17 cents a share in 1963.
