Guides and W. L. Combined Forces

What was certainly the most cooperative effort between two organizations culminated in a delightful evening at the Vocational School on Monday, the 3rd year Food Club of Southport entertained parents and members of the Women's Institute and served a delicious dinner. Mrs. Maylea Manning organized the Club three years ago, the first on the Island.

Methods of cooking, the correct foods to eat and how to serve were taught and to further the Guide angle, the duties of a Hostess. Cooking badge had been previously passed. Guides Jean MacDonald and Janet Reardon courteously greeted the guests and directed them to the Display of sewing where excellent work was shown.

Tables were most attractive with a bouquet of flowers on each from the "Matheson Gardens" in Southport. Place cards were a novel idea and delighted the guests.

Mrs. Nell Matheson, Guide Leader, was Chairman, and Mrs. Arthur Wellner, Miss May Robin and Mrs. Manning, although guests, assisted the girls and gave instructions. Miss Rowland of the Department of Health and Welfare and Mrs. F. S. Jenkins were also guests. After the dinner was served entirely by the girls, Mrs. Matheson thanked Mrs. Manning for her help and called on Guide Leona Gallant who presented the latter with an Island picture.

Mrs. Manning thanked the girls and said how much she had enjoyed working with them and how pleased she was to see such results. Miss Robin congratulated the girls and wished them further success. Miss Rowland and Mrs. Jenkins expressed pleasure at being invited and praised the girls for the splendid way the meal had been served and cooked.

The department of the girls, all members of the 1st Southport Guide Company was excellent and the Leaders must have felt very proud to see such practical results of their training. Mrs. Earl Rear-

What You Should Know About The Stock Market

Do you know how stocks are bought and sold? Why more and more people of average means are buying stocks? How the stock exchange actually operates?

In October Reader's Digest, G.F.K. Funston—who left a college presidency to head the New York Stock Exchange—tells how the market works, and gives simple rules, you should follow if you are contemplating the purchase of stocks for the first time.

don, Mrs. R. H. Mutch, Mrs. Genie, Mrs. L. Rodgeron, Mrs. W. Wood and Mrs. H. Annear were representatives from the Southport W. I. Passing the Hostess Badges and responsible for the cooking and serving were Guides Jean MacDonald, Janet Reardon, Leona Gallant, Shirley Smallwood, Barbara Duffy, Theresa Gallant, Betty Rodgeron, Claudia Robertson, Betty Aylward, Louise McCarron, Muriel Martirano, Madeline Stewart and Joyce McKie. Joyce also gave a little address which was delightfully rendered.

The very enjoyable evening closed with Guide songs led by Mrs. Jenkins and Eversong and Taps with the Guides going to wash the pile of dishes with happy smiles on their faces.

Miss Rowland is most interested in our Guide Programme and advised that new Food Film can be obtained from her and also food pamphlets. These would be of considerable help to our Leaders in our Test work and we shall have a supply available at Headquarters shortly. Miss Rowland should be contacted for the film.

Commissioner — Guiders Conference

A Conference is being held in Saint John, New Brunswick on October 13 and 14 at the Admiral Beatty Hotel for Commissioners and Guiders. There will be a Book Fair and training will be held on Brownie and Guide work. We would very much like to have a group attending from P. E. I. and if any Leaders or Commissioners can attend will you please contact Mrs. F. S. Jenkin at once so that reservations can be made. These conferences are most enjoyable and new ideas and a fresh aspect on Guiding obtained by meeting other Leaders elsewhere.

Guiders' Club

All Guide and Brownie Leaders in Queens County are invited to meet at the home of Miss Gladys Hart, Brighton Road (last house by the shore) on Thursday, Sept. 27, at 5.45 p. m. Plans for the Royal visit will be discussed and a full attendance is hoped for. New Leaders, if in difficulty, call Mrs. Jenkins, who will be pleased to take you along.

Speculate Why No New Atomic Tests In Russia

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25—(AP) Why hasn't there been any word in two years of another atomic explosion in Russia?

Can't the Soviet scientists, who stole secrets from the United States and Britain, produce another detonation? Or don't they want to? Or have they?

Two years ago today, President Truman announced to a startled free world: "We have evidence that within recent weeks an atomic explosion occurred in the U.S.S.R." The Reds had clipped at least two years off the time American scientists and military intelligence had estimated they would need to solve the secret of nuclear explosives.

Since then, Truman and Atomic Energy Commission officials have been asked many times, "Has there been another Russian atomic explosion?" Answers always have been negative, although not always direct.

While it could be that, for reasons of counter-intelligence, there has been evidence of another explosion which is not being disclosed, atomic and military experts, who should be in position to know, say there has not.

They say that the devices used for detecting traces of radiation from the explosion in the upper air revolving around the world after the 1949 explosion were good enough to give the warning then, they should be adequate now. They express confidence in the reliability of the instruments.

The White House announcement raised another question which still persists: Was the detonation accidental?

One responsible atomic authority recently replied that first he was just like most other people—he hoped it had been accidental and had blown out the atomic brains of Russia. But, he added, sadly, he didn't think so.

There has been another question: Was the explosion an actual bomb? Gordon Dean, present A.E.C. chairman, answered that one by saying: "Russia does have the bomb."

The apparent failure of the Russians to set off another blast is curious, if they are building a stockpile of bombs.

NEW HAVEN W. I.

The meeting of the New Haven Women's Institute met at the home of the president Mrs. Earl Moore on Sept. 5. Meeting opened with "Ode" followed by repeating the "Creed" in unison. Roll call was answered by 22 members with a donation for the Orphanage.

Minutes of last meeting were read and approved and correspondence was then read. It was decided to pay 35c for two years instead of 25c yearly fees. It was moved and seconded that $15.00 be given to each of the Orphanages, also to make up cotton received from Simpson's and Eaton's into quilts for Orphanages. It was moved and seconded that buying committee buy necessary articles for school. Collection was taken and amounted to $1.05.

Proceeds from catering at the Caledonia Club were $358.48. It was moved and seconded that all bills be paid and next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Stanley Newman. The singing of "The King" brought the meeting to a close.

After the meeting a pleasant time was spent, the occasion being the fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Deavoroux. Mrs. Artie MacPhee read the address and Mrs. Patrick Cavanaugh presented the gift.

Mrs. Deavoroux in her pleasing manner then thanked members for their thoughtfulness and all joined in singing "For She's A Jolly Good Fellow". A dainty lunch was served by the hostess assisted by some of the ladies.
