He also was charged with all nine runs. MacKinnon allowed only one hit, one walk and struck out none over the next three innings.

Teenager Bobby Fischer Scores Chess Upset Sun.

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao (AP)—Teenager Bobby Fischer of the United States scored an upset in the 1962 candidates chess tournament Sunday night by defeating Victor Korchnoi after the Soviet player blundered on the 32nd move and lost a piece.

Korchnoi, who leads the tournament standings, played 12 more moves but Fischer rapidly ended the game with a mating attack on the 44th move.

Fischer, 19, played the black pieces in a king's Indian defence. His position was inferior from the beginning of the game and he was forced to surrender a pawn in the middle of the match.

At one point his game was all but lost and the remainder of the match should have been all but a matter of technique for the Soviet grandmaster. It was then, however, that Korchnoi made his blunder.

The loss dropped Korchnoi into a second place tie with two other Russians — Tigran Petrosian and Paul Keres—and boosted another Soviet grandmaster, Ewfim Geller, to the head of the standings.

Geller and Keres played to a draw in their 12th round match after 18 moves of a Tarrasch variation of a queen's gambit declined.

As in previous games that pitted Soviet players the two appeared to have agreed to the early draw in a strategy to help strengthen Soviet domination of the tournament standings.

Chess experts say the strategy appears to be concentrated on gaining half - point draw credits among the Russian players to retain their command of the standings until all non - Soviet competitors have been eliminated from the running.

The Russians then would probably battle amongst themselves for the opportunity to meet the reigning world champion, Mikhail Botvinnik of the Soviet Union.

AFTER BREAKING RECORD

Never Worked So Hard For 2 Hits Says Musial

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Stan Musial, now the most prolific hitter in National League history, says "I never worked for two hits so hard in may life."

The 41-year-old St. Louis outfielder was commenting Saturday night after getting his 3,431st hit - the one that broke the National League record established by the late Honus Wagner.

Musial failed in 15 at - bats before he got the tying hit — his 3,430—last Wednesday in San Francisco, and he went down nine times before he broke the record Saturday night with a ninth-inning single off lefthander Ron Perranoski of Los Angeles Dodgers. On the morning of May 10, Musial was hitting .394. Sunday morning his average was .316.

"I didn't think I was under pressure but I realize now that I was," Musial said. "I could feel the pulse of the fans going for me. And I was going after bad balls.

"When I finally got to first base after breaking the record, I felt so relaxed I could have fallen over, That's when I realized the pressure had been on."

Musial said he thought it was a curve ball—Perranoski's best pitch—that he hit. Whatever it was, Stan hit it with characteristic authority. It was a whistling line drive into right field.

The announcement that Musial had broken the record was flashed immediatley on the enormous message board at Dodger Stadium.

THERE'S NOTHING "ME TOO" ABOUT DODGE

One car stands apart from all the look-alike, go-alike and ride-alike cars of 1962. Its styling is so fresh and distinctive you can pick it out a block away. It gets off the mark faster than any other car in its class because its engines are more powerful. Its ride and handling qualities are second-to-none because it has torsion bar suspension and new low-effort steering.

DODGE DART 440, TWO DOOR HARDTOP WITH SPORTSWHEEL TRIM

Then there are things like safety rim wheels, push button automatic drive and a car-full of other worthwhile features it has and the others haven't. No sir! There's nothing "me too" about this car. That's because its name is Dodge. Go see one. It's your kind of car!

Golf Season Is On

Golf is on season once again. Enthusiasts of the game will be converging on the Summerside golf course in greater and greater numbers as the days go by. There will probably be no Palmers emerging from the local competition this year, but in Chick MacLeod, Earl Smith, Parker Crockett, Bob Scharman, Leonce Arsenault, Ron Whidden, and a few others whose names escape us at present, we have a fair representation of boys who can occasionally flirt with the 70's. But if you shoot 70 or 140, you'll get your full quota of fresh air and fun in this wonderful game.

Play-offs in the men's commercial "warm-up" Bowling League at Crest Lanes begin this Wednesday, and will continue a week from Wednesday. There will be trophies for the winners, and prizes for high single, high three, hidden score, etc. This will end the commercial league bowling for this spring, but the circuit is expected to operate bigger and better than ever come next September.

Our interest in the American League has perked up quite a bit since the Yankees slipped into third spot recently. We're not hoping for too much however. The Yankees have a habit of sweeping those crucial series with their leading contenders in September. Cleveland had better sing to dame fortune: the old song: "Will You Love Me In September As You Do In May?"

AL Interest Perks Up

Maybe we shouldn't have made that crack about the possibility of Maris and Mantle being rendered "hors de combat" by broken legs, housemaid's knee, and kindred disabilities. Maris and Mantle were both laid low shortly after we threw that "whammy" pitch. Who knows? Maybe an ancestor of ours was one of the witches in MacBeth, and what those old crones could do by mixing a frog's eyebrow and a snake's hips in the right proportions is horrible to contemplate. The sorcery would be pretty well diluted down through the years, and when we wished for Mantle to break a leg, he would probably only pull a leg muscle. We'd better watch out.
