

This week The Cadre asked: "What did you do during the storm?"

"I built a snow fort and indulged in some afternoon delight."
Arlo Sutherland - 2nd Year Engineering

"Memorized pi to the 314th decimal place."
Brodie Champion - 2nd Year Math

"We're baking a cake. What does it look like asshole?"
Erin Montelpare - 1st Year Arts
Elsa Hodder - 1st Year Science

"Dug out this university so you punks could come to school."
Gary McBride - UPEI Maintenance

"I violated my parole. It was special."
Jason MacLean - 7th Year Math

"I grew a Freddy Mercury stash and then shaved it when the storm ended cuz I had to face the public again."
Nick Stewart - 4th Year Political Studies

"I baked cookies with my Mom...I mean...I lifted weights...and stuff."
Mark Driscoll - 1st Year Nursing

"I got trapped in the Domino's kiosk, ate all the pizza, gained 50 pounds, then joined Jenny Craig. My favorite color is purple."
Marty Rundelman - Domino's Sales Associate

"I just came back from Australia where it's summer and balmy. I came back and shoveled my driveway all day. The contrast was a nice welcome home."
John McCallum - Federal Minister of National Revenue