Odors and the Voice.

Dr. Sanderson, an English resident of Paris, says certain essences will give certain qualities and capacities to the voice. This is interesting to embryo Patis, De Reszkes and Plancons. Dr. Sanderson asserts that in order to modify the sounds of the human voice one has only to inhale the vapors of certain liquids and essences.

Thus inhalation of curacao, according to Dr. Sanderson, will raise the voice two notes, the inspiration of absinth will add one high and two low notes, and essence extracted from pines will give two low notes. A dissolution of coffee beans in rum, he claims, strengthens the medium notes.

There are other odors that are said to be even more efficacious, though they have the disadvantage of not tickling the olfactory nerves so agreeably. But no singer would stick at such a trifle as this if he or she desired to reach a much coveted and hitherto unattainable note. For instance, there are kerosene and turpentine and—yes—even strychnin.

The effect of the latter, according to the doctor, is marvelous. He asserts that it raises the voice no fewer than five notes and will enable almost anybody to deliver with ease Tamberlick's famous chest C that never failed to bring down the house.

Coal Stealers.

Coal stealing from railroads, common along the lines of all the coal carrying roads, has been reduced to a system in Syracuse. The Post-Standard of that city says. The thieves work hard and take many risks, not only of detection, but of bodily injury. Their methods would be called clever if employed in an honest business. The heaviest thieving is done by men with sacks, who climb up between the cars of a slow moving train, with two or more bushel sacks concealed under their clothing. As opportunity offers they fill a sack and throw it from the train, to be picked up by accomplices.

Another trick is adopted by men who, dressed like tramps, board trains as if with the intention of stealing a ride. These men travel along from one car to another, apparently seeking a comfortable place in which to lie down, but in their progress they manage to dislodge a large amount of coal, which is subsequently picked up by the women and children who are employed in the industry. Large quantities of coal are stolen by these and other methods, the plunder being disposed of to unscrupulous dealers, who subsequently rob the honest poor by dishonest measure.

Our First Clocks.

The oldest clocks of American manufacture were made by Gideon Roberts of Bristol, Conn. According to the best authorities, no clocks were manufactured in what is now the United States prior to 1800, at which time Mr. Roberts first placed his timepieces on the market.

His clocks were made with the greatest care, and much time was spent in perfecting them. They were all of the style commonly known as "hall" clocks, about six feet in height, handsomely finished and a recognized separate piece of furniture in which the owner always took great pride.

PROVIDER
NO. 23968.

RECORD, 2.21 3/4

By Preceptor, sire of Nutregor, 217 at 4 years, and five others in 2.30 list; dam Lill, dam of Dot, 2.18, and granddam of Kickapoo, 2.16, by Dean Swift, sire of 4 in 30 list.

PROVIDER is so well known to the public, both as a trotter and race horse, that but little need be said of him. At the trotting meeting held in Charlottetown last September, he started the first day in the 2.25 class, and won in three straight heats, making the fast time of 2.22, 2.21, and 2.2. The next day he started in the free for all, and again won in straight heats, time 2.22, 2.23 and 2.24, trotting every heat in the two races, but one, in 2.25, and better, without making a break or mistake, beating such fast ones as Archlight, 2.19, and Mon rose, 2.20.

Persons who may desire to breed trotters will do well to take notice that Provider has such a superiorly good high knee action, so desirable in trotters, and carriage horses. These qualities combined with his fine breeding, large size, good color, and disposition, make him a sufficient recommendation to insure patronage.

Provider will make the season at John Conroy's stables, opposite the Opera House—Terms $10.00 for the season, with usual return privilege if mare is not in foal.
