

Cornboil '90

Hey there Engineers (and "wannabe's")! Anyone Remember Oct. 5th? Some of us do! (The Sober Drivers!) This year's cornboil was a huge smash (98% were in that state also, smashed). We have some poll results from the boil. The question asked was, "Why are you in Engineering?" The results are as follows:

- 32% said "To Party!" (Where else!!!)
- 40% said "Free 'Liquid Refreshments'!" (Where!?!)
- 26% said "I hom wamsabhe hom harshee!" (Figure it out Yourself!)
- 2% tossed their cookies (explicit reasons).

A good "supply" was totally polished off, and all had one hell of a time (except for those 2%). Even we drivers had fun (cheap entertainment). Sorry, no pictures for you, nothing we can print anyway. Until next year...

Party On Engineers!!

Paintball Madness

Well, we Engineers did it again. For the second time, we played a society and plowed, severed, demolished and kicked ass in a friendly game of paintball.

Our first victory was 3 weeks ago when the business society dared to challenge us. We graciously accepted their challenge and proceeded to hammer the wimps. We then took the liberty of challenging the Bio's. Needless to say we hammered them to a pulp as well.

Any Society, club, mental group, or any other life form on campus that would dare cross our line, please contact us, the Engineering Society, Cownstairs in Duffy, as we haven't had the pleasure of crushing anyone for almost a week!

To the Death!!!
Engineers!!!

The Flip Side By Sean McQuaid

