Dairy Butter Making.

A Prince Edward Island lady sends Farming the following account of her experience in butter making:

In these days there is so much said about butter making that I feel as if I must tell my experience. I was married at twenty and began housekeeping without any knowledge of what I should do in order to make good butter; but being brought face to face with such a task I determined to make a fair fight, and I think that I have succeeded, but not without many a failure which often had a very discouraging effect. We keep eight cows, which are a mixture of Holsteins, Ayrshires and Jersey, and in summer are kept in good pasture with a plentiful supply of water. In winter they get hay and roots and water once a day. Along with these we always keep a supply of salt before them, both summer and winter.

We endeavour to have a regular milking hour of seven o'clock morning and night. The milk is strained through a cloth strainer consisting of two or three plies of these cloth. These cloths, with all milking utensils are kept thoroughly clean. After using they are first washed in cold water and then with warm water and soap, and afterwards scalded. We keep the cream in a crock large enough to hold a churning, and which we also strain upon pouring in to the churn in order to make sure of no hairs or dirt. We never keep the cream more than four days in summer or eight days in winter and while gathering always kept it at a temperature below 60°, and always save a little of the previous cream or buttermilk as a starter, using also a little coloring all the year. We use the "Daisy" churn and make a practice of commencing churning in summer at 62°, and get butter in from twenty five to thirty minutes. In winter we commence at 66° (if cows are with calf or farrow), if fresh calved at 63°, and get butter inside of an hour; we then use good dairy salt, putting 1 1/4 ozs. to each pound of butter, but being careful not to overwork and still enough as it will be streaked if not worked enough. If we are going to print it and put it in parchment paper it should not be kept more than a week in this form, and in hot weather not that long, unless in a very cold place, as it loses its flavor and will get a little strong. The best way to keep butter, if for any length of time, is to put it in stone crocks and keep well pickled. If the wooden tub is to be used I soak it for two days in buttermilk, then wash carefully with soap and brush; afterwards scald for an hour or more, then air and cool when it is fit to hold the butter. I also take care to leave room for one or two inches of dry salt on top before putting on the cover.

But why should one person take all this trouble to have nice butter? When you go into our best stores you are told, "We are paying the one price for all dairy butter"; so that you receive no more than the person who has paid no attention to cleanliness, perhaps having gathered the cream in an old wooden dish both mouldy and musty; churned it between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock of a hot July afternoon, and when the grease arrived left it to repose in the buttermilk until next morning to cool. Then after a hasty wash, a few handfuls of coarse common salt are mixed in. The tub new from the Indian's hands gets a hurried rinse and then the butter thrown into it, when the article is placed upon the market and the owner receives as much as the maker who has taken the utmost care. Then I object to creamery butter because the milk comes from so many different stables, some of which are not the cleanest and where the milk receives its share of the surroundings; then, again, cows are not fed alike—some receive dirty water to drink and others good. It is not liked at home, but it will do for the creamery or cheese factory is the saying you often hear. Let me ask would you rather have butter made from milk that has not been properly cared for or milk that has? Naturally you reply "butter made from the latter." Well, then, why does not this butter command a better price? I believe in home separators, as they will reduce the work, and the milk can be fed at once to the calves and pigs without the trouble of warming, which follows after setting in ice-water, which is our present mode of raising the cream. Give me the dairy butter made by reliable, clean, tidy people, and whose healthy, well-cared for cows are the pride of the "Old Homestead."

NOTE.—Our friend's objections to the creamery are perhaps well taken. But it must be remembered that, while the best of butter can be made at the private dairy where the cows, utensils, etc., are looked after properly, there are so many different kinds of dairies that is not possible to get large quantities of this butter of a sufficiently uniform quality to meet the needs of the export trade. The co-operative creamery is therefore a necessary factor in getting this uniformity so essential in butter shipped to the British markets.—Editor.

ONLY FOUR BOXES

of Dodd's Kidney Pills Were Needed to Cure Mr. Willis.

Woodstock, Ont., Apr. 3.—There are many Woodstock people who owe their good health, and others who are indebted for their lives, to Doda's Kidney Pills.

Among the former is Mr Na-a Willis, 295 Dundas Street, who has recently made his story public.

"For several years," says Mr Willis, "I have suffered from Kidney Troubles, pain in the small of my back, etc. I got slight relief from some of the various medicines I used. My son, who was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills, urged me to try them. I did so. I used four boxes and can safely say I am cured."

He (dramatically)—I can't show how much I love you
She—Oh, can't you? Well I guess it's just as well; I'm already engaged.—Detroit Free Press.

Chronic Eczema Cured.

One of the most chronic cases of Eczema ever cured is the case of Miss Gracie Ella Aiton, of Hartland, N. B. On a sworn statement Mr. Aiton says: I hereby certify that my daughter Gracie Ella was cured of Eczema of long standing by using four boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment. William Thistle, Druggist, of Hartland also certifies that he is in four boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment which cured Gracie Ella.

Fertilizer Facts!

The value of all Fertilizers consist in the amount of soluble Phos. Acid, Nitrogen, and Potash they contain, and the brand which shows the greatest value in these is the one to buy, on the same principle that milk testing 4 per cent. butter fat is more valuable than 3 per cent. milk ENGLISH MANURES costing the same price, contain 20 per cent. to 25 per cent. more Phos. Acid, Nitrogen and Potash than any other complete Fertilizer on the market.

Or in other words the Plact Food contained in a ton of other Fertilizer costing, say $35, can be purchased from us for about $28. All fertilizers are sold under a guaranteed analysis enabling any who may, to verify the above, and the superior quality of these Manures is being shown by actual test year after year by the really wonderful results produced wherever used.
