GRAND TRACADIE fisherman Gordon Watts works at unfastening rope after a section of a wharf was damaged by wind and ice yesterday. Some 450 traps and some rope was swept into the sea but most recovered. Fishermen are scheduled to set lobster gear today if ice and weather conditions permit.

Loss Of Traps Said Only Slight As Section Of Wharf Destroyed

Fishermen reported a slight break in a 40 to 50-foot part of the Grand Tracadie Harbor Wharf. The wharf was piled with lobster traps, ready for the opening of the fishing season, when the mishap occurred. Ice and tides beating against the concrete-topped wharf broke it off, and spilled traps into deep water. About 20 fishermen were on the scene at the time and were able to pull most of the traps from the water. One fisherman estimated that there were about 1,300 traps on the wharf, with about 450 on the end that broke off. He said "only five or six traps" were lost.

Skirmish Fought In Santo Domingo

SANTO DOMINGO (AP)—U.S. marines fought a hot skirmish Thursday with Dominican insurgents in the heart of rebel territory. At least one marine was killed. Two marines were wounded. There was confusion over casualty figures. U.S. military sources reported one dead, two wounded and four missing, one of whom was believed killed. Two of the missing were captured. The rebel command announced one marine dead, two captured and two wounded. A rebel spokesman accused the U.S. of violating the ceasefire arranged between the rebels and the rival military junta Wednesday by a peace commission of the Organization of American States. A U.S. military spokesman said, however, the marine patrol took a wrong turn while operating near the east-west corridor set up to ferry supplies to the international zone for refugees. He said unfamiliarity with the Dominican capital caused the marines to go into rebel territory instead of returning to their own lines. Washington announced the U.S. toll in the 13-day-old Dominican strife at 10 dead, one missing and 58 wounded. The captured marines were shown to reporters as rebels took a television film of them. The rebel spokesman said the two will be turned over to the O.A.S. The spokesman, Hector Arista, secretary to Col. Francisco Caamaño Domo, the rebel chief, said: "We want to demonstrate to the people of the world that we have respect for the rights of prisoners. We don't want to see lives lost in this fighting, neither Americans nor Dominicans." He added: "We will continue to respect the ceasefire."

Martin's Paris Reception Sparks Anger Of Officials

By DAVE McINTOSH PARIS (CP)—Canadian External Affairs Minister Martin's RCAF Yukon plane was not permitted to park in front of the terminal building at Orly Airport when the minister arrived Thursday for talks with French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville. Couve de Murville was not at the airport and Martin was finally met at the terminal, after a bus ride from the plane, by an assistant chief of protocol, and an assistant in the American division of the French foreign ministry. Martin's plane taxied up to the terminal. It was ordered away by the control tower and went around in a circle twice before being allowed to park in a bay half a mile away. The aircraft captain said he had tried to park in front of the terminal but had been ordered away. When Martin came down the ramp, there was no official French or Canadian to meet him. There was a bus at hand, however, and Martin piled into it along with his staff and a group of reporters accompanying him. The bus took him to the terminal where the two junior French officials greeted him. LAUGHS IT OFF Martin laughed off the incident and said it would be un-

British Steel Takeover Approved By 4 Votes

Further Delay Is Refused In Lobster Season Opening

CAPITAL BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN OTTAWA — There will be no further delay in the opening of the lobster fishing season in district 7B, Fisheries Minister H.J. Robichaud said in the Commons Thursday. He was replying to a question from John Mullally, MP, for Kings, who asked if the minister had received any representa-

Robichaud Questioned On Damage By Trawlers

OTTAWA (CP)—An investigation has shown that some foreign fishing boats damaged the gear of Canadian trawlers off the Newfoundland coast but not within the three-mile territorial limit, Fisheries Minister Robichaud said Thursday. Replying to a question by Heath Macquarrie (PC—Queens), Mr. Robichaud said the government had received complaints from Newfoundland fishermen and investigated. "It was found that some damage had been caused but this happened outside the territorial limit. He did not give the number of incidents or the amount of damage involved. J. Angus MacLean (PC—Queens) asked about progress on establishing the 12-mile limit approved by Parliament last year. The limit would use

Move Made To Free Banks From Tight Restrictions

By JAMES NELSON ? OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister Gordon moved towards freeing the chartered banks from some of the government's tight restriction Thursday but shied away from the open competition recommendations of last year's royal commission on banking and finance. He announced, contrary to the commission's recommendations, the ceiling on interest rates the chartered banks may charge—six per cent—will be retained, with one exception. The banks will be permitted to go gradually into the field of mortgage lending, and in that field charge the going commercial rate. Mr. Gordon spoke on a resolution leading to revision of the Bank Act. The terms of the new Bank Act were to be made public at the end of the day's debate. Mr. Gordon's outline won general support of opposition parties. The resolution was approved shortly before the Commons rose for the day. The bill was given first reading but there was no indication when the government would seek second reading—approval in principle. At the outset of the sitting, Mr. Gordon also introduced amendments to the Bank of Canada Act, under which the state-owned central bank operates. They dealt with points that had been controversial in the 1961 dispute between former finance minister Donald Fleming and James Coyne, the Bank of Canada governor. Mr. Fleming tried to fire and who later resigned. Of prime interest in the internal workings of the banking system was a change in the requirement that the privately-owned chartered banks maintain monthly cash-reserves in Canadian dollars and in Bank of Canada deposits amounting to eight per cent of their Canadian dollar deposit liabilities.

British Tories Win Byelection

LONDON (Reuters)—The opposition Conservative party won a by-election in Birmingham Thursday night with an 8,150 vote margin over the Labor candidate—only slightly less than in last October's general election. The victory cut the Labor governments over-all majority to three in the 630-seat House of Commons and brings the lower chamber up to its full strength.

GEORGES LEMAY

Wanted Man Is Arrested In Florida

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Georges Lemay, 39, wanted in connection with a Montreal bank robbery four years ago, was arrested Thursday aboard his yacht and charged with illegal entry into the United States. Lemay had been sought since shortly after the 1961 robbery of a bank of Nova Scotia branch in Montreal. Estimates of the money in the robbery have ranged between $200,000 and $400,000. Some 377 safety-deposit boxes were opened by robbers who entered the bank on St. Catherine Street in the heart of Montreal's main shopping area, by smashing through the vault's reinforced concrete floor. U.S. immigration service officers, FBI agents and Fort Lauderdale police co-operated in arresting Lemay aboard the boat. He was sleeping when they went aboard. Officers said Lemay was believed to have been in the Fort Lauderdale area for the last six months, living under the name of Rene Roy. Lemay's wife, the former Huguette Daoust of Montreal, disappeared while on a trip through the Florida Keys about 14 years ago. No trace of her was found. Immigration officers said they plan to hold Lemay here pending conversations with Canadian authorities. They said he could be sent to the Canadian border immediately and turned over to police there.

Mill Foreman Is Wounded

GRAND FALLS, Nfld. (CP)—Gerald Byrne, 58, steam plant foreman at the Price Brothers (Nfld.) Ltd., pulp mill here, is in critical condition in hospital following a shooting incident at the mill shortly after noon Thursday. RCMP arrested one man, but no charges were laid immediately. Argus Aircraft Will Be Given New Sections

OTTAWA (CP) — New sections are to be manufactured for RCAF Argus aircraft found to have a structural defect. Defence Minister Hellyer told the Commons Thursday. The structural defect was not found in all the four-engine planes used by the RCAF for anti-submarine patrols, the minister said in reply to questions by Douglas Harkness (PC—Calgary, North). Those planes in which the defect showed up will get the replacement sections first but eventually the section in which the defect occurred would be replaced in all the planes. Patrols would be carried out by Neptune aircraft and those Argus planes found to be serviceable. Checks of the Argus were started after one of the planes crashed in the Caribbean during an exercise earlier this year killing the entire crew.

Controversial Plan Seen Crucial Issue

LONDON (Reuters) — The British Labor government's plan to nationalize the steel industry was approved by the House of Commons Thursday night by four votes. The plan was approved by a vote of 310 to 306. The opposition Conservative and Liberal parties voted against the plan put forward by Prime Minister Wilson's government—which has a four-seat margin in the House. The controversial plan to re-nationalize steel was a crucial issue for Wilson's seven-month-old Labor government. A defeat could have paved the way for another general election. Before the Commons was a plan—not a bill—and Wilson has said he would not resign with his government over a slim defeat. If he lost, however, he has said he would ask the House for a vote of confidence in his party's general program. He would be likely to win such a vote. HAS SLIM MARGIN Labor's present margin is four in the 630-seat House. Whips of both major parties worked to the last minute to as-

De Gaulle Hits U.S. Policies

PARIS (AP) — President de Gaulle moved his vaunted "independent diplomacy" to a new front Thursday by condemning U.S. intervention in the Dominican Republic and calling for withdrawal of U.S. troops from the Caribbean island. De Gaulle spoke in a meeting of the French cabinet and the tenor of his remarks was relayed later to reporters by cabinet spokesman Pierre Dumas. "France disapproves the American intervention and wants the withdrawal of troops who have landed in Santo Domingo," the cabinet spokesman said in recounting de Gaulle's attitude. At the same time, he assured France none of the 200 or so Frenchmen living in Santo Domingo were killed or injured. About a fourth of these French nationals chose to take advantage of the evacuation organized by the U.S., he said. In condemning American action in Santo Domingo, de Gaulle evidently is trying to emphasize his independent role in world affairs. Only Wednesday, in an exchange of formal toasts with visiting President Charles Helou of Lebanon, de Gaulle apparently bracketed the U.S. with the Soviet Union in condemning "modern imperialism which, invoking as always contrary ideologies, menace our universe." In the case of Santo Domingo, de Gaulle also apparently is seeking to build and extend France's influence in Latin America as a "sister latin" power that is unafraid to talk back to the U.S. And which can be counted on to protect the interests of Latin nations. De Gaulle made an official visit to Mexico and toured South America last year in an effort to revive or implant French influence there. Thursday's action by de Gaulle is the latest in a string of statements or actions contrary to American policy following the Cuban missile crisis and the British-American agreement at Nassau for joint control of Britain's nuclear submarines.

UC Announces Personnel Move

TORONTO (CP)—The United Church of Canada Wednesday announced two personnel changes at a meeting of its general council executive. Rev. Roy F. Webster, associate secretary of the Board of World Mission, has been appointed senior secretary of that board. He will assume his duties July 1. Mrs. Jean Swan Parker has been appointed the church's associate secretary of the Board of Colleges and Secondary Schools, effective Aug. 1.

BETTY OLSEN dubbed 'The Belle of Da Nang'

Nickname Seen Joke By Belle Of Da Nang

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP)—To airmen and marines she's "the belle of Da Nang." Miss Betty Olsen, 30-year-old medical missionary, takes the nickname as a pleasant joke. "I think I'm the only single girl here," she said, "but there are a number of married women in our mission." Many an American girl would think it a dream situation to be the only girl amid 10,000 men. But Betty, who is tall and slender and has Auburn hair and green eyes, is more amused than thrilled. Every Saturday morning she serves as a volunteer worker at the USO building in the heart of the city. Many of the men have asked for a date, but each has met with a refusal. "They are all nice and polite," said Miss Olsen. "If they want to be friends, that's fine. But I don't date them. I am not interested in romance, and I have no idea of getting married." She is a deeply religious woman whose goal since childhood has been to do medical missionary work abroad. She was born in Africa and both her parents are missionaries stationed there on the Ivory Coast. Betty was educated at the New York missionary College and studied nursing at the Methodist hospital in Brooklyn. She was sent here last December by the Christian and Missionary Alliance which has 900 missionaries in 24 foreign countries. "I spend most of my time learning the language—a new missionary always does that the first year," Betty said. But she also attends six religious meetings weekly and spends two nights a week teaching English to a group of 60 Vietnamese. "Most of them are teenagers but a few are older," she said. "They are very interested and eager to learn."
