The election of officers followed and resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Fred MacMillan, re-elected by acclamation; 1st. vice-president, Mrs. J. E. Fleming; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. R. MacDonald; 3rd. vice-president, Mrs. Patrick McKenna.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. M. E. Griffin and proved very satisfactory after all obligations had been met.

The following conveners gave reports which were adopted: Mrs. P. E. Holland, Mrs. F. A. Coyle, Mrs. R. J. MacDonald, Mrs. G. Coody, Mrs. Patrick McKenna, Mrs. Ernest McTague, Mrs. Walter Morrissey, Mrs. J. B. Fleming, Mrs. Gerald Mitchell and Mrs. J. E. Fleming.

After the conveners reports, Mrs. Fred MacMillan gave a comprehensive report of the year's work which had been compiled by the secretary Mrs. L.L. Noonan.

The officers were duly installed by the chairman of elections, Mrs. P. Nealis, and the Act of Consecration was recited in unison led by the Very Rev. Director, who spoke words of commendation for a very successful year and thanked all for their spirit of co-operation.

An inquest into the death of an infant boy, discovered in Government Pond on March 12, was further adjourned until April 29th, at 7 p.m. in City Hall.

Dr. Irwin told the jury that when he saw the baby he immediately phoned the police and Dr. Prowse.

Dr. Irwin also said that in his opinion that the baby was born without the benefit of a physician and could have died of asphyxiation if the wad of paper found in its mouth had forced the tongue back to the pharynx.

Deputy Chief Webster was called upon to identify four photographs taken at the scene. Dr. Eisinger's report stated that there were no external marks of violence on the body except for the wad of paper stuffed in his mouth.

The report also stated that there was a quantity of partly digested milk in the baby's stomach and that lung conditions showed an absence of any sign of drowning. It was his opinion that the baby had succumbed to asphyxiation.

Dr. Prowse gave two reasons for a further adjournment. He said that he purposes to get in touch with the Attorney General to post a reward for any information that will assist the local police in their investigations.

Kenny then said that he went up to the Prince Edward Island Hospital to find his father and ran into Dr. Irwin who returned with him to the pond.

Arlene Larter then led a quiz entitled "Bible Party." Clair Smith led the young people in games.

The singing of "Blest Be The Tie That Binds", brought the evening to a close.
