MR. AND MRS. SHELDON W. DIXON

Lovely Autumn Wedding At East Point Church

In a beautiful setting of plox, gladioli, dahlias, and ferns, the marriage of Ruby Caroline, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ching and Sheldon Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dixon, Fortune Bridge was solemnized in the East Point Baptist Church, Kingsboro, on September 12th at seven o'clock. Reverend Donald I. McCare performed the double ring ceremony. The guests were marked with white satin bows, centered with blue and pink forget-me-nots. The bridal party entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by the organist, Mrs. Clinton Stewart. Mrs. Stewart also accompanied the soloist, Miss Jean McGregor as she sang "O Perfect Love" before the ceremony and "I'll Walk Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white floor length gown in a torso-style with a double skirt of nylon tulle over satin. The bodice was Chantilly lace and featured a bateau neckline, coming down to a V in the back. The full-length sleeves tapered in a point over the hands. The bodice was trimmed with pastel sequins, as were also the motifs on the overskirt. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was held in place by a crown, studded with sequins and rhinestones. She carried a cascade of pink roses. Her only ornament were baby pearl earrings, gift of the groom. She was attended by her two sisters, Miss Kaye Ching as matron of honor, and Miss Roma Ching as bridesmaid. They were dressed identical in ballerina length gowns of pink crystallette, in a torso style, with sweetheart necklines and matching headresses and mitts. They carried nosegays of white and pink carnations. The groom was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Ray Ching, brother of the bride and Mr. Crighton Dixon, brother of the groom. The bride's mother wore a dress of pink crystallette with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother wore a dress of blue crystallette with white and black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Following the ceremony a reception was held for seventy-five guests at the Wheel of Fortune. The bride's table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Donald J. McCare and responded to by the groom. Amid showers of confetti, the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to various places of interest in the Maritimes including the Cabot Trail. For travelling the bride chose a black suit flecked with rose, with white and black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The bride's bouquet was caught by her sister, Miss Roma Ching. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Dixon will reside in Souris where the groom is employed at McKenzie's Service Station and the bride as cashier at Matthew and McLean. Previous to her marriage, the bride was tendered a shower at her home where she received many lovely gifts and a large sum of money. On their return they were tendered a shower in Fortune Bridge hall, where they received many more lovely gifts.

HAPPENINGS

Father Adrien Arsenault, one of Canada's fine scholars, is a native of Mt. Carmel, Prince Edward Island, being a son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. Arsenault. Father Arsenault is a teacher at St. Dunstan's University.

The French government a year ago gave Father Arsenault a scholarship for any type of post graduate study. These scholarships are given to students from every part of the world. Two hundred foreign students were thus honored.

Father Arsenault took philosophy, French Literature and History at the Sorbonne. The Sorbonne comprises the faculties of Letters, Philosophy, and Mathematics. Approximately 17,000 attend the Sorbonne. There are around 60,000 students at the University of Paris, not taking in the college level. One can only enter the University of Paris, after one has obtained a college degree.

During the summer Father Arsenault was a tour leader for the World University Service of Canada with eight Canadian students. They spent one month in Spain and four days in Portugal. The purpose of this tour was first to meet the Spanish students, hear their complaints, become conscious of their situation, their needs and their achievement. The second purpose was to get first hand information on the politics, economics and culture of the Spanish people. Four other groups at the same time visited Eastern Germany, Yugoslavia, Greece and Russia for the same purposes.

In August the five Canadian groups met in Munich with a group of 50 German Students, representing the W.U.S. of Germany. A three week seminar was held on the following topic: "The person, freedom and university." Specially invited German professors gave lectures every morning, these being followed by discussions. Other topics discussed were: Rearmament of Western Germany and the reunification of Germany.

The last two weeks were free and most students went either to Italy or the British Isles. Every student spent four or five days in Paris at the beginning of summer.

Father Arsenault comments that Paris remains a fantastic city. It is always as beautiful as its reputation would have it. Entertainment is superb: Drama, Opera, Concerts, Chansonnettes, Foreign Pictures, Clubs, etc. Paris definitely is still "gay Paris." Culture is always the very modern and controversial subject it always was in Paris. Modern painting, contemporary music and literature, living art in its every form, is a constant source of surprise and joy of disagreement and discussion. Philosophical ideas are invariably and constantly being re-examined. In Paris the art of conversation still flourishes.

French food is probably the best in the world. One can afford to live fully, to enjoy life in its many subtle aspects. Entertainment is much less commercialized than in America. To quote Father Arsenault: "Comfort and technical progress do not seem to have turned people's heads as in our country. A good bottle of old wine is more prized than some labour-saving device, and a Renoir painting receives the admiration of more people than a Cadillac."

Father Arsenault saw a great many plays. He is now happily directing the dramatic productions at St. Dunstan's. At the end of November the University will present "The O'Grady and the Devil." The author of this play is Father Adrien Arsenault. He wrote it a few years ago. It has been translated into English by Father James Kelly. This play is a comedy, but it is at the same time an attempt to recapture in a modern spirit, the old medieval mystery play and morality play.

In January St. Dunstan's University will present Shakespeare's Tempest. In Lent they will produce G.B. Shaw's "St. Joan". It is Father Arsenault's great desire to give to the people of this province some of the great classical plays of world literature. To supplement the lack of technique which was necessarily inherent in a group of very young players, Father Arsenault strives to have the plays as youthful and creative as possible.

St. Dunstan's is indeed a fortunate university to have such an authority as Father Arsenault directing its cultural programme.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Chandler, North River Road, have had as their recent guests, Mr. Chandler's cousin, Mr. Sayre Blenhorn and Mrs. Blenhorn of Winnipeg. Mr. and Mrs. Blenhorn are en route to Sarasota, Florida, where they spend the winters. Mrs. Chandler's mother, Mrs. S. G. Pulsifer of Middle Musquodoboit, Nova Scotia, is also presently visiting them, and they are expecting next week, Mr. and Mrs. F. Stewart Kinley Junior, who will arrive on a short visit from Chesterville, Maine. Mrs. Kinley is Mrs. Chandler's sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Major Waddell, Charlottetown, have returned from an enjoyable ten day motor trip to Boston and vicinity. They also travelled through the White Mountains.

Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held their regular meeting at the home of Miss Audrey Gillis on Wednesday evening, Oct. 24th. The regular business portion of the meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Gordon Bears, with plans being finalized for the Halloween and Rushing Party, to be held Monday, Oct. 29th. Miss Marie Bowness and Miss Phyllis Brown were welcomed as prospective members.

The theme of the program was "Travel" with Mrs. Keith S. Rogers as guest speaker. Mrs. Rogers gave a very interesting account of her recent trip to Europe and showed slides of photos taken during this trip.

Mrs. Louis Bagnall expressed the thanks to the members to Mrs. Rogers for a most pleasant and educational program. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. O. Hornby and Mrs. Temple Hooper.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Charlottetown University Women's Club, part of the evening's programme was a puppet show presented by Mrs. T. M. Lothian. The show was preceded by a fascinating history of puppets, as outlined by Mrs. Lothian. In the actual demonstration, Mrs. Lothian delighted her adult listeners. As for the children who see and hear these shows their reaction is sheer ecstasy!

The hostess for the Charlottetown Curling Club this Saturday evening are the following: Mrs. John Whitlock, Mrs. Walter E. Goss, Mrs. Kay Johnson and Miss Marjorie Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Miller and Children David and Cathy, are spending the weekend in Sackville visiting Dr. L. A. Duchemin and family, and in Fredericton visiting Dr. F. L. Miller.

Mrs. W. N. Turner, R.N. Ottawa, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Silliphant, Summerside.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Balcom, Charlottetown, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hunter, Coronation Ave.

Miss Mary Silliphant entertained friends at bridge on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack MacLeod, Granville Street, spent the weekend in Amherst, N.S.

Mrs. Art Clark has returned home from attending the Home and School Convention in Amherst, N.S.

Mrs. Reginald Pope, Green St., is visiting in Montreal, with her son George, and her daughter, Mrs. Vernon Eaman.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Green, of Ontario, are visiting Mrs. Green's

ELLEN'S DIARY

A Good Week Passes

"Did you hear what that one said!" one woman commented to another when the two came away from a meeting over which the latter had presided back in "the dear dead days," and nicely too we recall.

"Yes," she smiled serenely, "but I let it pass in one ear, out the other, so to speak."

"Well, I wouldn't have, if I had been in your shoes. In fact, I don't think she should have been let off, without a bit of a doing. . . . at the moment or afterwards. If it's a fight, she's looking for it, I'd see she got her fill of it."

"Life's too short to waste any of its precious times that way" the other commented. "Besides she likely has some ill or worry to contend with of which we know nothing. You never know."

Life is short. Days fast become weeks. Time, Life wings away. An Autumn day is no more than a tardy dawn, a bit o' livin', quick-flooding dusk, starlight and rest. This week brought in our harvest of magels — at Rob's first and then at Alderley — came to an end in good time — by early supper this evening. It is a tedious harvesting, trying on hands and muscles and we could appreciate how grateful the workers were to have it at last complete.

"Tedious, and yet it was our good fortune to remember that throughout there was no sound of complaint, nor the least murmur of discord among those who worked happily, and as one, in the common interest of all. What nice times they have at their seasonal doings, over their much enjoyed time in those items which constitute the day by day round."

And all the time October, no-lad-of-a-boy now but mature, led a long beautiful ways. Warm dream-set days, the air velvet-sof and filled with the wine-red of sea-fog, sky a mild azure-blue, herds and flocks in peaceful pasturals along the fields. Stubble-

Test the soap or detergent you use with these points in mind: It should be instantly soluble in water of any temperature needed for laundry or dishwashing. It should be strong enough to clean, but not so strong that it bleaches fabrics or skin. It should not form a floating mass in the water, nor be so bulky that efficient washing requires more than one or one and a half cups per wash load.

"I hope you didn't ask for a second piece of cake," mother said to Tommy when he returned from the party.

"No," said Tommy. "I just asked Mrs. Smith for the recipe so you could make some like it. And she gave me two more pieces."

parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Kelly.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Perry and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Beach have returned home from a motor trip through Nova Scotia.

Mrs. Leslie Simmons, companion by Mrs. Leroy Holman, left by car on Friday morning to spend the weekend in Halifax, N.S.

Mrs. Ernest Walker, Victoria Road, was hostess to her bridge club on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Cyril Kenny returned home from Moncton after spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Harry Laphorne.

Miss Hope Jenkins was guest of honor at a family party given by her sister, Mrs. Morton Lyons, before her departure for Hamilton, where she has been transferred. Miss Jenkins was presented with a farewell gift. The employees of the Canadian Bank of Commerce also entertained Miss Jenkins and presented her with a gift.

"add the luxurious light touch to baking with PURE BARBADOS FANCY MOLASSES"

For lighter texture, lighter — golden-light — colour and cries of delight from the family, substitute Pure Barbados Fancy Molasses for the sugar next time you bake a cake or whip up a batch of cookies.

You see Pure Barbados Fancy Molasses is actually sweeter than sugar. Good for you too, with its iron, calcium and Vitamin B.

And this nutritious food is useful in so many ways. Use it straight from the container as a spread for bread or pancakes, pour it over baked ham as a delicious glazing, include it in baked beans.

But here's a word of warning — all molasses is not Pure Barbados Fancy Molasses. So, before you buy, always look on the label just below the brand name. If it has the words "Pure Barbados Fancy Molasses", you can buy and be sure you're getting the best.

See the label says "Pure Barbados Fancy Molasses."
