

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

TERMS: Four Dollars a Year in Advance.

"This is true Liberty, when Free Born Men, having to advise the Public, may speak free."—Enripiades.

Single Copies Two Cents

VOL 35.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. ISLAND, FRIDAY, MARCH 27, 1896.

NO 224

LEWIS' PHOTOGRAPHS

None Better! None Cheaper!

For Fineness of Finish and Artistic Posing, LEWIS' PHOTOS are unsurpassed anywhere.

Special attention given to CHILDREN'S PICTURES; also to Copying and Enlarging Old Pictures.

ENTRANCE ON GRAFTON ST. OPPOSITE THE POST OFFICE.

IF YOU WERE A SPIDER, It Would Amaze You to Contemplate Your Appetite.

There is no reason for believing that any human being ever really yearned to become a spider. But that may be due to hazy or incomplete knowledge of what the spider can do, and what man could do if he were to make this metamorphosis.

To a glutton the prospect is most alluring. For a hungry man to eat his food, and consumption that is a matter of course, and puts to the blush the gentleman in the nursery rhyme whose only claim to recognition was that

He ate a cow, And ate a calf, And ate a butcher And a half.

Now if he had been a spider-man and had weighed, say, 100 pounds, his menu for a single day would make this look foolish and commonplace, and it would make the big eaters of history seem like convalescing invalids.

And the spider for this statement is not less eminent than Sir John Lubbock, who probably has printed more accurate information about books, bees, bugs, ants, wasps and their relations to mankind than any one who ever made those various objects his life study.

In the morning the man with the spider's capability would prepare himself for the day's work by sitting down to a breakfast of which the principal dish would be one large fat ox, properly prepared for a hungry man to eat hastily.

As the hour for the noonday meal rolled around he would, being a gourmet and not a gourmand, unquestionably want a "smack" for himself, and to satisfy the cravings of his appetite at this time nothing less than another ox, flanked by five sheep, would suffice.

But when the real thing came, and dinner had to be considered, there then would be a chance to show just what he could do.

And this is it: A little order of two bullocks, eight sheep and four hogs would about fit this emergency.

Just before going to bed is a good time to eat, according to modern, enlightened medical science, and a supper of four barrels of fresh fish would be ample for this repast.

It is not to be denied that the cost of living at this pace for 365 days each year would be materially increased, but your true gourmand would never allow that to interfere with such gorgeous and almost unlimited possibilities to indulge in table pleasures.

The spider is not in favor at present, but that is possibly due to his heartless duplicity in the matter of extending hospitality to the fly and the historically nervous conduct of Miss Muffet, as set forth in books for the young and read by them when impressions are made and tenaciously adhered to.

The Hygiene of Sleep. In sleep the entire body, with all its component parts and its various offices, ceases from labor, like a machine which has its fires banked and its wheels stopped.

The best of order prevailed during the rendering of the programme, which lasted nearly four hours, and which was highly appreciated by the audience, as shown by the continued rounds of applause that each performance called forth.

At the close of the entertainment three rousing cheers were given for the club. A snug sum was realized.

A Level-Headed Man. HALIFAX, March 23.—A delegation waited on ex-Mayor O'Keefe to-day to receive his acceptance of the liberal nomination for the Commons, but he refused to become a candidate at all.

The Newfoundland seal fishery has had a remarkable falling off during 20 or 25 years. At one time the fleet included over 500 vessels. In 1873 the outfit was composed of 19 steamers and 87 sailing vessels and 50 of these set sail from Conception Bay alone, his year there are only 19 steamers and no sailing vessels, and not a single bottom of any description leaving for the ice from Conception Bay.

Reports from the fleet so far are favorable, although the loss of three vessels was a sad commencement.

Vain-glorious men are the scorn of the wise, the admiration of fools, the idol of parasites, and the slaves of their own vaunts.—Bacon.

The desire to be beloved is ever restless and un-satisfied; but the love that flows out upon others is a perpetual well-spring from on high.—L. M. Child.

The heathen mythology not only was not true, but was not even supported as truth; it not only deserved no faith, but it demanded none.—Whately.

OUR TWENTIETH CENTURY SUITS.

We may be a little previous with Twentieth Century talk, but the make and style of our CUSTOM MADE SUITS are so much superior to anything we see elsewhere that we have styled them "THE TWENTIETH CENTURY SUITS." They are the acme of skill in the Tailor's art, and for Style, Wearing Qualities, Comfort, etc., there is nothing to compare with our make. Our prices are as low as any in our line in the city. Our assortment of Cloths the largest in the city.

McKay Woolen Co., Swell Tailors.

C. P. A.

Careful Personal Attention.

WE PRINT WE BIND Bill Heads, Envelopes, Note Heads, Shipping Tags, Letter Heads, Business Cards, Day Books, Letter Books, Journals, Cash Books, Ledgers, Invoice Books.

We give each job our most CAREFUL PERSONAL ATTENTION. "No slop work leaves our establishment." PRICES RIGHT!

HASZARD & MOORE, Artistic Printers, Bookbinders and Booksellers.

March 25—dy

RIPANS

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

Success!

To you, citizens, by your appreciation of my efforts, is due my success in the Furniture business. I am still laboring to please you. I am offering you the greatest assortment of Parlor Furniture ever exhibited in this city at splendid bargains, and no mistake.

JOHN NEWSON, THE BARGAIN GIVER.

Ch'town, March 24, 1896.

Lobster Packers!

I am prepared to contract for one pound and half pound Flats and one pound Tall Cans Lobsters 1896 pack, at the highest prices the markets will afford.

Correspondence solicited. HORACE HASZARD

Charlottetown, February 27, 1896. 135

MULTUM IN PARVO.

The noblest motive is the public good.—Virgil.

Opinion, a sovereign mistress of effects.—Shakespeare.

Let them obey that know not how to rule.—Shakespeare.

You gray lines, that fret the clouds, are messengers of day.—Shakespeare.

He surely is in want of another's patience who has none of his own.—Lavater.

If a man is endowed with a generous mind, this is the best kind of nobility.—Plato.

Nature, through all her works, in great Church, borrows a blessing from variety.—Churchill.

Patience of whose soft grace I have her sovereignty aid, and rest myself content.—Shakespeare.

There are but three classes of men: the retrograde, the stationary and the progressive.—Lavater.

Fedantry crams our head with learned lumber, and takes out our brains to make room for it.—Colton.

This grief still trends upon the heels of pleasure, marry'd in haste, we may repent as the blind must govern the hands, so in every society the man of intelligence must direct the hand of labor.—Johnson.

This melancholy flatters, but menaces a lazy frost, a numbness of the mind!—Dryden.

The passions, like heavy bodies down steep hills, once in motion, move themselves, and know no ground but the bottom.—Fuller.

Man hath his daily work of body or mind appointed, which declares his dignity and the regard of heaven on all his ways.—Milton.

The honest heart that's free free art intended fraud or guile, however fortune kick the ba' has aye some cause to smile.—Bunyan.

There is always and everywhere some restraint upon a great man. He is guarded with crowds and shackled with formalities.—Cowley.

Among the pitfalls in our way, the best of us walk blindly; so, man, be wary, watch and pray, and judge your brother kindly.—Alice Carr.

The heathen mythology not only was not true, but was not even supported as truth; it not only deserved no faith, but it demanded none.—Whately.

They that marry ancient people merely in expectation to bury them, hang themselves in hope that one will come and cap the halter.—Fuller.

Those that are good manners at the court are those who have more of either than they know how to use.—Johnson.

Where a man has a passion for meditating without the capacity of thinking, a particular idea fixes itself fast, and soon creates a mental disease.—Goethe.

Different minds incline to different objects; one pursues the vast alone, the wonderful, the wild; another sighs for harmony and grace, and gentler beauty.—Akerside.

The world is an old woman, that mistakes any gilt farthing for a gold coin; whereas being often cheated, she will henceforth trust nothing but the common copper.—Carlyle.

The rosy fingered morn did there disclose her beauty, ruddy as a blushing bride, gliding the margold, painting the rose, with Indian chrysolites her cheeks were dy'd.—Baron.

PRAYER.

The Ram's Horn Makes Some Helpful Suggestions.

The devil fears a praying mother. No man can pray right while he is living wrong.

When you shut your closet door, lock it with a promise.

Half-heartedness makes no prayers that God can answer.

Prayer is not prayer until it becomes communion with God.

When we ask God to bless others we should also pray that He will do it in His own way.

The prayer of the grateful man will please God, whether it pleases anybody else or not.

Do a great deal of praying; before you undertake to tell what a great sinner you used to be.

The devil will fight hard to keep the man who has power with God from getting on his knees.

How inconsistent to ask God to give to us, if we are withholding that which belongs to somebody else.

It was because Daniel kept his windows open toward Jerusalem that he had no fear of the lions' den.

A marked difference between a hypocrite and a child of God is that the hypocrite has no closet for prayer.

The Christian who will take every need to God in prayer will soon have a faith that can move mountains.

Sponsor crepon at Beer Bros.

Manual Sensibility.

Wonderful cases of manual sensibility in every-day life are the detection of counterfeit money, and the separation and classification of injured notes by female operatives in the Treasury Department at Washington; the manufacture of standard gauges, where the accuracy is guaranteed to be within the 1-10,000th of an inch; in wire drawing, where the operative can detect an increase of diameter of less than 1-1,000th of an inch solely by the sense of touch in the thumb and finger; and in the manufacture of steel balls for bearings, where an operative has been known by rolling them between the thumb and finger to pick out several balls of a group, which, by actual measurement with a micrometer caliper, proved to be out of round more than 8-10,000ths of an inch. The highest type of manual sensibility is found in those of sanguine temperament who use their fingers in all operations of contact; the side contact shows deficiency of sensibility, and the worst type is in those of phlegmatic temperament, where the muscular parts of the finger and thumb, or power part of the hand are used for contact. The first type shows the greatest amount of directing and measuring force, while the last seems to have a mist between the work and the mind through which it is groping its way.

Sunday Drinking.

This province has reason to be thankful because our license laws require all liquor shops, of all kinds, to be closed from 7 o'clock Saturday evenings until 6 on Monday morning. In many places that law might be better enforced than it is, but even under present enforcement, there are much fewer cases of drunkenness before the police courts of Toronto on Monday mornings than on other mornings of the week. The same is true of most of our other Ontario towns and cities; and we are convinced that a good many of those cases come out of sales in the shops of bottles before the lawful hours of closing. On the other hand, in England liquor shops are allowed open a part of Sunday, and the results are such as might be expected. Baron Rothschild has said: "There are many streets in London where you may see rows after rows of public houses, dens of the worst description, which are simply supported by the money which flows into their coffers on Sunday, which, if closed on that day, must eventually go to the wall." The Religious Telescope says that the criminal statistics of England show that 13,000 persons are convicted annually for Sunday drunkenness as a result of open saloons in London and other cities.

Vicious Company.

Sophonius, a wise teacher, would not suffer even his grown up sons and daughters to associate with those whose conduct was not pure and upright. "Dear father," said the gentle Eulalia to him one day, when he forbade her, in company with her brother, to visit the beautiful white hall where you must think us very childish if you imagine that we should be exposed to danger by it."

The father took in silence a dead coal from the hearth, and reached it to his daughter. "It will not burn you my child," he said. "Eulalia did so, and beheld, her beautiful white hall was soiled and blackened, and, as it changed, her white dress also."

"We cannot be too careful in holding coals," said Eulalia in vexation. "Yes, truly," said the father. "You see, my child, that coals, even if they do not burn, blacken; so it is with the company of the vicious."

The Scientific American, an able journal, viewing most questions from a purely scientific standpoint, says that scientific and medical men entertain a much stronger feeling against the use of alcohol, even for medicinal purposes than 25 years ago. This is because there has been a gradual accumulation of facts carefully ascertained and thoroughly proved, demonstrating the evil effects of the drug. It claims that this matter deserves the attention of our lawmakers and all those citizens who are interested in good government and the social problems of the day. Some of the best known physicians of England, such as Dr. Sir Benjamin Ward Richardson, Dr. Norman Aker, and others, have ceased to use alcohol in any form in their practice, and the number of such, both in England and America, is fast increasing.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U.S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE

MEETING AT RED POINT.

A large and enthusiastic meeting was held in the school-house at Red Point on the 20th inst., under the auspices of the Farmers and Dairyman's Association, to consider the organization of a dairymen's company. Cyrus Stewart, Esq., was appointed chairman, and the undersigned secretary. The first called upon was F. L. Robertson, Esq., who, having explained the object of the meeting, urged the farmers to co-operate for the common good. In the course of his practical address he conveyed to the audience several important suggestions, which afterwards received the approval of the meeting.

Mr. A. Mooney followed, and having expressed himself in sympathy with Mr. Robertson's views regarding the organization of a company and the creation of a factory, emphasized the necessity of union in the work they are about to undertake, and spoke at some length on the advantages of cold storage at Charlottetown. The audience was next greeted by a stirring speech from A. Robertson, M. P. P., who seemed greatly interested in the welfare of the farming community. Having spoken on the different subjects in connection with dairymen, principal of whom were Messrs. C. Stewart and J. K. Robertson, it was decided to erect a cheese factory at Red Point a year hence, thus giving the farmers an opportunity to be better prepared to engage in the industry which for the last few years has produced such gratifying results.

The following resolution moved by Mr. J. J. Campbell, and seconded by Messrs. T. S. Robertson and A. Mooney, was unanimously carried: "Whereas, the Red Point branch of the Farmers and Dairyman's Association, deem a system of cold storage essential to the success of the dairymen industry on P. E. Island; and

Resolved, That our representative be requested to urge and demand that may come before the legislature for a grant towards the erection of a cold storage warehouse at Charlottetown. The following resolution moved by Mr. T. S. Robertson and seconded by Mr. A. Fraser was also adopted: "Whereas, it is desirable that the Greenvale road be extended to East Baltic, as it would afford great convenience for travel. Therefore Resolved, That our representative be requested to urge and demand that may come before the legislature for a grant towards the erection of a cold storage warehouse at Charlottetown."

Whereas, it is desirable that the Greenvale road be extended to East Baltic, as it would afford great convenience for travel. Therefore Resolved, That our representative be requested to urge and demand that may come before the legislature for a grant towards the erection of a cold storage warehouse at Charlottetown."

A B. U. S. DEATH NOTICE.

Sir,—I see that March the 13th issue of your paper contains a death notice of Michael V. Smith, son of Michael Smith, of Brookvale, Lot 30. As I am the only person of that name in this place, that notice must apply to me. It seems to me that your correspondents from this section are becoming so numerous and so desirous of literary renown that they do not hesitate to make your paper a repository for all false and scandalous articles they can produce. I hereby assert that Michael V. Smith has no foundation, whatever, and probably was inserted either by some evil-minded person who would wish to hold me up before the public as a very infamous character, or by someone who, conscious of his own guilt in this matter, wishes to stigmatize my character in order to take from his own door the suspicion of the deed which he would willingly place on my head. I invite the person who penned that notice to come out above his own signature, and if he does not retract it through the columns of your paper, I will make him prove that I am guilty of the deed which he accuses me of. MICHAEL SMITH.

Seed Wheat.

Campbell's White Chaff and White Russian, grown one year from Imported Seed on the "Warren Farm." JOHN NEWSON. mel9-1m

LETTER OF CONDOLENCE.

To Mrs. James A. Herring.—Dear Sister,—Whereas it has pleased the Supreme Ruler of the Universe in His infinite wisdom to call to Himself your beloved husband and our esteemed brother, on behalf of Court Murray Harter, No. 1055, I. O. F., we hereby convey our deepest and heartfelt sympathy to yourself and to your children in your sad bereavement. Although our loss is incomparably less than yours, yet we assure you that the blank left in our fraternal meetings by the loss of our worthy brother is sincerely felt; but we cherish the hope that our mutual loss is our dear brother's infinite gain.

Our prayer is that the sustaining grace of God may always comfort and strengthen you, and enable you to bear the burden of life, trusting in Him who has promised to be a father to the fatherless, and a husband to the widow, and looking for that glorious rest in Heaven where there is neither sorrow nor parting. Yours in L. B. and C., F. GILLIS, A. D. FRASER, Committee Murray Harbor South, March 20th, 1896.

ENTERTAINMENT AT LAKE VERD.

The Lake Verd Literary Entertainment, which was postponed from Tuesday, the 17th, came off on Saturday, 21st inst. The school-house was packed, there being many who were compelled to remain outside. The curtain rose at 8 o'clock. The programme, though long never became irksome, and the audience never lost interest. The best of order prevailed during the rendering of the programme, which lasted nearly four hours, and which was highly appreciated by the audience, as shown by the continued rounds of applause that each performance called forth.

At the close of the entertainment three rousing cheers were given for the club. A snug sum was realized.

A Level-Headed Man.

HALIFAX, March 23.—A delegation waited on ex-Mayor O'Keefe to-day to receive his acceptance of the liberal nomination for the Commons, but he refused to become a candidate at all.

The Newfoundland seal fishery has had a remarkable falling off during 20 or 25 years. At one time the fleet included over 500 vessels. In 1873 the outfit was composed of 19 steamers and 87 sailing vessels and 50 of these set sail from Conception Bay alone, his year there are only 19 steamers and no sailing vessels, and not a single bottom of any description leaving for the ice from Conception Bay.

Reports from the fleet so far are favorable, although the loss of three vessels was a sad commencement.

Vain-glorious men are the scorn of the wise, the admiration of fools, the idol of parasites, and the slaves of their own vaunts.—Bacon.

WAR

SHARP'S BALSAM. WARS Against Croup, WARS Against Coughs, WARS Against Colds, and for 50 YEARS has been doing this with great success. All Druggists sell it, 25c. a bottle. Armstrong & Co Proprietors, St. John, N. B. m9

Sunlight Soap advertisement with logo and text: "Sunlight Soap. It does a better job than any other soap. It is pure. It is safe. It is economical. It is the best soap for all purposes." Includes a small illustration of a woman washing clothes.