Scriptural Choral Reading Added To Festival Syllabus

The Prince Edward Island Musical Festival Association will add a class of Scriptural Choral Reading to their syllabus this year providing any groups are interested, it was announced yesterday by the Secretary, Mrs. Edwin Cook.

This addition to the program is the result of a letter received from Hubert Button, Secretary of the Moncton Musical Festival. The letter in part reads: "I wish you plenty of luck with Choral Reading, for if there's any interest shown by the schools, you'll find the entire an interesting experience. Our audiences thoroughly enjoy them. At this very time I'm busy contacting all our church's young people's groups, with the suggestion that they enter choral reading with selections from the Bible. Already the reaction is good, I've been invited to address three so far this week and have received their promise to participate. Maybe this could interest your churches, especially should you point out its possible use at future church concerts or at some church services. It is a fact that Choral Reading of the scriptures is used in England during services and has resulted in stimulating the congregation to re-open their Bibles and enjoy its beautiful English and message."

The Musical Festival Syllabus committee will be glad to add another class if any groups are interested in Scriptural Choral Reading as described above.

Act including non-resident searches totalled 602 with 45 seizures being made, the report stated. 48 prosecutions were entered and 36 convictions were registered.

Additional seizures under the Excise Act included 26 complete stills and five partial stills. There is a continued absence of infractions under the Customs Act in the Province, the report notes. One seizure of non-paid duty on cigarettes was made from a Charlottetown resident.

117 resident angling and hunting licenses were sold during the year. Non-resident angling licenses totalled $42; non-resident hunting licenses, $2. The sum of $3,686 was collected and deposited to the credit of the Provincial Treasurer. In 1949, $3,803.25 was collected and in 1948, $3,190.

Diocesan Church Society Meeting

A largely attended executive meeting in connection with the 107th annual meeting of the Diocesan Church Society of Prince Edward Island was held in St. Paul's Parish Hall yesterday afternoon with Right Reverend R. H. Waterman, B.A., D. D., Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia in the chair.

After the opening ceremonies a prayerful silence was observed in memory of the late George Frederick Kingston, Archbishop of the Diocese, and Primate of all Canada, who passed away last November. Following the supper meeting they met with members of the Women's Auxiliaries at St. Paul's Church to hear a service conducted by Bishop Waterman.

His Lordship the Bishop was the preacher. Other clergy taking part were, the Rev. A. Piercy of Milton; Rev. L. Dignan of Port Hill; Rev. S. J. Armstrong of Crapaud; Rev. J. R. McKahan of Alberton. Venerable Archdeacon G. R. Harrison, on behalf of the church people of the Province, welcomed Bishop Waterman to this part of his diocese and assured him of the loyalty and co-operation of the people. There will be a celebration of Holy Communion this morning at St. Peter's Cathedral at 7.45 at which His Lordship the Bishop will be celebrant.

Debate On Draft Address Launched In Legislature

The work of the Provincial Marketing Board came in for praise in the Legislature yesterday in the speeches of two Liberal spokesmen, Mr. Harvey Douglas, Second King's, who moved the Address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, and Mr. D. A. MacRae, Fourth King's, the second.

Mr. Douglas stated that the Marketing Board had done much to aid shipping by steadying the price of potatoes, while Mr. MacRae said "it was a grand thing to have an organization such as the Marketing Board."

Mr. Douglas noted that the price of potatoes was low and stated that if potatoes were $1.00 a bushel there would be so much pulp wood cut. He added that the price for pulp wood was good and that the industry was a boom to the Province this winter. "There is no need to fear for the forests of the Province," he stated. "There is a large number of farms vacant in the Province on which trees are growing and there is a lot of trees growing up on land that we want clear."

He noted that there was a lot of talk regarding the reduction in the acreage of potatoes. "I think the reduction should be made by the large growers," he stated. "There are several in this Province producing over 100 acres a year and some in New Brunswick growing over 500 acres, including a Senator. I would be glad of anything that might be introduced in the Legislature to aid the industry."

He noted that farmers in some sections were complaining about the plowing of the roads and wondered if the side shear of the plows could not level off one side of the banks and make a roadway for the horses and tractors. The complaints, he said, were received from people on side roads who could travel on their own roads by sleigh but when they came to the main highway the snow plow track was bare.

Road Construction
He stated that good progress has been made in the construction and repair of roads. Good roads have been provided in King's County with the exception of the bridge area at St. Peter's Bay, he continued. He said that travelling conditions on the clay approaches to the bridges were made nearly impossible every spring and fall by the passage of trucks and that much of the clay and gravel was being washed into the bay. He added that a reinforced concrete top would prevent this washing away and provide a hard surfaced road from Charlottetown to Souris.

Mr. Douglas stated that 125 miles of electrical lines had been erected in the Province. He hoped that the regulation which required six houses per mile before electricity would be installed would be changed so that electricity might become available to places where there are three or four houses or less per mile. By this means more young people will remain on the farm and others will be attracted to it," he stated.

Mr. Douglas thought mail deliveries in the Province were not up to par. "There are places in the Province where there is no mail delivery," he stated. He concurred with the decision of the Provincial Government in agreeing with the Dominion Government that the old age pension be available to everyone over 70 without means test.

He also noted that the Government had made large strides forward in the fields of education, health and welfare. Mr. MacRae stated that the sugar industry was the only additional industry he could foresee might be developed in the Province.

Mr. D. A. MacRae Industries Handicapped

"There is considerable talk about bringing new industries into the Province, but I do not know what they will be. Some of the industries we have now are going out of business. I have been in the milling industry for years and I am closing down. "We might bring the sugar industry into the Province. Whether it would pay or not I do not know. We could produce the raw material here."

He stated that the Government had done a great deal for agriculture but doubted if the farmers were taking full advantage of their work. Very few farmers ever get their soil analyzed, he added. Mr. MacRae felt the farmers were having a hard time trying to finance their work. Many of them have to work 14 hours a day and get very little for it, he stated.

Mr. MacRae recounted the difficulties brought about by the Dominion wide railway strike last August. "Those strikers did not care whether we got anything to eat or not," he stated. "Let the farmers go on strike and they will find whether or not there will be anything to eat." He thought that the Government had done considerable work in the field of education particularly with regard to the Vocational School and their payments to teachers. The roads, he said, were never better and the Department of Health and Welfare was one of the best things the Province ever had. Both speakers expressed their sympathies to the families of the late Hon. H. H. Cox, former Minister of Public Works, Murdoch Kennedy, Horace Wright, John F. Whear and Health Strong. Tribute to Hon. Mr. Cox and other deceased members were also paid by Mr. R. R. Bell, Opposition leader, and Premier Jones.

Bishop Waterman Speaks At Well Attended Meeting

More than 140 laymen and members of the Anglican Clergy met in St. Paul's Parish Hall last evening at the regular monthly meeting of the St. Paul's Association to hear a brief address by the Right Reverend R. H. Waterman, Bishop of the Diocese.

His Lordship told the meeting it was the duty of all men of the Church to "know the Church better," and stressed the great work to be done by both laymen and Clergy of the Church of England, and the contribution which is their responsibility to the world of today. "We must teach others what is our belief as Christians," he said, "and so enrich our communities and our nation." At the opening
