THE BONSHAW TROUBLE.

Medical and Other Testimony This Forenoon.

Mrs. Murchison Makes an Ante-Mortem Statement.

John McNevin, of Bonshaw, was this forenoon arraigned before John T. Melish, Esq., J. P., on two charges of assault and battery preferred against him by Dr. John Murchison, of the same place.

Mr. Stewart said the Magistrate could not do anything of the kind. McNevin was not under arrest. There must be evidence against McNevin before he is remanded.

Mr. Davies said he proposed to examine witnesses as to the woman's condition, but would not offer any other evidence now, as Dr. Murchison could not leave his wife's bedside to come to town.

And utterly worthless are the Kid Gloves usually sold for especially if they are laced or done fastened. But so, however, with the astonishing bargain now selling by us at this price. Don't fail to see them—they cannot be replaced, and when this lot is sold it may be a long time before we secure such another bargain.
