Value Of P.E.I. Fisheries Up Despite Drop In Total Catch

OTTAWA, Sept. 11—Although the weight of the catch for the first seven months of the current year was a million pounds less than for the corresponding period of 1951, value of fish and crustaceans caught in Prince Edward Island waters from January to July 1952 was $300,000 higher than the preceding year.

Police Doubt That Criminal Will Respond

TORONTO, Sept. 11—(CP)—Police waited skeptically tonight to see if jailbreaker Edwin Boyd will respond to his wife's appeal to give himself up for her sake and that of the couple's three children.

With no new developments in the hunt for the Boyd gang, preparations went forward for the start—possibly next Wednesday—of the Royal Commission inquiry into circumstances of the break from the 88-year-old Don Jail Monday of Boyd, Leonard Jackson, Steve Suchan and William Jackson.

Boyd, who first escaped from the jail last November with the two Jacksons, was awaiting trial on bank robbery charges. Leonard Jackson and Suchan face murder charges in the shooting last spring of Det.-Sgt. Edmund Tong. William Jackson, unrelated to Leonard, was brought here as a witness from Kingston Penitentiary.

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb., Sept. 11—(AP)—Seven children in one family were under treatment for polio at hospital today, unaware that the disease already had claimed the life of the only other child in the family, an 11-year-old brother.

The mass attack on the children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rogers covered only a five-day period.

Janet, 5, was brought to the hospital Saturday. Tuesday night she was joined by her brother, Robert Eugene, 11.

Robert died yesterday as the parents were bringing their other six children to hospital for treatment. The children, in addition to Janet, are Alberta, 12; Edwin, 8; James, 7; Beverly, 3; Helen, 20 months and Francis, 5 months.

Russians Lift Blockade On U.S. Military Police

BERLIN, Sept. 11—(AP)—Russian Gen. Vasily Chuikov today called off the blockade against movement of United States military police patrols over a strip of Berlin zone highway between West Berlin and an American checkpoint on its outskirts.

The chief of the Soviet Control Commission, to whom U. S. high commissioner Walter Dornely notified American authorities that the three-day restrictions had been lifted.

Chuikov said the patrols henceforth would be free to cross the strip—as they had been doing freely since 1945 until Russian tankers put a stop to it last week.

Detachments of American military police, along with British soldiers and West Berlin police, serve eight-hour duty tours on the Autobahn in suburban Dreilinden to check the papers of Allied motorists making the 100-mile drive across the Soviet zone to West Germany.

Their shortest course from the U. S. sector is by way of a 1-1/2 mile stretch of the four-lane autobahn. Denied use of that, they drove to work by a longer, narrow detour through the U. S. sector.

Soviet sentries halted the morning shift today. But they stood aside at noon and again tonight to let military police pass.

Allied use of the area never had been questioned before and only the military police were stopped. Dornely said the move was a deliberate annoyance.

A senior American officer in West Berlin said, after receipt of the Chuikov note, that the argument seemed to be settled. As a result the Americans declined, out of deference to Chuikov, to make public the text of his note.

Canada's Pearson May Be Next U. N. President

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 11—(CP)—"I Like Mike" appears to be the watchword of the majority of delegates to the United Nations when they consider elections to the presidency of the General Assembly opening Oct. 14.

"Mike" is L. B. Pearson, Canada's External Affairs Minister, who so far has no opponent for the job of president of the U. N.'s top annual meeting—the U. N.'s highest prestige post.

In former years, candidates have made their bids known by this time so an acclamation appointment of Pearson is possible. However, a dark horse could come a long, just as Pearson was a so-called dark horse last year in Paris until he made it clear that he was not running.

Pearson's chances of election are boosted by the fact that he is probably one of the best-known diplomats around the U. N. When the U. N. was being formed, his name was put forward at one point in behind-the-scenes arrangements for appointment of a secretary-general—the job now held by Norway's Trygve Lie. But the Russians objected to Pearson and he was passed.

Whether they will put up a word-battle against Pearson's running for the Assembly presidency is known only to the Russians. But in any case they can have no veto on the matter as it is a majority decision.

No doubt as president he would have some trouble with the Soviet delegation which has often harried the top man at an Assembly when the going is tough. And there are a lot of tough problems coming up at the fall Assembly including Korea, the Tunisian situation in North Africa, and the South African racial situation.

As president of the Assembly, Pearson would have to take a more neutral attitude than he would as merely leader of the Canadian delegation. If he is president he won't be leader of the delegation although he will no doubt take a hand in formulating Canadian tactics on the floor of the Assembly.

His real job will be to run the Assembly as its chairman, keeping the questions moving and in special cases, acting as a top mediator in disputes.

City Street Repair Grant Urged By Liberal Member

That the City of Charlottetown should have an annual grant from the Provincial Government to assist in the work of street repairs was stated last night by Mr. B. Earle MacDonald, M.L.A., at the adjourned annual meeting of the Fifth District of Queen's Liberal Association held at the Legion Home.

The speaker stated that it was highly important to the farmers nearby to have year-round roads into the city. He said he, in his legislative work, was only asking the Government for a proportional share of the Provincial revenue for this district.

Mr. MacDonald added that "we will have something done in this district before my term is up or I will not ask you to vote for me again". He claimed this district is not getting its fair share of work done and little had been accomplished in the past six years. However, he pointed out to the gathering that Hon. Dougald MacKinnon, Minister of Public Works and Highways, was always willing to co-operate with him.

He warned the large gathering not to be fooled into believing "the Liberal Party is in a bad way here" and said that some members were not attending the meetings because they were getting nothing from the Government. He asked them to consider how much they would get if the other party were in power. He said the present Liberal Government has done much for the Province as a whole. "No one can accuse them of not spending enough money," he said. "They have spent more in the last ten years than ever was spent here before."
