

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JULY 19, 1884.

Editorial Notes.

—Such is fame! The Toronto Globe finds it necessary to say that both Mr. Pipes, the late Premier, and Mr. W. S. Fielding, the new Premier, are Liberals!

—Commenting on the statistics of business failures, the Monetary Times says: "Clear lessons are taught by such figures, of prudence in giving and taking credit. Bankers, manufacturers, and wholesale dealers should see to it that they do not help to swell the list of such casualties by advances to weak or superfluous traders. And the retail dealer or small trader may take warning, that if he will, of the impolicy, to use a mild term, of taking excessive credit should the importer or manufacturer attempt to cajole him in so doing. Better, far, to do less business, and do it on a safe basis, and at a profit."

—The London Times is opposed to the Egyptian policy of the Government, but favors their Franchise Bill; and commenting on the then probable action of the House of Lords, says: "We have never been of those who hold that the present constitution of the House of Lords is peculiarly adapted to enable it to reflect the best mind of the country. On the other hand, no serious politician ought to think of meddling even with an admittedly imperfect institution of such importance as a Second Chamber, except in case of dire necessity. There are, however, abundance of politicians at the present day who think that the necessity for a change in the constitution and functions of the Upper House is fully made out, and who will not hesitate, under the provocation of rejecting of the Franchise bill, to advocate their opinions in a very uncompromising manner."

—It is claimed that Mr. Blaine can be elected without the vote of New York. They estimate that they will receive in— Connecticut..... 6 Nevada..... 3 California..... 3 New Hampshire..... 4 Colorado..... 3 Ohio..... 23 Illinois..... 22 Oregon..... 3 Indiana..... 15 Pennsylvania..... 30 Iowa..... 13 Rhode Island..... 4 Kansas..... 9 Vermont..... 4 Maine..... 6 Wisconsin..... 11 Massachusetts..... 14 Minnesota..... 7 Total..... 203 Nebraska..... 5

They concede to the Democracy the following States:— Alabama..... 10 New York..... 36 Arkansas..... 7 New Jersey..... 9 Delaware..... 3 North Carolina..... 11 Florida..... 4 South Carolina..... 8 Georgia..... 12 Tennessee..... 12 Kentucky..... 13 Texas..... 13 Louisiana..... 9 Virginia..... 12 Maryland..... 9 West Virginia..... 6 Mississippi..... 8 Missouri..... 16 Total..... 198

The Globes says:—The Democrats, to elect their candidate, must carry New York and Indiana, or New York, New Jersey and Connecticut. New York, by the nomination of Cleveland, may be conceded to the Democracy. Indiana, it therefore appears, will be the great battle ground of the Presidential contest of 1884, and Hendricks' nomination is likely to carry that State.

The Last Rites.

FUNERAL OF MRS. W. W. ROBERTSON.

The funeral of the late Mrs. W. W. Robertson took place this afternoon at three o'clock from her late residence, 245 Mountain Street, and was very largely attended. It was of the most simple nature, there being no pall-bearers. After solemn service at the house by the Rev. Dr. Wilkes, the cortege formed and proceeded to the final place of interment in the Mount Royal Cemetery. The chief mourners were Mr. W. W. Robertson, Q. C., and his three sons, William, Philip and Robert; James R. Gibb, nephew; Mrs. Raymond, sister of the deceased, and Joseph G. Robertson, Q. C., of Sherbrooke. Among those present were J. S. Money, T. D. Irish, James Baylis, Ira Gould, Joseph Gould, D. J. Rees, Capt. Raynes, of Cote St. Antoine, Capt. Kelly, of Beauharnois, S. W. Boyd, S. Waddell, J. G. Isaacson, R. Esdaile, Henry Walker, A. D. Durnford, C. Broussit, of Beauharnois, E. Lafleur, J. N. Greenshields, R. Archibald, J. Hutton, E. K. Creene, R. D. Haig, R. W. Graham, Geo. Brush, F. D. Monk, C. Raynes, Hugh Brodie, William Nivin, W. B. Nivin, Judge Johnson, McCulley, of St. Johns, E. Holton, M. P., W. C. Wells, Duncan McDonald, H. R. Ives, Hugh McLennan, T. Lyman, J. E. Dearmont, C. K. Adams. The casket was covered with flowers designed to represent crosses and anchors, presented by relations and friends, as a last token of respect.—Montreal Star.

The twenty-fourth annual meeting of the National Rifle Association met at Wimbledon on Monday last. The list of competitors is much larger than last year and numbers over 3,000 contestants. The Canadian team were received with the greatest courtesy, and occupy their old place near the entrance gate. The Martini-Henry rifle is to be used exclusively. It is to be hoped our team will give, as usual, a good account of itself.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

The Fishing Bounty.

SIR,—Will you kindly inform the public, through the medium of your independent paper, why the fishing bounty for 1883 has not been paid. The fishermen of this locality are losing all patience, and, I fear, if delayed, it will militate against the interest of the Government party. I have been asked by persons of both political parties to write and ask your explanation, which I trust you will grant, and oblige

Souris, July 16, 1884.

The Liquor Question.

SIR,—I have been given to understand that the petition of the liquor dealers, asking for an election to test the people of Charlottetown on the question of the repeal of the Scott Act, has been duly forwarded to Ottawa. An election will, in all probability, be held in a few weeks from now. I am somewhat at a loss to know what is to be gained by repeal, should the electors so decide. What are we to have in lieu thereof? Surely not a License Law, the constitutionality of which is at present in question. The Scott Act is constitutional. It has stood the test of the highest courts. It is admitted by all disinterested persons to be a good Act, but its enforcement has been by no means satisfactory. The fault is not in the Act, it is in those who are paid to administer it. The Scott Act is a credit to Prince Edward Island. Its enforcement is a disgrace to the magistrates, police, and others who are appointed and paid to do their duty. If we repeal the Act, let us have something as good, or better, in its place.

A TAX PAYER.

Who is Right?

SIR,—In the last issue of the Presbyterian, there appears a communication signed by a member of St. James' congregation, calling in question the correctness of the minute of Presbytery in reference to Mr. McLennan's resignation. I would not have noticed this article had not the same imputation been repeated by members of said congregation in my own hearing, one of whom supported the assertion that Mr. McLennan did not urge the acceptance of his resignation, by the testimony of a member of Presbytery. The only answer, that is necessary to refute this groundless and impertinent imputation is the publication of the "resignation" in question, which is as follows:—

"I herewith tender the resignation of my charge of St. James' Church, in this city, for reasons which I shall state verbally, the same to take effect on 30th inst., and I beg to urge the acceptance of the same."

I am, brethren, yours fraternally, K. MCLENNAN.

By inserting the above in to-day's issue of your paper you will oblige

THE CLERK OF PRESBYTERY.

"Music Hath Charms."

SIR,—I see in your valuable paper (July 9th) a letter from "Visitor," telling the people of this Continent (as your paper goes to all parts of the English-speaking world) of a superb, magnificent and classical organ recital, given at St. Paul's Church, July 4th, and his pleasure of listening to it was large. Now, Sir, he says Professor Earle presided at the organ. People reading that letter would suppose that Professor S. Noseworthy Earle is master of that noble instrument; wants us to compare that programme with the trash inflicted on our church-going people by some of the choirs in this city. Let us look at that Recital from a musical standpoint. The composers of that music (said to be given) are classed with the most eminent the world has produced. That music is some of their greatest productions. "Visitor" may have heard what he calls music in London or Paris. Does it follow he is qualified to pass judgment as to the proper rendering of classical music? I am satisfied Mr. Earle cannot play such music, from the fact, he has never heard any one play it. Where has he come to hear it. He came to this city a little boy. This small Island is all the world he has seen since. Then, how can it be possible, for him to know how to render such music? How many people of this place are qualified to pass judgment as to the just rendering of music? No fault of theirs! Very few ever have listened to classical music, certainly not on the Island. But I am glad to know the singers of this place are being educated to a better understanding how music should be rendered. My advice to "Visitor" is to keep quiet in the future, and for Mr. Earle to give more of his time in trying to bring his Choir up to the standard of some that sing trash.

July 18, 1884.

A Convention.

SIR,—The reasons for holding a Convention, which you gave in your issue of the 12th inst., are by no means convincing and do not apply to the present case at all.

Holding Conventions may be the rule in America, but do they always produce the best results? They certainly give an opportunity for wire pulling, and often the best and ablest man is so served in order to make room for one of medium talents and inferior claims, or to gratify the malice of private or political enemies. It is certainly true that Hon. J. C. Pope was selected by one at the time of the general election, but at the partial contest, at which he was previously elected, such was not the case. In like manner Dr. Jenkins was chosen but a short time ago, and he proved the wisdom of the choice by the splendid run he made. There is therefore not any necessity for putting the electors to the trouble of holding meetings and sending delegates from distant parts of the county, when the same man is still their choice. He stands in the estimation of the people head and shoulders over all others, and can beat easily any man the Grits may run.

Very few indeed are those who think that Mr. Haviland or Mr. Ferguson has the same claim to the nomination that Dr. Jenkins has, and Convention or no Convention, he will be afforded an opportunity of running the County in preference to them or any other gentlemen who may feel inclined to dispute his rights. Mr. Haviland has not yet relinquished the highest position on the Island, and to say the least it would be neither dignified nor in good taste were he to push forward again so soon, even if the circumstances were different. Mr. Ferguson holds a good position, and there is not any need of his giving it up to contest the County for a seat in the Commons. The interests of the party must be viewed in more ways than one, and those who claim to be patriots should learn to sink self interest at times, or, at least, appear to do so. If either of these gentlemen has claims equal to those of Dr. Jenkins the fact is well known to the country at large, and to be the cause of any annoyance at the present time would do no good to themselves or their party. Whatever their claims may or may not be, they will, no doubt, be rewarded, if deserving, when opportunity offers, but at the present time it would be much better to avoid bringing forward a number of names when only one man can run.

There is a rumor current that a few in Charlottetown are from personal malice bitterly opposed to the Doctor, and that the EXAMINER is the exponent of their views. At the present time the petite unpleasantness that is past should be forgotten. There is nothing to be gained by keeping it up, and it is to be hoped that the EXAMINER will drop into line and work as formerly for the good of its party and co-operate with all true Liberal Conservatives in giving the Doctor an earnest support during the coming contest.

I am, yours, etc., LIBERAL CONSERVATIVE. Queen's County, July 14, 1884.

[We assure our esteemed correspondent that private malice never actuates THE EXAMINER. Its main motive is the public good. If people would examine and criticize THE EXAMINER'S statements and arguments, and not listen to street corner gossip and slander, they would not fall into error on this point. THE EXAMINER never says anything that it is not able to justify on public grounds; or, if it does, let the fact be made clear. Our correspondence columns are, at all times, open for the free and reasonable discussion of public questions.]

Arctic Explorers Perish.

SEVENTEEN OF THE GREELY PARTY STARVE. ANOTHER MAN DIES AFTER HIS RESCUE—TERRIBLE HARDSHIPS AMONG THE ICE FLOES.

At Washington, on the 17th inst., the following was received from Commander Schly:—

ST. JOHN'S NEWS, July 17, 9 a.m.—The Thetis, Bear and Lock Garry arrived here to-day from West Greenland. All well. Separated from the Alert one hundred and fifty miles north during a gale. At 9 p.m., June 22nd, five miles off Cape Tobin, in Smith's Sound, the Thetis and Bear secured alive Lieut. T. W. Greely, Sergeant Bainerd, Sergeant Fredericks, Sergeant Long, Hospital Steward Biederback, Private Cornell, and Sergeant Gilson, the only survivors of the Lady Franklin Bay expedition. Sergeant Ellison had lost both hands and feet by frost bite and died July 6th at Godhaven, three days after amputation, which had become imperative. Seventeen of the 25 persons composing this expedition perished by starvation at the point where found. One was drowned while sealing to procure food. Twelve bodies of the dead were rescued, and are now aboard the Thetis and Bear. One Esquimaux, Turnek, was buried at Disco, in accordance with the desire of the inspector of Western Greenland. Five bodies buried in the ice fort near Camp Veer. Sergeant Pavy, June 6; Sergeant Gardner, June 12, drowned while breaking through newly formed ice, while sealing; James Edwards, Esquimaux, April 24. I would suggest that the bodies now on board be placed in metallic cases here for safer and better transportation in sea way. This appears to me imperative. Greely abandoned Fort Conger, Aug. 9, 1883, and reached Baird Inlet Sept. 27th, following, with the entire party well. He abandoned all his boats and was adrift for thirty days on ice floe in Smith's Sound. His permanent camp was established Oct. 21, 1883, at the point where he was found. During nine months his party had to live upon scant allowance of food brought from Fort Conger, that cached at Hayes Harbor and Cape Isabella by Sir George Nares in 1875, but found much damaged by lapse of time; that cached by Beebe at Cape Sabine in 1882; and a small amount saved from the wreck of the Proteus, in 1883, and landed by Lieuts. Garlington and Colwell on the beach where Greely's party was found encamped. When these provisions were consumed the party was forced to live upon boiled seal skin, strips from their seal skin clothing, lichen and shrimps, preserved in good weather when they were strong enough to make exertion. As 1,300 shrimps were required to fill a gallon measure, the labor was too exhausting to depend upon them to sustain life entirely. The Thetis and Bear reached Cape York June 18, after a passage of 41 days in Melville Bay, with two advance ships of the Dundee whaling fleet and continued to Cape Sabine. Returning seven days later fell in with seven others of this fleet off Westenholme Island, and announced Greely's rescue to their fishing grounds, nor were tempted into the dangers of Smith's Sound in view of the reward of $25,000 offered by Congress. Returning across Melville Bay, fell in with the Alert and Lock Garry off Devil's Thumb, struggling through the ice. The Greely party are very much improved since the rescue, but their condition was critical in the extreme when found and for several days after.

Lieut. Greely, in his despatch to General Hazen, says: We abandoned Fort Conger, Aug. 9; frozen in a pack off Victoria Head, Aug. 29; abandoned the steam launch, Sept. 11, eleven miles northeast of Cocked Hat Island. When on the point of landing we were three times driven by southwest storms into Kene's sea. Finally we landed Sept. 29th, in Baird Inlet. Learning by scouting parties of the Proteus disaster, and that no provisions had been left for us from Cape Isabella to Sabine, we moved and established winter quarters at Camp Clay, half way between Sabine and Cocked Hat. An inventory showed that by a daily ration of four and one-third ounces of m a, seven of bread, dog and biscuits, and four ounces miscellaneous, the party would have ten days full rations left for crossing Smith Sound to Littleton Island, March 1. Unfortunately Smith Sound remained open the entire winter, rendering the crossings improbable. Game failed: despite daily hunting from early in February, before our return, only 500 pounds of meat was obtained. This year minute shrimps, seaweed, sassafras, rock lichens and seal skin were restored to for food, with the results as shown by the number of survivors. The last regular food issued May 14th. Only 150 lbs of meat was left by Garlington and compelled me to send in November four men to obtain 44 lbs of English meat at Isabella. During the trip Elison froze solid both hands and feet and lost them, all surviving, however, throughout the terrible winter and spring until July 8th. The survivors owe their lives to the indomitable energy of Captain Schley and Lieut. Emery, who, preceded by three and accompanied by five whalers, forced their vessel from Upernivik through Melville Bay into the north water at Cape York, with the foremost whaler; they gained a yard whenever possible and always held it. Smith Sound was crossed and the party rescued during one of the most violent gales ever known. The boats were handled only at imminent risk of swamping. Four of us were then unable to walk and could not have survived exceeding twenty-four hours. Every care and attention were given us. We saved and brought back copies of meteorological, tidal, astronomical, magnetic pendulum and other observations; also pendulum, gale and standard thermometers, forty-eight photographic negatives, a collection of blanks and photographic proofs, Eskimo relics and other things necessarily abandoned. The Thetis remains here five days probably.

The geographical and scientific result of the Greely expedition is said to be very valuable, the party having penetrated farther northward than ever before reached.
