

Interest Growing In First Provincial Rose Show Here

Exhibitors from all parts of the Province will be participating in the first provincial rose show to be held on the Island which gets underway tomorrow morning at the Women's Institute Hall, Parkdale.

The Island soil and climate is particularly adapted to the growing of roses and were it not for an occasional severe winter it might well become one of the best rose growing areas of the world. This is the opinion expressed by a number of gardeners and rose enthusiasts in particular. TREMENDOUS SALES—More than 13,000 rose bushes have been purchased from the Cotton Memorial Nursery by home owners in the Province and the success that has been had in producing these beautiful flowers has prompted the Parkdale Women's Institute to sponsor the show.

The official opening of the show will take place at 8.00 p.m. with Hon. Eugene Cullen, Minister of Agriculture presiding. Mr. R. C. Parent, Superintendent of the Charlottetown Experimental Farm will also be present and speak briefly. Prizes will be presented following the official opening.

Judging is expected to be completed by early afternoon and the public will be admitted from 3.00 p.m. until 10.00 p.m. There are two classes—one open competition and one for the smaller grower of 30 bushes or less.

Mrs. Frank Ross, president of the Parkdale Women's Institute, who has been the chief spark in sponsoring the show said yesterday, it was hoped that the exhibition would be educational to those already engaged in growing roses and at the same time arouse interest in many others.

SPONSOR BOOTH—The Department of Agriculture will sponsor a special booth concerning the planting, pruning, care and growing of roses.

A novel feature of the show will be the arranging of a ladie's corsage and the setting of a dinner table for roses alone.

In addition to the regular competition, the different florists in the province will put on a special display of floral arrangements.

Judges for the show are Gordon C. Warren of the Experimental Farm, David Schurman, and Robert Snazell of Cotton Memorial Nursery.

Air Cadets From Island Are At RCAF Station Greenwood

Early July will again see Air Cadets from all parts of the four Atlantic Provinces and Quebec converging on RCAF Station Greenwood for periods of two weeks training. Beginning July 7 until the last of August, it is expected that well over 1700 cadets representing 79 squadrons are expected to further tax the facilities of this bustling station. Each camp geared to accommodate over 400 cadets is set up to provide a comprehensive training program aimed at giving and accompanying personnel valuable experience which should prove of great benefit when they return to their home squadron.

Under the capable leadership of Wing Commander E.W. Rhuda, Yarmouth, N.S., Officer Commanding Air Cadet summer camp, a large staff of qualified officers and instructors will be on hand to provide a maximum of useful training and guidance while in camp. Among subjects given special attention are Air Force familiarization, flying, leadership, armament, contact training, station tours, career counselling, para-rescue and range.

SWIMMING—Continuing the practice established in previous years special emphasis is placed on instruction in swimming. Under qualified instructors all cadets not able to swim are placed in separate groups and particular attention is given to learning to swim in both indoor and outdoor pools. Past experience in this phase of training has been proved by the high percentage of boys who have successfully qualified at the close of the camp period.

In addition practically all station recreational activities such as volleyball court, softball diamonds, bowling alleys and sports field have been placed at the disposal of the camp. These facilities in conjunction with the regular training schedule provides a daily program aimed at making use of all available time and ensures a well rounded out two weeks which should be both beneficial and useful to all cadets.

But, perhaps the greatest appeal to this year's camp will be the fact that for the first time, all cadets will be housed under canvas. This new departure, due to lack of barrack space should be a source of real enjoyment to all lads who truly like camping out. In order to provide adequate sleeping quarters, 30 large tents, complete with floors, board walks heating installations and adequate lighting have been set up with the result that the camp site presents a truly impressive setting.

Spiritual values is one aspect of life not overlooked and during his stay at camp every boy has the opportunity to avail himself of the advice and guidance of a number of padres. Regular church parades and daily Vesper services provide a suitable and to the daily life in camp.
