

Cool, Dry Weather Reported From Greater Part Of Canada

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS
April's chilly showers this year brought gloomers, not flow-ers, from many Canadian retail-ers and farmers.

And may be the coldest and among the driest in a cen-tury.

Only British Columbia could re-peat "normally balmy" weather. For the rest of Cana-da it has been icy showers, snow, winds and cold.

Alberta entered May with normal temperatures between 60 and 70 degrees, but began to shiver Friday with an Edmon-ton high of 50.

CLOTHING SALES DOWN

Spring and summer clothing sales are reported almost disas-trous across Ontario, but some retailers say they are making up part of the loss in sales of overcoats and rain-coats.

Farmers have been hit hard, especially in eastern Ontario and the Ottawa Valley. If cold, dry weather continues in the Ottawa Valley, agricultural au-thorities say the area will suffer its third consecutive bad crop year.

Temperatures in Quebec are 2 to 3 degrees below normal for May. The province has had 2.6 inches of fresh snow, the second heaviest fall for this time of the year since 1875.

As in Ontario, spring and summer clothing sales have been slow.

Unusually cool and dry spring weather in New Brunswick has hurt clothing and other sales. Saint John has received 4.9 inches of snow this month, a May record.

In the other Atlantic provinces, the weather has been "unseasonable but unusual," although some areas have re-ported up to six inches of fresh snow.

Dawson City Flood Damage Said Heavy

in Whitehorse, the Yukon capital, is accepting donations of clothing and bedding to ship to Dawson City residents, flooded out of their homes.

TEEN-AGERS HELP
The flooding started a week ago and Mayor Jim Mallory started clearing out the bars to get all available manpower working on sandbagging operations. Young women and teen-agers joined the all-night struggle.

The sandbagging failed to hold back the floodwaters, which carried huge chunks of ice, smashed cabins and debris through this town at expres-sive speed.

RC-Protestant Joint Activity Spreads Around World

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
NEW YORK (AP)—Combined Protestant-Roman Catholic ac-tivity has mushroomed so fast around the world that there's no way to keep track of it, a sur-vey report said here.

It said "thousands of joint worship, study and community action projects" are going on, but the full extent of such co-operation cannot be pinpointed because of its rapid growth.

The study was issued at the close of a three-day Fordham University conference between representatives of American Roman Catholic bishops and of Presbyterian and Reformed churches in the United States.

Findings of the survey de-tailed scores of programs in which Roman Catholics and Protestants are working to-gether in Africa, Asia, Europe and the Americas.

They range from the establish-ment of ecumenical centres at Georgia, Mo., and Jerusalem, Jordan, to training workers in slum areas of Chile, to "opera-tion understanding" visits at common churches in Kansas City.

CITIES DIALOGUES
The report also cites inter-faith dialogues that have sprung up in communities across the United States.

Uprage of the working ties among Protestants and Roman Catholics has come in the wake of the second Vatican ecumeni-cal council, which closed last December in Rome after order-ing its sweeping series of re-forms.

Among the chief actions was its decree on ecumenism, call-ing for common efforts, study and prayer with other churches.

United prayer gatherings have caught on, the report said, in West Pakistan, Lebanon, the United Arab Republic, Ira-q, Taiwan and the Philippines, be-sides the expected participation in Europe.

Former President Of Brazil Dies

He had been living in this city 110 miles northeast of Sao Paulo since his retirement from the presidency. A lawyer, Braz served in the Minas Gerais legis-lature, later became state governor and then vice-presi-dent.

WILL STAY ON

ATHENS (AP)—George Me-las, Greek finance minister who quit his cabinet post two days ago because of ill health, an-nounced Saturday he will re-main in the government. Of-ficial sources said the 72-year-old minister changed his mind after a personal plea from Premier Stephanos Stephanopoulos.

Opening lead — King of dia-monds.

It is a fundamental principle of dummy play that if a contract can be made only if the adverse cards are divided in a certain way, you go ahead and play on that basis.

For a good example of how this principle is applied, here is a case where declarer was able to make a slam even though East had what appeared to be two unassailable trump tricks.

West led a diamond which South ruffed, there being no need to take an immediate dis-card on the ace. When declarer then led a heart to the king, West showed out and the 4-0 trump distribution was revealed.

Declarer's only possible chance now of making the hand was to arrange for a trump endplay. However, this could not be achieved unless East's distribu-tion was such as to permit the proper endplay position to be reached.

South had to assume that East would follow to three high spades and two high clubs as they were cashed, and he like-wise had to assume that East had exactly four diamonds. There was no distribution that East could have, other than 3-4-4, which would permit the slam to be made.

So South went ahead on this assumption. He cashed the ace of diamonds, discarding a club, and ruffed a diamond. He then played the A-K-Q of spades and ruffed another diamond. Next, he cashed the K-A of clubs putting the lead in dummy and bringing about this position:

North
♠ A8
♥ 109
♦ 108
♣ 10

West
Immaterial

East
♠ QJ6
♥ 109
♦ 108
♣ 10

Dummy now led the nine of diamonds and it did not matter whether East ruffed high or low. In either case, South was bound to win two of the last three tricks. East's two trump tricks dwindled into one.
