STOCK QUOTATIONS

Morning Stock Letter

(Received over Pitfield and Co's Private Wire)

NEW YORK, May 21—The London market was slightly reactionary probably due to the statement of Mr. Chamberlain that higher taxes could be expected for some time to come. Paris market is closed today. Mr. Harvey D. Gibson, has been elected to the Board of Paramount. U. S. Foil declared regular dividend. Dividend meetings scheduled today are Int. Harvester, Ntl. Dairy Products, Swift and Co., Texas Gulf Sulphur and Union Pacific. There is no overnight news which would have any unusual effect on the New York market. Governor Lehman's decision not to run for Governor again is being stressed by all the papers as an important political development but it may have no influence in the market at this time. We would look for another irregular quiet market today with a few strong spots.

Dull Session On New York Stock Market

By Frank MacMillen, Associated Press Financial Writer (By Guardian's Special Wire)

NEW YORK, May 21. — Stocks made another motion toward recovery in today's market, but it turned out to be a false one so far as most of the leaders were concerned.

While the general news picture, from a business standpoint, had lost none of its brightness, the board-room sitters apparently were still paying little attention to this normal market influence.

It was another of the dullest days in about a year, transfers totalling 663,330 shares, or some 20,000 under yesterday's aggregate. The Associated Press average of 60 issues was off .3 of a point at 59.3.

Shares that managed to retain advances of fractions to around a point included Consolidated Edison at 30⅝, American Water Works at 20⅞, Du Pont at 142½, Johns-Mansville at 92⅝, Borg-Warner at 71, Sears Roebuck at 66⅞, Allied Stores at 8¾ and Public Service of New Jersey at 41.

Down as much were U. S. Steel at 56, Bethlehem at 48⅞, Chrysler at 93, General Motors at 61⅛, Anaconda at 32¾, J. I. Case at 148⅛, Standard Oil of New Jersey at 57⅛, Dome at 58¼ and Deere at 76.

The rails, ahead most of the time, finished slightly under water. International Harvester eased ⅛ at 82½ when the company's directors voted the regular dividend. In some quarters an increase had been expected.

Most of the Canadian issues lost fractions in listless trading. Dome and International Nickel each eased ¾ while smaller recessions were shown by McIntyre, Canadian Pacific, Distillers Seagram, Imperial Oil and several others.

IF BRIDE GOES FORTH TO BUY WOOL BLANKETS

Why does the bride choose all-wool blankets in preference to part cotton—if she does? Because it is light and warm. The reason wool is warmer than cotton is that the wool fibre is covered with tiny scales, and when the fibres are woven together and combed up into deep, fluffy nap, these scales interlock and form millions of tiny air pockets. Just as the air space in a thermos bottle acts to keep its contents warm, so the air pockets in the nap of a wool blanket form an insulation between your body and the cold, keeping the warm air in and the cold air out. Animals which are native of cold climates have thick woollen hides, you notice.

When you buy all-wool blankets you can try some simple tests to determine if new wool is used in them and not reworked wool or "shoddy" combined with new wool.

One such test is called the squeeze test. Gather up a handful of the blanket and squeeze it tightly. A blanket made of live new wool is soft and springly, and has a feeling of fullness in your hand.

The label of a reliable firm also always is a sure way to test real wool. Reliable firms will not risk their reputation by manufacturing and putting on the market blankets that will not "stand up" under tests.

Stocks Move Lower On Montreal Mart

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

MONTREAL, May 21.—Montreal Stock Exchange listings today moved into lower ground.

Utilities showed most strength though fractional losses spotted the advances. Constructions, with the exception of Steel of Canada preferred, lost ground, paper dipped and metals were irregular.

Selective buying lifted a few stocks, including Banque Canadienne Nationale and Jamaica Public Service preferred, one to two points.

Jamaica Public Services preferred gained two points and closed at 127, a new high for a year or more. Banque Canadienne Nationale also was up two points while Canadian Hydro-Electric preferred advanced a point.

Power Corporation, International Nickel, Canadian National Power, Brazilian, Bruck Silk and Steel of Canada preferred advanced fractionally. Among those on the down side were Canada Cement and the Preferred, Foundation Company, Gypsum, Consolidated Smelting, St. Lawrence Corporation, St. Lawrence Paper preferred, Shawinigan and Quebec Power.

Liquors got away from the general trend and National Breweries and Distillers Seagram pushed up although Canadian Industrial Alcohol dropped ¼.

Sales 11,943; bonds $2,150.

STATESMAN AT HOME HELPLESS CREATURES ALL

LONDON— Mrs. Stanley Baldwin has maintained something of a tradition for the wives of prime ministers in her announcement that these great men are "helpless" and that the best work a woman can do is to look after them and "see that they are able to do their work."

Of the "helplessness" there are various anecdotes. Among the less hackneyed is Lady Salisbury's comment on her husband after receiving from him an account of the activities of a small boy who had been left for a short time in his care at Hatfield: "Having tried all the weapons in the gun cupboard in succession . . . and having failed to blow his fingers off, he has been driven to reading Sydney Smith's Essays and studying Hogarth's pictures." "He may be able to govern the country," was Lady Salisbury's comment, "but he is quite unfit to be left in charge of his children."

And all the domestic management of Hatfield fell upon her.

Of Mrs. Gladstone in charge of a "helpless" husband there is a pretty picture in E. T. Cook's "Dairy." Cook was visiting Rosebery at Durdans. "Dinner at eight. Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone then first appearing. Mrs. Gladstone hurrying after him with shawls and comforters. "Oh, he's very naughty. He would go out to dinner at Ferdinand de Rothschild's and we had already put off a lunch next day at Sir J. Paget's to meet Virchow and ever so many doctors."

Disraeli, of course, was looked after most carefully by his wife, and her own account of his "helplessness" when it came to pulling the cord of the shower bath is pretty well-known.

Time For Dipping Has Arrived

Now that the long, cold winter seems definitely over, sheepmen point out that the time for spring dipping is approaching. In the last few years, wool authorities claim there has been a remarkable improvement in the wool clip of Canada and this improvement is largely due to regular dipping and more careful feeding methods. Not only will dipped sheep make more rapid and large gains, it is maintained, but the wool is also benefited, being heavier and cleaner.

With the modern arsenic powder dips now available dipping is a simple task. A warm day in May should be selected, just after the flock has been shorn and every animal is put through the tank. The job should not be rushed but each animal allowed to stay about a minute in the solution and during this period, the head should be shoved under gently to insure that every part of the body is treated. With powder dips at the right strength, and the job done carefully, every live tick will be destroyed and also any that may hatch later from eggs in the fleece at the time of dipping. Of course, as one animal can soon re-infest the whole flock, it is essential that all members of the flock be dipped and also any new sheep which may be purchased later.

For a small flock it is not necessary to construct an elaborate dipping plant. A barrel large enough to hold sufficient liquid to immerse a sheep will answer the purpose. A small trough, say 5 feet 6 inches long, 20 inches deep, 20 inches wide at the bottom, and 24 inches wide at the top has proved its efficiency on many occasions, and a small draining platform can be built without trouble, where the dipped sheep can be allowed to stand for a few minutes until the dip drains out of the fleece and back into the dipping utensil.

Where the flock is small and there is no tank available, authorities recommend dusting with special insect powders for this purpose. This is an inexpensive way to treat very small flocks and also odd animals that may be purchased from time to time. Just after the fleece has been removed and the animals are still being held in position, is the time for this treatment. The powder should be sprinkled generously over the whole body and rubbed in slightly. If the right kind of powder is used, all external parasites will be killed and the treatment is long lived enough to account for any mites which may hatch from eggs later on.
