No Pro Hockey In Indianapolis Again Next Season

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Dick Miller, president of the Indianapolis Coliseum Corp., said Tuesday

that there will not be a professional hockey team in the Indiana capital this winter for the second straight year.

Miller said he tried to reach a working agreement with a National Hockey League club but failed because he could not give assurance that any arrangement would last more than a year.

Indianapolis had an American Hockey League team before last season, operating as a Detroit Red Wings farm club.

Miller said he understood the franchise was suspended for a year because of travel problems resulting when Indianapolis isn't in the Louis of the AHL is asking that its league.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXE
LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

IN FACT, HIS BIGGEST WORRY IS THAT JEB WILL WITHDRAW HIS ACCOUNT FROM THE BANK!

THEN HE'S WELL ENOUGH TO ANSWER A FEW QUESTIONS!

IF HE SAYS THAT LILLY IS INNOCENT, I'LL BUILD HIM A NEW BANK!

THEN YOU STAY HERE, JEB! I'M GOING TO SEE HIM ALONE. I WANT THE UNVARYING FACTS!
