From late English and American Papers.

DESTRUCTION OF LAGOS, ON THE COAST OF AFRICA, BY THE BRITISH SQUADRON.

Accounts have been received during the week, announcing the almost total destruction of the town of Lagos by the boats of the British squadron on the 26th and 27th of December, the English vessels sustaining a loss of 25 killed and 71 wounded, five of whom died subsequently, making in all 30 killed. The ships engaged in the attack were the Penelope, Bloodhound, Sampson, and some others; and the great loss of the English squadron was occasioned by the Bloodhound having grounded on a sandbank within range of a battery of 13 guns.

The hostile proceedings were undertaken in consequence of the refusal of the King or Chief of Lagos to sign a treaty for the effectual suppression of the slave trade in his dominions. It was accordingly determined to attack the place, and, after two days' fighting the object was accomplished and the place nearly destroyed, an immense number of the natives being killed. The Chief, or King, has also been deposed, and another substituted. The wounded on the side of the British in the action are stated to be doing well.

AUSTRALIA—THE GOLD FIELDS.

Accounts received via India by the Overland Mail, to the beginning of November, state that throughout all the Australian colonies great excitement was created by the announcement of gold been discovered at Melbourne, Port Phillip (now called Victoria), in such abundance as to leave the Sidney "diggings" quite in the shade. A complete reaction had taken place, to the great injury of the sister colonies, which were daily being deserted by all classes of labourers, who were hurrying away to the new El Dorado: thousands were on their way; and even from California large numbers were lured by the reputed wealth of the Victoria province. From all accounts the Melbourne diggings are inexhaustible, whilst the daily yield to each man exceeds greatly the quantities which rendered California so remarkable at first. About 10,000 diggers were at work at the mines at the end of October, and the average yield or earnings of each digger was from 1¼ to 1½ oz. of gold per man per day. The towns of Melbourne and Geelong, at the last mentioned date, were deserted by the male sex. Their only population consisted of females. Flocks, herds, workshops, and the fields were all deserted by men, who preferred the moderate luck of £20 to £100 per day at the diggings, to toiling for a whole week for as many shillings. Government escorts had been established to protect the treasure in its transit to town, the daily amount transported being from 2000 to 3000 ounces. On October 23rd, for instance, the arrival of gold under escort from the neighborhood of Melbourne was 88 lb. 11 oz. 4 dwts., and 136 lb. 9 oz. 16 grs. from the Geelong and Ballarat diggings, or a total of 2708 oz. 4 dwts. 16 grs. The quantity will increase with the increase of the diggers, and some idea may be formed of the rate at which this was going on, from the fact that on October 25, no less than 299 steerage passengers arrived at Melbourne by four different vessels from Van Diemen's Land. As an instance of individual success, it is mentioned that on October 23, the large amount of 93 lbs. weight, or 1116 oz., was exposed for sale in the rooms of Symass and Perry, Bourke street (Melbonrne). The person in whose possession it was, stated that a party of seven had obtained it at the Ballarat diggings in the space of fourteen days.

The latest intelligence from Melbourne is dated Nov. 5, and is chiefly taken up with details of individual fortune or loss in the gold search.

From Adelaide (South Australia) news to November 13, mentions the discovery of small pieces of gold taken from a piece of quartz found in a district on the Torrens, about nine miles from Adelaide. Gold in the pure granular form, and of superior quality, has long and frequently been found in the province, but hitherto in such quantities as not to be a sufficient incentive for a more vigorous search. A subscription is now on foot to be given to the first discoverer of a gold field in South Australia. At Adelaide, on Oct. 16, a jeweller bought a quantity of gold from one of the settlers; whence it came is a secret, but it is supposed to have been collected from the banks or sands of some of the neighbouring streams.

CANADA.

The Hamilton Spectator C. W., says, the tusks and jaw-bone of an elephant were recently dug up by some labourers on the section of the Great Western Railroad which passes through the Burlington heights near that city. This is considered the most wonderful discovery of the day.—The Elephant is to be found but in India and Africa, and how the monster could have made his way into the very heart of America is a question worthy of investigation. The bank in which it was found is a deposit, and thousands of years must have been consumed, in forming the sixty feet of earth and gravel, which covered the remains.

CALIFORNIA.—Great excitement existed at Downingville in consequence of the discoveries of new mines of gold-bearing quartz in that vicinity. Six different veins have been turned up within ten days, the ore from which is said to be exceedingly rich.

AN ENGLISH SUBJECT.—An old gentleman, by the name of Barton, recently died at Milford, Pike county, Pa., who was born in New Jersey in 1762, and had never renounced his allegiance to the British government. At the time of the revolution, he held a lieutenant's commission. He died a subject and pensioner of the Queen.

In the Anatomy School at Oxford, among other curiosities, they shew the skeleton of a woman who had had ten husbands, and was hanged at the age of thirty-six, for the murder of four of them.

A placard, written in red ink, has been posted in Tipperary, calling on the Irish, to address the President of the French to put down the English.

Mary Welsh, the daughter of an inkeeper at Clones, near Dublin, has obtained 50*l* damages against Philip Lacken, a farmer in that neighbourhood, for breach of promise of marriage.

The wife of a respectable grocer, in Strabane, mistaking arsenic for soda, in one of the shop drawers, a few days ago, mixed it in some bread; in consequence of eating which, her husband and her mother died, and the remainder of her family sustained severe illness.

Varieties.

YOUR BABIES NOT MY BABIES.—About thirty-five years ago, there resided in the town of Hebron, a certain Dr. T——, who became very much enamored of a beautiful young lady in the same town. In due course of time they were engaged to be married. The doctor was a strong and decided Presbyterian, and his lady-love as strong and decided a Baptist. They were sitting together one evening, talking of their approaching nuptials, when the doctor remarked—"I am thinking, my dear, of two events which I shall number among the happiest of my life."—"And pray, what may they be, doctor?" asked the lady. "One is the hour when I shall call you my wife for the first time." "And the other, if you please?" "It is when we shall present our first-born for baptism." "What, sprinkled?" "Yes, my dear, sprinkled." "Never shall a child of mine be sprinkled!" "Every child of mine shall be sprinkled." "They shall be, ha!" "Yes, my love." "Well, sir, I can tell you then, that your babies won't be my babies. So, good night sir." The lady left the room—and the doctor left the house. The sequel to this true story is, that the doctor never married, and the lady is now an old maid.

Parson Green is in the habit, sometimes, of drawing upon a barrel of sermons, bequeathed him by his father, who was also a minister.—Upon one occasion he got hold of a sermon, by mistake, which the old gentleman had once preached to the State Prison convicts. It opened well, and the congregation were becoming deeply interested, when all at once the parson surprised them with the information, that "had it not been for the clemency of the Governor, every one of them would have been hung a long time ago!"

DON'T DIRTY MY STOCKINGS.—A story is told of a rustic youth and country girl, who sat facing each other at the supper table. The youth, smitten with the charms of the beautiful maid, only vented his passion in sly looks, and now and then touching Patty's toe with his foot under the table. The girl, either fearful of the purity of her stockings, or determined to make the youth express what he appeared so warmly to feel, bore with his advances a little while in silence, when she cried out, "Look here, if you love me, tell me so, but don't dirty my stockings."

Dr. Beeswax, in his "Essay on Woman," remarks with some truth, that "beauties generally die old maids. They set such a value on themselves," he says, "that they don't find a purchaser until the market is closed. Out of a dozen beauties who have come out within the last eighteen years eleven still occupy single beds. They spend their days in working green dogs on yellow wool—while their evenings are devoted to low spirits and French novels."

A clever writer says, that the great secret of woman's ascendancy is to be found in the fact, that man believes that woman looks up to him and thinks him perfect; and, in his gratitude for her blind admiration, returns her the compliment of thinking her judgment infallible.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS

CURE OF A DISORDERED LIVER AND BAD DIGESTION.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. R. W. Kirkus, Chemist, 7 Prescot Street, Liverpool, dated 6th June, 1851.

To Professor HOLLOWAY;

SIR,—Your Pills and Ointment have stood the highest on our sale list of Proprietary Medicines for some years. A customer, to whom I can refer for any enquiries, desires me to let you know the particulars of her case. She had been troubled for years with a disordered liver, and bad digestion. On the last occasion, however, the virulence of the attack was so alarming, and the inflammation set in so severely, that doubts were entertained of her not being able to bear up under it; fortunately she was induced to try your Pills, and she informs me that after the first, and each succeeding dose, she had great relief. She continued to take them, and although she used only three Boxes, she is now in the enjoyment of perfect health. I could have sent you many more cases, but the above, from the severity of the attack, and the speedy cure, I think, speaks much in favor of your astonishing Pills.

(Signed) R. W. KIRKUS.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF RHEUMATIC FEVER, IN VAN DIEMEN'S LAND.

Copy of a Letter inserted in the Hobart Town Courier, of the of the 1st March, 1851, by Major J. Walch.

Margaret M'Connigan, nineteen years of age, residing at New Town, has been suffering from a violent rheumatic fever for upwards of two months, which had entirely deprived her of the use of her limbs; during this period, she was under the care of the most eminent medical men in Hobart Town, and by them her case was considered hopeless. A friend prevailed upon her to try Holloway's celebrated Pills, which she consented to do, and in an incredibly short space of time they effecteda perfect cure.

CURE OF A PAIN AND TIGHTNESS IN THE CHEST AND STOMACH OF A PERSON 84 YEARS OF AGE.

From Messrs. Thew & Son, Proprietors of the Lynn Advertiser, who can vouch for the following statement.—August 2, 1851.

To Professor HOLLOWAY.

SIR,—I desire to bear testimony to the good effects of Holloway's Pills. For some years I suffered severely from a pain and tightness in the stomach, which was also accompanied by a shortness of breath, that prevented me from walking about. I am 84 years of age, and notwithstanding my advanced state of life, these Pills have so relieved me, that I am desirous that others should be made acquainted with their virtues. I am now rendered, by their means, comparatively active, and can take exercise without inconvenience or pain, which I could not do before.

(Signed) HENRY COE,
North Street, Lynn, Norfolk.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF THE GRAVEL, AND A MOST DANGEROUS LIVER COMPLAINT.

Copy of a Letter addressed to J. K. Heydon, Esq., Sidney, New South Wales, dated February 25, 1851.

SIR,—A Mr. Thomas Clark, a settler at Lake George, was for a considerable time seriously afflicted with a complaint of the Liver, together with the Gravel. His medical attendants, after trying all their skill, candidly told him that his case was hopeless, and any further efforts useless. In this situation, and when expecting every day would terminate his existence, a friend recommended him to try Holloway's Pills, and as a forlorn hope he did so, the first dose gave him considerable relief, he therefore persevered in taking them according to the directions, and is now restored to perfect health. He will feel great pleasure in confirming this statement, or even make an affidavit to the same effect, should it be required.

(Signed) Wm. JONES, Proprietor of Goulburn Herald, New South Wales.
