

Senators Win 4th Straight Triumph Over St. Louis

By The Canadian Press

Chunky Connie Marrero pitched a four-hitter Tuesday night to give Washington Senators their fourth straight triumph over St. Louis Browns 2-0. It was Marrero's fourth victory against no defeats this season.

Veteran Johnny Sain weakened after a sharp start but notched his fourth victory with a six-hitter as New York Yankees shaded Chicago White Sox 4-3.

The two American League games were the only ones played in the major leagues. All four games in the National League and two others in the American League were rained out.

The Browns, who have yet to gain a victory over the Senators this season, got their bats in action only once after hits in the first and second innings. They nicked Marrero for two hits in the eighth, putting men on second and third with two out, but failed to make use of the opportunity.

It was Marrero all the way after the third when singles by Jim Bushy, Jackie Jensen and Archie Wilson followed. Eddie Yost's in-ning-opening walk to give the Cuban righthander his two-run lead. Jensen, the ex-New York Yankee, was the big man for the Senators, getting three-for-three off Tommy Byrne, ex-Yankee southpaw.

Byrne put together a creditable job, walking three and fanning the same number. But he couldn't match Marrero, who struck out eight while giving up just two bases on balls.

Washington made use of league-leading Cleveland's idleness to climb into undisputed second place, a half-game ahead of Boston, and two games behind the Indians.

St. Louis dropped into fifth place. The 33-year-old Sain, who has lost one game in five starts, pitched hot-hit ball for the Yankees in the first four innings and retired the first 12 batters in order. The loser was Ken Holcombe, his fourth defeat in his fifth try for his first win. He left the game in the fifth. Holcombe gave the Yankees a 4-0 lead and was yanked in favor of lefty Charlie Stobbs.

Athletic Meeting In Summerside

The board of directors of the Summerside Amateur Athletic Association held a special meeting in the Town Hall last night to discuss ways and means of financing the sports program this year. It was decided to have a membership drive on June 2, with radio station CJRW co-operating, and its manager, Al Bestall chairman of the drive. Also season tickets for the fourteen games at the recreation grounds diamond will be offered to the fans at $3.00 per ticket. The tickets will be transferable, and will assure holders of the best seats in the grandstands. David Cornish, president of the S. A. A., was in the chair.

Ban Yanks From Taking Home Game

WASHINGTON, May 20 (CP)—The Fish and Wildlife Service said today that sportsmen hunting in Canada this fall will be barred from bringing their kill into the United States.

The ban applies to all cloven-hoofed game animals, including moose, deer, elk, caribou, mountain goat, mountain sheep and antelope.

Albert M. Day, director of the service, said transportation of these animals across the border will be prohibited as long as foot-and-mouth disease continues among Canadian cattle.

Day said small quantities of completely boned and thoroughly cooked meat from any of these animals, intended for personal consumption, may be brought back if approved at the border by U.S. inspectors.

Hides or skins also may be brought back if they are hard-dried, or if consigned to a government-approved establishment for disinfecting or processing.

Antlers, Horns, Hoofs and other trophies may be brought across the border if found by inspectors to be thoroughly cleaned and dried.

A well rested George McLagan, Islanders defenseman for the past two years, has returned to Charlottetown from his Toronto home for a week's visit. George motored down from Toronto over the weekend, arriving in the City on Monday night. In Moncton he learned of the sad news of Johnny Dutchak's death and Johnny's passing is probably being felt as much by McLagan as by any other member on the team. The two provided a top flight defense unit for the Islanders since the local club entered major hockey two years ago. Last night George expressed his regret over his defense mate's death and extended his sympathy to Johnny Dutchak's family.

Another expression of sympathy was received by this department Monday night from former Islander Johnny Morrow. The stocky right winger, who played with Dutchak for a full season, wired the following message from his home in Montreal: "Shocked on learning death of Johnny Dutchak. Stop Please convey deepest sympathy to his family. Johnny Morrow."

Since returning to his home in Toronto, McLagan has been busy working in a freight agency. He has heard from Jim MacKenzie, Walter Pawlyshyn and "Hub" Beaudry, the three players whom he drove as far as Toronto when the playing season was completed two months ago. He has played a small amount of baseball since returning home in order to keep in condition. Next fall he will be returning to the Providence Reds training camp.

Ev. MacNeill, coach of the junior baseball Abbies has an unenviable job at this moment. Within the next week or ten days Ev. will have to select his junior team for the Island League and judging from what we saw at Memorial Field yesterday evening he will have a tough task.

Now fewer than about 25 young players were taking part in an inter-squad game and all of them were showing up pretty well. In the Island League each team will be able to carry a maximum of 18 players.

There appeared to be quite an abundance of pitchers and catchers. Heading the pitchers was Benny Carson, who will be going to Edmundston, N. B. some time this summer. Benny was not on the mound yesterday evening but was playing first base. Three other regulars from last season, who were working out included Donnie MacLean, Junior MacLeod and Cliff Ready. Among the "rookies" trying to land a pitching berth, were "Lump" MacDougall, Johnny Squarebriggs, Jr., and "Beefy" Taylor. A star pitcher of last season "Poohy" Burke was playing left field.

Arnold MacCallum, number one catcher for the juniors for several seasons, was again working behind the plate. Opposing him was young Forbes Kennedy of hockey fame and Forbes looked right at home with the receiver's mitt. Also helping out with the catching duties was John MacDougall, Prince of Wales College student. On the whole it looked as though the pitchers were in better condition than the batters although Brian Lewis did bang a triple into right field for the longest base blow of the evening.

DETROIT, May 20 (AP)—Eugene (Silent) Hairston, an on-the-upgrade 22-year-old, ranks a slight betting favorite to whip veteran Jake LaMotta in their 10-round middleweight fight tomorrow night. The deaf mute Negro was given a 6-5 edge by the betting fra-

Big Increase In Operating Costs Of Ball Clubs

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr. NEW YORK, May 20 (AP)—

In 1929, just before the depression, a major league baseball owner needed $140,000 a year for the salaries of players, coaches and a manager. The total outlay for 16 major league clubs that year was approximately $3,765,000.

By 1950 only one big league club spent less than $300,000 for such salaries and four of them went over the half-million mark. The total jumped to $5,920,900.

These and other interesting figures are revealed in a hefty volume titled "Study Of Monopoly Power" which reports the hearings by a sub-committee under representative Emanuel Celler (Dem.-N.Y.) which inquired into the operations of big league baseball last year.

One of the many tables included in the book details the salaries of each club for 1929, 1933, 1939, 1946 and 1950. Individual player salaries are not listed. Only one of the six tables doesn't show New York Yankees at the top of the payroll list. The exception was in 1945, early in the Larry MacPhail regime, when they dropped behind Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tigers, the first clubs to go over $500,000 a year for salaries.

Similarly, Chicago Cubs generally have been the top-pay club of the National League with New York Giants close behind. The survey shows Washington never has been last, nor first, in the American League salary totals. In 1950 St. Louis Cardinals under Fred Fitzg moved to the top of the National League with a $495,633 payroll. The only year Brooklyn topped the list was 1943, when general manager Rickey laid out $271,424 in salaries.

The highest salary total for one club was the Yankees' $551,605 in 1950; the lowest, Philadelphia Athletics' $135,405 in 1943.

The election of a new slate of officers will feature the annual meeting of the Community Planning Association to be held in Prince of Wales College tonight. Presiding will be Mr. Orin Simons who was elected president during a meeting last winter. Guest speaker tonight will be Dr. Frank MacKinnon, Principal of Prince of Wales College.

This Association came into being as a result of a gathering of Maritime Province planners here last fall. At that time it was voted by Islanders attending to form such an association in this Province. A later meeting last winter was held for the purpose of electing pro tem officers. Tonight's will be the first annual meeting of the group.

Construct New Ball Diamond At Montague

Preliminary operations in the construction of a new baseball diamond, sponsored by the M. L. A. A. on the C. W. League grounds at Montague, was begun yesterday when a Poole and Beer bulldozer, operated by Mr. Arnold Irving removed the top sod to clean the way for the grader.

The field located at the north end of the grounds, will have a regulation infield with bases also marked at 90-feet for the juniors. Following the work of the bulldozer and grader, the field will be rolled to give a hard playing surface, after which the lines will be laid down.

The Athletic Association plans to field two teams in each of the midlets, bantams and juniors, and other teams if personnel is available. To get the children under way with a proper understanding of the game, two coaches from the Department of Physical Fitness are to come to Montague two afternoons a week to assist the program and teach the children how to play. Two Legion men will be in charge of each team to assist and continue the development of the junior ball players during the year.

Unwanted Rookies Top A. L. Fielding Averages

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP)—Two rookies who weren't wanted by the Browns—White Sox and Clint Courtney of St. Louis Browns—are giving American League veterans a lesson in the fine art of fielding.

Rodriguez, whom Brooklyn peddled to Chicago from its Montreal farm club, has committed only two errors in 102 chances at third base to top the league with a .980 percentage.

Courtney, former New York Yankee farm hand, has done even better. The bespectacled catcher, traded to the Browns last fall, is fielding a perfect 1.000.

The figures, released today, include games of Sunday, May 18. Actually, third baseman Gil McDougald of the Yankees is tied with Rodriguez on a percentage basis, but the White Sox rookie has handled more chances.

Likewise, catcher Yogi Berra of the Yankees and Jim Hegan of Cleveland boast the same percentage as Courtney—1.000—but both have participated in fewer games.

In the National League, fielding laurels are shared by Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants. These two, battling for first place lead in five of the individual positions.

Two men for the Giants are second baseman Davey Williams—another rookie—with a mark of 1.000, and third baseman Bobby Thomson, with a .986 figure.

Brooklyn's No. 1 glove men are first baseman Gil Hodges and catcher Ray Campanella, both 1.000.

Muelles (5), Murray (5) and Polles Baltimore had scored 9 runs in fifth with two out when game called because of heavy rain.

Syracuse at Toronto, night, postponed, rain.
Rochester at Buffalo, night, postponed, rain.

The rival shortstops—Pee Wee Reese of Brooklyn and Alvin Dark of the Giants—have identical .984 percentages and are tied for honors in this position.

Johnny Wyrostek and Wally Westlake of Cincinnati and Frankie Baumolts of Chicago Cubs, head the outfielders with marks of 1.000 each.

In the American League, the leading defensive flycatchers are Jim Busby, Washington, Dave Philley, Philadelphia and Irv Noren, New York, 1.000.
