BIG SEARCH
LAUNCESTON, England
(CP) - After a rugby player lost his wedding ring, thorough search of the playing field in this Cornwall town yielded only a set of false teeth. Then the teeth were claimed by a man who had conducted his own search earlier-and who had found the missing ring.

short legs than it would have been with long legs.

Presently he came to something in the grass just ahead of him. It hadn't moved but he saw it just before he reached it. It was long and slender, and both ends of it disappeared in the grass. You see, being so little above the ground himself, Old Mr. Toad could see only a very little way on either side.
He held his breath. Yes, sir, Old Mr. Toad held his breath. Was that one of the Snake folk? He couldn't see clearly, but certainly it was long and slender and round like one of the Snake folk. Supposing it was Bluffer the Hog-Noosed Snake, often wrongly called Adder!
There isn't any Adder in America.
Do you wonder that Old Mr. Toad held his breath? Wouldn't you hold your breath if you saw what looked like your worst enemy right in front of you?

Slowly, very slowly, Old Mr. Toad flattened himself down on the ground. He flattened himself until he looked like nothing more than a little heap of earth there. All the time he kept those beautiful golden eyes of his fixed on that Snake. Anyway, it was a Snake to him. He waited and waited and waited. Nothing happened. That

Elected President Of Nickel Company

NEW YORK, May 9-(CP)—Dr.

R. Leslie Beattie, vice-president and general manager of the company's Canadian operations, was elected a member of the executive committee of the board, and a director of the company's United States subsidiary, International Nickel Co., Inc.

Snake didn't move. Old Mr. Toad waited and waited and waited some more. Bill that Snake didn't move.
Can you guess why? It wasn't a Snake at all. It was just a piece of old rope.
