I PERUSE by the papers that I am published as having been fined five Shillings, and the costs, for the offence of Disorderly driving. A law me to state, that the sentence passed on me at the time by the Court, was for careless driving. Why the term careless should be interpreted disorderly, I am at a loss to understand.

Under those circumstances, I am at a loss to understand why I should be so harshly, I might add, unjustly, treated by the authorities who adjudicate in such cases. The sentence should have been an absolute discharge.
