NOVA SCOTIA

THE PROVINCE THAT WAS MADE FOR HOLIDAYS
Historically, Nova Scotians claim many firsts in Canada, among them: the first North American theatre, Neptune, founded by Marc Lescaorb and revived last year in Halifax; the first flight in the British Empire, at Baddeck; the first province to visit representative Government. With this heritage of a colourful past, Nova Scotia provides the countless niceties of modern living and the warm welcome that travellers love. For a holiday that memories are made of, plan now to visit this lovely province by the sea.
