THE DAILY EXAMINER.

AUGUST 4, 1891.

Notes and Comments.

—Lord Salisbury has no hope of an immediate settlement of either the Behring Sea or Newfoundland questions.

—The Canadian Pacific earnings from January 1st to June 30th amounted to $9,031,474 and working expenses to $6,076,942, leaving profits of $2,954,522, a considerable increase all around as compared with last year.

—Commenting upon the collapse of the Grits in the matter of Sir John Macdonald's C. P. R. shares, the Truth, of Toronto, an independent newspaper, remarks: "Enemies of the dead statesman who fancied that in these C. P. R. shares they had discovered great spoil will now require to search elsewhere for material with which to blacken the memory of Canada's lamented chieftain."

—A gentleman who was a passenger on one of the morning trains says that the speed at which the "run" is made on the down grade from Royalty Junction to Charlottetown is so great that there is imminent danger of an accident. The attention of the Superintendant is directed to this complaint. Drivers and other officers of the line may think that they know better than passengers; but experience has proved that the warning of passengers should not always be treated with contempt.

—The Montreal Gazette reports that "The applications for registration so far have not been so numerous as to indicate that a lively interest is being taken in the work. This, doubtless, is the result of a belief that no election is likely to be held for some time yet. While this appears to have a good ground, it is not safe always to rely on appearances. The last general election caught a good many who were entitled to vote without their names on the list, and it is not wise for them to run the risk of being again disfranchised.

—According to advices from Behring sea, more seals have this season resorted to the rookeries than for many years. Papers in the interests of the United States seal monopoly managed last year to create an impression on many minds that the pursuit of the seals in the open sea by Canadian vessels was pratically exterminating the valuable animal. This belief was partly responsible for the establishment of the close season. If, as is indicated will be the case, it turns out to have no foundation, the monopoly's case will have been anything but strengthened by its policy.

—Mr. O'Dwyer Grey, proprietor of the Freeman's Journal, announces his rejection of Mr. Parnell's leadership. Mr. Grey was one of the few men in the Nationalist ranks who were strong of themselves and who remained friendly to the Irish chief. His withdrawal will leave Mr. Parnell with a Parliamentary following made up almost entirely of individuals without means or strength outside of what their master gave them when he picked them out for election in the constituencies he once controlled, and a good many of them stick to their colors because the enemy will not take them over. The Montreal Gazette remarks that a prophet who a year ago would have predicted the present state of affairs in Ireland would have been looked on as a lunatic.

—The Quebec Mercury says rumors are afloat about grave charges being made as to the management of the provincial departments at Quebec, and hints that investigation may show a worse state of affairs there than prevails among the employes at Ottawa. The Montreal Gazette says that the Mercury is talking foolishness. The facts found out about the Lockwood swindle, the Pacaud blackmailing of contractors, the Table Rock job, the Polette library steal, and the other minor scandals, indicate that there is connected with the Government at Quebec, a gang of thieves, besides whom the Ottawa boodlers are as apprentices to master workmen. But investigation by the Legislature will show nothing. It has shown nothing in the past. The Quebec legislature is in the control of the Liberals.

—The speech of Lord Salisbury at the banquet of the Lord Mayor of London is remarkable for its tone of confidence, which is in strong contrast with the utterances of the Conservative press on the recent bye-election. The references to the condition of Ireland, to the education bill, and to the foreign powers were all characteristic of the Premier. He has given the plainest denial to the charge which the Radicals have lately been endeavoring to make against the Government of political sympathy with Germany and the Triple Alliance. The peaceful ideas of the great powers was the keynote of this part of the speech, while the statement that he hoped in a few weeks to welcome to England the fleet of the French republic, is a merciless retort to the ravings of the sensationalists who would have the world believe that the relations of Russia and France are a menace to the peace of Europe.

—In the Insurance Spectator (London, England), for July 15th, we find a discussion on the subject of "alcohol and longevity," based upon the figures of the United Kingdom Temperance and General Provident Institution of Great Britain, and extracted from several numbers of the well known periodical, the Lancet. A letter from a medical man to that journal enclosing the twenty-fifth yearly statement of the institution, finds, in its figures, proof that "the use of alcoholic liquors produces degeneration of the tissues and shortens life, and that the weight and conclusiveness of this test increase with every year." Here are the figures of the return:

	Expected claims.	Actual claims.
Temperance section.....	314	225
General section	382	389

"This shows 71·6 per cent in the temperance section, and 100·2 per cent. in the general, a difference of 28·6 per cent. in favor of the abstainers.

A correspondent of a London scientific journal records the finding of a pin in the yolk of a hen's egg. Both the yolk and the white were in places of a blue-black color. It is naturally asked how the pin came there, and whether foreign bodies have ever before been found enclosed in an egg.

THE DAIRY INTEREST.

Prof. John Robertson At New Perth.

PROF. JOHN ROBERTSON of the Dominion Dairy Experimental Farm, Ottawa, delivered a very practical and instructive lecture before the Three Rivers Dairymen's Association in the public school hall, on Friday evening, the 31st ult. The President occupied the chair and introduced the lecturer. Among those of the adjoining districts, we noticed Messrs. O. Gordon, P. J. D. Edmunds, G. F. Mellish, and many others whose names we did not secure.

The Professor began his lecture by asking the farmers to think more, and they would have less necessity for work. He thought a hard hand indicated a soft head. He wished to know which would be the more advantageous way of wintering a cow? by feeding her the product of three acres in hay or of one acre in fodder corn, particularly when the latter was less exhaustive to the soil.

The Professor also impressed upon the farmers the absolute necessity of concentrating their products in the form of butter, cheese, meat, etc., thereby retaining and adding to the fertility of the soil. This system had been adopted in Ontario and with the best results. There about 700 cheese factories are in daily operation and giving the utmost satisfaction to all concerned. The corner store keeper did not escape notice. He thought that in the majority of cases they were the vultures and the good wife's baskets of ill-prepared butter their natural prey. In regard to a cheese factory, he thought the milk of between 250 to 300 cows, owned by say 60 to 80 farmers, could be easily manufactured by two competent men. This factory could be kept running nearly six months, and would distribute among its patrons the tidy little sum of $12,000.

John Hamilton, Esq., then gave a brief account of the cheese movement in P. E. Island considered the failure of this important industry, was owing more to absentee ownership and control than to any other reason. He asked the farmers to take hold of this question and avail themselves of the liberal offer of the Dominion Government. They could easily afford to do this.

P. J. D. Edmunds, Esq., entirely agreed with what had been said, and offered to take shares in the company to be formed after August 20, if the report of the committee, appointed to ascertain the milk supply is favorable. After the usual vote of thanks to Professor Robertson and the chairman, the meeting closed.

An Islander Killed.

SAD FATE OF JOSEPH MOONEY—WAS HE MURDERED?

A FEW days ago, Mr. H. R. Mooney, of Peake's Station, received word that his son Joseph had been killed at Florens, near Sacramento, Cal., on the morning of the 5th July.

It appears, from what we can learn of the affair, that Mooney and a ranchman named Kayes or Casey, went to a party on the night of the 4th July. The party was kept up all night. There was some drinking going on. Mooney, however, was not taking anything, and declined several offers to drink. About three o'clock in the morning, Mooney and the ranchman left for home, passing in the neighborhood of the line of railway.

About four o'clock in the morning, as the train was coming along at a good speed, the driver noticed two objects prostrated on the track. He at once whistled "down brakes," but before the train could be brought to a stand-still half the cars had passed over the objects on the track. The objects proved to be Mooney and the ranchman. The ranchman, who was lying across the track was literally cut to pieces. Mooney, who was lying lengthwise, was not badly mutilated, and lived a few minutes after being picked up.

How the men came to be lying on the track is a mystery. Mooney was not drunk, and it is not likely a sober man, and a man used to railroading as he was, would deliberately lie down there and go to sleep. The supposition is that the men were first attacked and almost killed, and then placed upon the track in order that the train might finish the work and thus ward off suspicion. There was a bad wound on the back of Mooney's head, and another on the head of his companion. These wounds, it is said, were not such as would be made by the train passing over them.

In the ranchman's pocket was found a revolver with several chambers empty. Several hard-looking characters were observed looking in through the window at Mooney and his companion during the progress of the party. Perhaps these men followed the two from the house and attacked them. A desperate fight may have taken place, which ended in the killing of Mooney and his companion. This would account for the empty chambers in the ranchman's revolver.

Mooney, the only one who could explain matters, although alive when picked up, was not able to talk. Hence the sad affair must remain a mystery.

Joseph Mooney was by profession a telegraph operator, and was for a time in charge of a station out west. He was about twenty-two or twenty-three years of age, and is highly spoken of by those who knew him.

The information received is very meagre, and Mooney's father has written for further particulars.

CANADA'S INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION.—Arrangements have been completed with nearly all the railway and steamship companies for very low rates and special excursions during the time of the exhibition, to be held at St. John, N. B., Sept. 23rd to Oct. 3rd. The musical society of St John are making their arrangements for repeating the mammoth concert, which was given last year, on a much larger scale, and to be held in a separate building in order to avoid the crowding and noise which was a drawback of last year. Some of the leading soloists of the United States have been engaged for this concert. The exhibition association have just completed their arrangements for a series of baloon ascensions and parachute drops, in addition to the numerous other attractions which have been engaged.

Personal.

Rev. Mr. Deinstadt arrived from P. E. Island last night. He went up to-day to Petitcodiac where he will remain to-morrow and return Monday to take up his residence in Moncton.—[Moncton Transcript.

Northwest mounted policemen are sharp fellows. They can scent smuggled whiskey a mile off, says the Free Press, no matter how it is concealed. A citizen of Winnipeg thought he could fool them. He got five large trunks, filled them with kegs and bottles of whiskey, and padded them with straw to prevent them rattling. He checked the trunks to Moose Jaw and followed on the next train. The police no sooner spied the trunks than they became suspicious. They opened them, found the liquor, but said nothing until the Winnipegger came along next day. Then they placed him under arrest on a charge of smuggling liquor into the Territories, and he will have to stand his trial.
