Substandard Housing Remedy Being Sought

By JEAN MacISAAC
Guardian - Patriot Staff Writer

City recorder K.M. Martin is looking into the possibilities of strengthening the citys by-laws under the Health Control Act to remedy sub-standard housing in the city so that landlords will bring their houses up to prescribed health standards.

At this month's city council meeting, Councillor Dorothy Corrigan, chairman of the welfare committee reported on the committee's findings while visiting what she termed "disgraceful" places for people to live.

The councillors noted that although Charottetown has no control over this sort of thing, it could have some jurisdiction under the Health Control Act.

When councillor Corrigan asked whether it would be any use to meet with Hon. Henry Wedge, minister of welfare on the matter, she was told the city should strengthen its own by-laws.

She said yesterday that she has not been asked to meet with Mr. Wedge to explore the matter. According to city officials, there is no plan to ask the government to return to a system of rent control at present, contrary to what was announced in another paper Wednesday.

The city has known for years, she said that there is no Rent control Act. The absence of such an Act was noted at last week's council meeting, but it was also noted that the city has power in the health act and could declare houses unfit for habitation.

Coun. Allison Gillis then asked that more "teeth" be put into the Health Control Act, and if the city didn't have the power, it should get it.

The matter was left to the recorder to look into existing regulations. Coun. Corrigan said yesterday that Mr. Martin may have some information on this at the next council meeting.

Due to the lateness of the season, it was expected very little action could be taken on the report of the housing survey this winter, and the welfare committee, acting on the advice of the health officer, visited these homes about which the welfare administrators had been concerned for some time.

It was found that some people paid $30 to $45 a month for rent. When coal or oil expenses were added to this, the total came to $70 to $75 a month and the people were still cold, and did not have even reasonable conditions.

Coun. Corrigan emphasized yesterday that she w a s not talking about places where people paid $70 for an apartment, alone, for in these cases they can live in comfort.

POOR CONDITIONS

Residents of sub - standard houses cannot do anything for themselves, because if they drove a nail, the ceiling would fall down around them, the report continued.

The goal, she s a i d, is to have the health officer empowered to inform the landlords to bring houses up to health standards, and if they did not do so, have them close down the houses within a certain period.

GOV'T

from the federal premium on quality hogs.

Government research programs are slimmed down, with reductions of $2,300,000 in the National Research Council, $2,000,000 in Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, $1,900,000 in the Defence Research Board and $700,000 in the Fisheries Research Board.

SOME AREAS UNTOUCHED

But there are large areas where no reductions are indicated, including the $708,181,300 cost of carrying the public debt, statutory welfare payments, vocational training grants to the provinces and the $8,177,000 cost of operating Parliament itself.

One of the imponderables in forecasting w h a t the fiscal year's deficit will be is the factor of additional charges whose size isn't yet known.

These include the cost of the municipal winter works program, farm price supports, a CNR deficit—should one develop—and the cost of implementing proposals of the MacPherson royal commission on transportation.

In the April 10 budget Mr. Fleming forecast total spending for the year—excluding pension payments — at $6,525,000,000. Budgetary expenditures last fiscal year were $6,521,000,000—a year which produced a peacetime record deficit of $791,000,000.

Expenditures for the two years aren't strictly comparable since this year a big item of some $279,000,000 in payments to the p r o v i n c e s has been dropped under the new federal-provincial tax arrangement.

MANY ITEMS AFFECTED

Mr. Nowlan said that more than 300 individual spending items have been reduced in the revised estimates—and a small number increased "to reflect necessary adjustments in the cost of certain programs."

Some of the spending cuts had been announced earlier, including the sizable drop in the defence department's budget to $1,890,750,175 from $1,675,792,175, and the $5,000,000 chop in the parliamentary grant to the publicly-owned CBC which now will receive $82,371,500.

The $24,100,000 reduction in civilian employee payrolls, to a total of some $846,200,000, had been anticipated. The government has been laying off some temporary employees and leaving many civil service posts open as they become vacant.

There was another drop of some $9,700,000 in pay and allowances to the armed forces and RCMP to a total $572,500,000.

Mr. Nowlan said there are cuts averaging five per cent in the government's budget for travel costs, publications, advertising, office stationery and materials and supplies.

REPAIRING FUNDS CUT

Outlays to repair government buildings and equipment will be down about 10 per cent.

The government's construction p r o g r a m was heavily pruned.

Construction plans of the transport d e p a r t m e n t were chopped by $17,900,000 to $87,700,000. In the public works department they were cut by $18,600,000 to $80,000,000, in the northern affairs department by $8,100,000 to $28,608,000, in the defence department by $6,600,000 to $80,400,000 and in the agriculture department by $6,400,000 to $26,900,000.

The d e f e n c e department's budget for buying new equipment was reduced by $24,300,000 to $268,400,000 and that of the transport department by $6,400,000 to $10,400,000.

A grant to a special fund to f i n a n c e removal of railway level crossings was reduced by $4,200,000 to $5,833,000.

Earl Joseph Brennan is charged with manslaughter and the other man with c r i m i n a l negligence. Defence counsel is J. Watson MacNaught. Accused are both remanded in custody with bail set for Earl at $5,000 with two sureties of $2500 each. Bail for the other man is set at $2500 with two sureties of $1250 each.

The charges were laid following an investigation into t h e circumstances surrounding the death of Roy Hackett, N o r t h Cape.

The Magistrate stated he would defer sentence for a period of three months pending their behaviour, and after that, sentence would be continued to be deferred if behaviour was good.

Market Returns For Irish Moss

ALBERTON — Irish Moss is being purchased regularly at the normal price of fifteen cents per pound, James Shea, Waterford said last night. There was a temporary scare several weeks ago when the purchase was halted temporarily, and producers all along the shore were extremely worried.

Percy Morrissey, Sea Cow Pond, said recently that there wouldn't be a person living along the shore from North Cape to Tignish, if the moss business should fade out.

Mr. Morrissey recalled that he had been the first man to gather moss some 21 years ago when the industry started here. That was back in wartime and Dr. A.W.H. Needler of Halifax—he had previously been at the Ellerslie biological station—asked John Myrick, Tignish if he could supply 100 tons of product.

This has been the best year for gathering moss since that time, said the 72-year-old veteran who said the people of the area have come to depend on the moss to supplement the income they get from the lobster fishing.

Word along the shore is that increasing competition from N.B. moss gatherers is making the market more uncertain each year. One report said that the market had been flooded when buying stopped temporarily.

dure a foreign mission should follow to obtain a death certificate.

Zizka, meanwhile, had headed into New Jersey, in the black limousine b e l o n g i n g to the Czech mission. There he refused to halt when a New Jersey state trooper hailed him for speeding.

The diplomat tried to outrun New Jersey state troopers and was finally shot at. His car overturned and rolled down an embankment about three miles west of Easton, Pa. The car came to rest on its roof.

Cpl. John Uditis of the Pennsylvania state police, called by his car radio, joined in the chase and reached the scene m o m e n t s after Zizka's car crashed.

The driver—a stocky, brown-haired man of about 40—was inside, lying on the roof.

"The man was lying there on his stomach," said Uditis. "He had a cigarette in his left hand and his right hand was concealed from my view under his body."

Uditis said he twice ordered the man to bring out his right hand.

"He just kept smoking and kept his eyes trained on me," Uditis continued. "Upon my second order to bring out his hand empty it came out with a revolver in it. He pointed it at me and I fired."

Uditis said he hit the man in the left shoulder and then "I heard another shot in the car." m "I don't k n o w what happened," added the corporal.

Several hours later Milos Vejvoda of the Czech mission identified Zizka in a telephone call to St. Luke's Hospital in n e a r b y Bethlehem. And, in Washington, the state department confirmed the identity.

The department said the FBI was called into the case.

DIPLOMAT

Inside, the spokesman said, a note was found in which Zizka admitted the slaying and announced an intention to end his own life. The Czech mission said in a statement:

"According to all persons who have known them, the Zizkas' family life was happy and quiet and this tragic event can be explained only by a sudden mental breakdown."

Zizka was wounded critically after New Jersey and Pennsylvania state troopers pursued his black Cadillac—which had diplomatic licence plates—across the state line from New Jersey to Pennsylvania at speeds up to 110 m.p.h.

Zizka exchanged gunfire with troopers and may have finally turned his gun on himself. He was taken to a hospital with a bullet wound in the head, although troopers reported shooting him only in the shoulder.

The report of Mrs. Zizka's death brought police to the Czech UN mission headquarters. The report came from the U.S. mission at the UN.

Czech officials made no effort to interfere with the police investigation, despite the diplomatic immunity the mission headquarters enjoys.

WAS IN ACCIDENT

Police said that before Zizka left New York he had been involved in a traffic collision at 36th St. at 1st Ave. at 7:30 a.m. Thursday.

After the collision, a patrolman tried in vain to flag Zizka down. He drove and a police radio car set out in pursuit of him. In trying to avert a collision with the police car, Zizka crashed into another car at 92nd St. and York Ave.

He was seized there but released when he produced diplomatic credentials. However, at police headquarters, officials were angered by the incident and notified the office of Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the UN

Somewhat later, the U.S. mission asked police what procedure a foreign mission should follow to obtain a death certificate.
