wasted on an admirer where there is no promise. With some sacrifice I could send her away for the summer, but she rebels at leaving. Is my only cue to stand by and let them work it out?

WORRIED MOTHER

ANSWER: The only thing you can do is to stand by, but you need not stand by idly. Your first move should be to stop discussing your daughter's love affair with her. Opposition is not only the greatest matchmaker in the world, but the quickest. Let this affair ride. Let the boy come to see your daughter as often as he wishes. Be nice and casual to him. Just remember that time is your ally, and that when the boy goes off to college the chances are that the affair will fade painlessly out. Sending the girl off is a good idea if you can send her to some amusing place, because absence makes the heart grow fonder of someone else. Even if she resents leaving her sweetheart she will soon get interested in some other chap.

But I think you are worrying too much over your daughter's matrimonial prospects being blighted. If she were 25, the dilatory lover would be a tragedy, but at 17 he is only a pleasant filler-in of the time.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a married woman and have lived with my husband for many years. He is much older than I and is old and undemonstrative in his disposition. We have no children. I have made the acquaintance of several gentlemen who give me the love I crave. Do you think under the circumstances I am doing wrong?

S. M. C.

ANSWER: Because you want a thing that you do not possess gives you no right to take it unlawfully. You wouldn't think it right to steal a diamond pin out of a jewelry shop just because you had always longed for one and your husband wasn't able to give you one. You are acting disloyally and dishonestly toward your husband and violating your own moral code and you will never be at peace with your soul so long as you do so.

DOROTHY DIX cannot reply personally to readers, but will answer problems of general interest through her column.

Gordon Warns Coal Interests

TORONTO, March 23 —(CP) — Donald Gordon has warned Canadian coal interests that their product must be made more efficient or they would lose their Canadian National Railways market to a rival fuel—oil.

"It will be no use crying after the market is gone. They should be taking action now," the railways' president told a press conference.

Mr. Gordon said diesel engines now are saving the C.N.R. up to one-third of what it would cost to use coal, on certain jobs.

"I would like to see the coal people take more interest and push ahead with research," he said. "To my knowledge, none of our coal operators are doing any research toward the more efficient utilization of coal by the railways."

At present the C.N.R. consumes 7,000,000-8,000,000 tons of coal a year of which about one-third comes from Canadian mines.

Although diesels were much more economical and efficient, the C.N.R. would proceed cautiously in converting to the oil burners, Mr. Gordon indicated. He said the complete abolition of coal burners would have a "very serious impact" on Canada's coal producing areas.

The C.N.R. had been doing some experimenting of its own and "we believe there is a future for coal," he said. "We are not completely sold that dieselization is the whole answer."

But he made it clear the future of coal rests upon its becoming more competitive with oil.

Even when dried indoors... EVEN WITHOUT RINSING

Surf gives you Sweeter Washes

...whiter, brighter to look at!

...fresh-air-sweet to smell!

Surf contains a wonderful detergent which not only removes every last trace of dirt and grease, but of "dirty clothes" odour, too. Your wash is really sweet and clean—and it smells that way!

It's the best news since the washing machine was invented! Surf gets your clothes so deep-down SWEET and clean you can actually SMELL their freshness! They're as sweet as though they'd dried outdoors in the sunshine—even when you have to hang the wash indoors!

But Surf does even more than that. It can save you hours of labour because, with Surf, you don't have to rinse your clothes unless you want to!

Surf—the Surf that's now at your grocer's—has the magic power of grabbing and holding the dirt in the washwater, so when you wring out the water you actually wring the dirt out with it. Your wash is really clean. At the same time, Surf's special purifying ingredient takes out every last trace of "dirty clothes" odour!

But . . . there's even more to the story. When you don't rinse, Surf's purifying ingredient continues working in your clothes, to keep them sweeter . . . in the linen closet or bureau drawer! So, if you prefer to rinse, add a little Surf to the rinse water.

And remember—those rich, long-lasting Surf suds do 3 times the work of ordinary washday soaps, in the hardest water. They make short work of your grimiest, heaviest things, yet, they're safe for your sheerest stockings—your prettiest dresses . . . for baby's delicate things.

So get a couple of packages of Surf and try it next washday. It's especially developed for no-rinse washing. All the Surf your grocer now has is the amazing no-rinse Surf in the same familiar package.

"ORDINARY" CLEAN! Though you may think your wash is perfectly clean, a faint "musty" odour often betrays the fact that some remnants of dirt, grease or scum are still clinging to the fibres. Rinsing won't get rid of this . . . but Surf does!

SURF CLEAN! Even without rinsing Surf removes every last trace of dirt, grease (and scum) . . . every trace of odour, too! That's why it gets your clothes so white, so bright . . so soft . . . so wonderfully sweet to smell!
