

Republican Split On Foreign Policy Possible

(By Jack Bell)

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Dissatisfied Republican Senators may call on State Secretary Dulles soon to clarify the Eisenhower administration's attitude toward giving Communist China a seat in the United Nations.

Some allies of the U. S. already have indicated they will support Red China's plea for place at the UN security council table as part of the Communists' price for a settlement in Korea.

Republican senators unsatisfied and the administration's attitude somewhat up in the air when he told a press conference last week that he would not say at this time that Red China's admission to the UN should follow a Korean armistice.

An influential Republican senator who didn't want to be quoted by name told this reporter that unless the President and Dulles follow a course of opposing such a move actively and at every step the Republican party "will break wide open over foreign policy."

Given Approval To Tour Siberia

MOSCOW, (Reuters) — Four American citizens attached to the United States embassy here have been given permission to make a 3,000-mile tour of central Siberia, it was learned Saturday.

They are the first Americans to tour this area since ambassador Alan G. Kirk made a trip to Lake Balkhal three years ago.

The granting of facilities for the tour indicates that a general loosening of travel restrictions on foreign diplomats may be made.

The four are the assistant military attaché, Lt.-Col. Fred Yeager, the assistant naval attaché, John Duggar, and Lt.-Col. and Mrs. Martin Manhoff.

Boy Causes Power Break At Halifax

HALIFAX, (CP) — More than 120,000 residents of Halifax and Dartmouth were without power for half an hour Sunday night because of a short circuit caused when a young boy climbed on top of a sub-station circuit breaker.

Lance Grant, 14, was tossed to the ground by the force of the shock and was taken to hospital. His condition was reported critical.

Touching the circuit-breaker had the effect of causing a short circuit which automatically cuts off power from the city's main plant.

Everything electrical stopped — trolleys, street lights and domestic and commercial service.

The sub-station in the city's north end is surrounded by an eight-foot wire fence.

The circuit-breaker was on the Nova Scotia Light and Power Company's 22,000-volt main transmission system.

Observatory Inlet in the Cassiar district of British Columbia was so named by Captain Vancouver in 1793.

WASHINGTON, (AP) — President Eisenhower has allocated $250,000 in disaster relief for Waco, Texas, where more than 100 persons were killed in a tornado last week.

Answering a request for assistance from Governor Allan Shivers of Texas, the president declared the city of Waco a major disaster area and directed the civil defense administration to take charge of federal relief activities in conjunction with state and local agencies.

Beyond The Night

In memory's lane there shall remain The imprints of the valored past. Of those we love here and above In memories that shall always last.

While minds recall things great and small From infancy to honored age, Through brain cells scored in urns well stored, In records of the storied page.

Tomorrow's fears make today's tears, Or happy thoughts of yesteryears, Like myrrh or gall that can enthral, Or plague us to the resting biers.

This Father's Day and Mother's Day Inspire us to implore and pray, That we shall meet in that Realm Beyond the Night on Judgment Day.

—Peter A. Reilly.

there was a path and a village where men went out to fish and to dive for pearl shell. But that is very old — before my mother's mother was born. Some bad things happened to the village, and all the people killed, and now there is no village and no path. Only trees.

"What was the bad thing?" she asked curiously.

"I don't know," she confessed. "It was some sort of sickness, and they all died." She paused, and then added:

"But if you go there, Turlo, I will go with you. It is a new thing, and I always like to see new things."

This was not at all what he wanted, and he endeavored to nip the idea in the bud.

"I don't think you'd like it," he told her. "It'll be hard going, and you'd be tired out by the time we get there."

"Perhaps I will be tired, but I will still go," she said calmly. "It is a good thing that I should know all the island. We will go tomorrow, early in the morning, and I will bring a little bag of food."

He made a further attempt to dissuade her, but she was placidly determined to accompany him, and short of telling her plainly that he did not want her, he could see no means of preventing her from carrying out her intention. And that he did not care to do, for in the course of the last week he had come to feel a queer fondness for her, as the only human being on the island with whom he was on terms of anything approaching friendship.

"Well, we'll have to see about it," he pronounced ambiguously, and she departed with a grave nod.

He watched her as she walked past the storehouse to Strang's bungalow, unconsciously admiring the supple grace of her erect carriage. It occurred to him that she would probably stand the rough journey quite as well as he would himself, but he felt sorry that he had asked her about it at all. However, Strang would probably turn upon the idea of her accompanying him if he had any jurisdiction over her at all, and he made up his mind to mention the matter to the trader that night.

Island Baptists Meet At Tryon

On Tuesday, May 12th the P. E. I. Baptist district meeting was held at Tryon Church, with a large delegation of representatives in attendance. Presiding over the day-long sessions was District Chairman Rev. W. G. Killam of Tryon, assisted by Clerk Rev. C. A. Britten of Central Bequete. After prayer Rev. W. A. Harper of Summerside led a devotional service and spoke on the text, "Trust in the Lord and do good."

The business session began with the Layman's Report given by Rev. C. A. Britten. Rev. W. G. Killam also gave a statement concerning the financial needs of Acadia, Dr. W. C. Machum, the general secretary of the Maritime Convention, outlined the five-year plan for a New Crusade which stressed promotion toward enlarged membership, Sunday School enrollment, missionary concern and education, and the stewardship of time, treasure and talents.

The afternoon meeting was presided over by the acting-chairman of the Island Missionary Societies, Mrs. T. G. Ives of Charlottetown, assisted by Island secretary Mrs. Jack MacLeod of Summerside. The devotional service was led by the Tryon Missionary Society, with Mrs. W. G. Killam in charge. Others taking part were Mrs. Raymond Wood of Tryon and Mrs. Leonard Caseley of Westmoreland, with Mrs. Lloyd Rogerson as organist. A duet by Mrs. Wood and Mrs. George Roblee was also a part of the worship.

The roll call showed a good representation of the Island groups. The Baby Band report was given by the superintendent, Mrs. A. K. MacPhee of Charlottetown. The new Mission Band superintendent, Mrs. E. J. Barrass of Summerside, gave an account of her work and followed it with a flannelgraph demonstration, after which Misses June Johnston and Loraine Lead of the Tryon Mission Band sang a duet. The business session closed with the financial report given by Mrs. Donald MacNeill of Summerside.

The speaker for the Missionary rally was Dr. Zella Clark of Charlottetown who had spent several fruitful years of service as a medical missionary in India and is now in retirement. Dr. Clark struck an encouraging note, but also pointed out the urgent needs that must still be met. The speaker stressed the new religious temper of India which is now enthusiastically asking for more of the Gospel. Several members led in prayer as the meeting closed. Dr. W. C. Machum then spoke briefly before the afternoon session ended.

The final meeting for the day began with a hymn-sing led by Mr. Hartley Condon of Charlottetown. In the devotional service that followed, Mrs. Donald MacClare of East Point sang a solo, Lic. Howard Blois of Montague read the lesson, and Rev. J. D. Davison of Charlottetown led in prayer. The choir also contributed to the worship.

A few remarks concerning the convention's five-year crusade were made by Dr. W. C. Machum as he stressed the needs of personal evangelism, of teaching and of individual and church stewardship. The district's resolutions report was presented by Mr. Hartley Condon who expressed sincere thanks to the Tryon Church, called for total abstinence from intoxicating liquors, would have all Island Baptists endorse the convention's request for a 10% increase of denominational funds, asked that all give wholehearted support to the new Crusade, and thanked those who had provided music for the meetings. All these resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Rev. Donald MacClare of the East Point Church preached the district sermon. He spoke of the forthcoming coronation of the Queen as "defender of the faith" and likened Christians to the same responsibility. Man's salvation being by faith and not by works, Mr. MacClare urged that the convention's four-fold program be "defended" in that spirit. He stressed that Christianity is wrapped up in the person of Christ.

Pilot Decided To Fly Despite Storm Warning

CALCUTTA, (Reuters) — The pilot of the British Comet jetliner which crashed May 2 decided "he would fly in spite of a storm warning," the official inquiry was told here.

The big jet crashed with the loss of 43 lives in one of the severest storms in the area in recent years.

The station officer for the British Overseas Airways Corporation here, Edward Wheeler, said he gave the Comet captain warning about the storm. The captain told him he had had talks with the officer on duty and would fly in spite of the storm warning.

Wheeler said no mandatory instructions were given by BOAC about weather during an actual flight. It was left to the pilot's discretion.

Ground crew experts testified the plane was mechanically perfect in every way when it took off.

The inquiry was adjourned Saturday until Monday.

KIDNEY ACIDS Rob your Rest..

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—blame it on "nerves"—when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons and excess acids from the blood. If they fail and impurities stay in the system—disturbed rest often follows. If you don't rest well get and use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's help the kidneys so that you can rest better—and feel better.

Urges Canadians Attempt To Understand Russia

MONTREAL, (CP) — Dr. Sidney Smith, president of the University of Toronto, says that for the sake of future generations it would be best for Canadians to try to understand Russia.

In an address prepared for delivery to the Royal Empire Society, Dr. Smith said:

"We should, in the name of Christian decency, go half-way in meeting every overture of friendship. We must work out a modus vivendi with the Soviet Union, and we should not expect her to conform to our ideas of how she should run her own affairs, more than we should expect disloyalty from her."

Russia has had a centralized authoritarian government since the 14th century and it was reasonable to expect any other form of government there in the near future.

Dr. Smith said the outstanding example of far-sighted statesmanship today was the Colombo Plan.

PROCLAMATION BEAUTIFICATION WEEK

We, the Mayor and Corporation of the City of Charlottetown, hereby proclaim the week beginning Monday, May 18th, as Civic Beautification Week, and, in doing so, we urge upon all our citizens to make their premises look as neat, tidy and beautiful as they can.

If your house is in need of paint now is the time to give it a coat. Even if you cannot paint your whole house at least paint the window casings, doors, and trimmings to the extent that your ability and nature of your property will permit. We are endeavouring to keep our streets clean; please help by keeping your sidewalk clear of litter and papers. Tell your children about this and get them to help too—above all, never to drop papers or litter on the streets or sidewalks but put them in the receptacles provided for this purpose. Tell them, too, never to injure or destroy their own or any one else's flowers or shrubs. As you can see, we are beautifying our squares and public buildings. Let's all get together and put this over!
