

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

NOVEMBER 10, 1890.

They Want Taxation!

The Pioneer says: "The new Commissioner of Public Works [Lands] is evidently inaugurating a vigorous policy in reference to those purchasers from the Government whose term of credit has expired and who are in arrears with their instalments. The last issue of the Royal Gazette contains a notice to over one thousand of those unfortunate tenants scattered over thirty townships on this Island that if the arrears due by them to the Government are not paid within three months, proceedings will be taken to recover the amount due."

The Pioneer thereupon proceeds to work up a feeling against the Commissioner. Is the Commissioner, then, to be censured, punished,—because he is doing his duty? The Pioneer declares that he is endeavoring to fill "the gap in the public revenue," and implies that this is not right or commendable. Not right to collect the debts due the Government rather than tax the people at large! The man who has been too lazy or careless in the long course of from ten to twenty or thirty years, is, according to the Pioneer, to have his land for nothing; the man who has been industrious and honest, and paid for his land, is to be taxed to "fill the gap in the revenue" rather than have his shiftless neighbor threatened with a process! The thrifty farmer is to pay for his land and pay the tax, too; the thriftless farmer is to have the use of his holding for nothing. This is the grit idea of justice. The grits were working on the same principle when they sent spies into the country to find out who had most improved his farm, in order that a heavier tax might be imposed upon him!

It is unfortunate, we admit, that there should have been a succession of unusual storms this year, and that Hitt, Butterworth and Sherman, and other Unrestricted Reciprocityites—friends and fellow-workers with the Grits of Canada—should have passed the McKinley Tariff. It is unfortunate that the Commissioner finds it to be his duty to put on the screws this year. We hope that care will be taken not to harass unduly anyone who has a large family, or is suffering illness, or has been burnt out. But it ought to be remembered that we have had a long series of fairly good years, and that if a farmer had the will to pay his debt to the Government he could surely, in the course of from ten to twenty seasons, have found the way.

United States Elections.

A GLANCE at the following table will show how the two parties stood in the House of Representatives, and how they will stand when Congress is again convened:—

Table with 3 columns: State, Fifty-second Congress, Fifty-first Congress. Lists states from Alabama to Wyoming with corresponding seat counts.

The following table shows how the different sections of the union voted in the late election:—

—The Patriot draws a gloomy picture of the political situation in the Northwest Territories, and says: "The Dominion Government is responsible for the whole muddle."

Yes; of course. If it hadn't been for the Dominion Government, there would have been no people and no politicians in the Northwest to make a muddle.

The Abegweits' Trip.

THE Abegweits returned from their trip to Halifax on Saturday evening, all in good health and sound in body, only excepting for a few scratches and bruises, the inevitable result of such hard football as they had during the week. In Halifax they put up at the Queen Hotel, which was on the time being the rendezvous of all the football players of the city. On Thanksgiving day a large crowd assembled on the Wanderers' grounds to witness the struggle for supremacy. Some of those there, perhaps, were like the naval lieutenant who, shortly before the arrival of the Abegweits in Halifax, asked a Wanderer, "Can you tell me if those Abegweits are really Indians?" The Abegweits and Wanderers met before in 1887, in Pictou, in a game which, although slightly in favor of the Abegweits, resulted in a draw; and one of the chief objects of last week's trip was to settle the undecided question of 1887. How it was settled the readers of THE EXAMINER already know from the reports of the Halifax papers, which have been copied into THE EXAMINER. As the names of the team were not there reported correctly, we here give the correct list:

- Back—J. Sullivan. Half backs—Percy Macdonald, D. H. Robinson (captain), A. B. Macdonald. Quarter backs—Dr. G. D. Johnson, J. Rundle. Forwards—A. H. McNeil, Hubert McDonald, Cyrus McKinnon, John Ross, J. J. McDonald, F. W. L. Moore, John Wheat, Jos. Gillis, John McDonald.

As all readers of THE EXAMINER know, the game resulted in a magnificent victory for the Abegweits, by a score of 4 to 0. Hubert McDonald was the terror of the Wanderers in the line up. Several times he burst through their line, only to be checked by the backs. But he was not to be stopped every time, for once he got the ball a few feet from the touch line, about thirty-five yards from the Wanderers' goal line, and after a most brilliant dash through the Wanderers' forwards and backs, ran within six inches of touch, directly behind the Wanderers' goal. This was soon converted into a goal by a kick from Moore. Robinson made a beautiful drop at goal shortly after, which missed the goal just by about six inches. There was great cheering for the Abegweits this half.

In the evening the Abegweits attended the Academy of Music as the guests of the Wanderers. The next day's game was with the Dalhousie team. The Abegweits have twice before met the College boys, viz., in Pictou, in 1887, and in Charlottetown, in 1888, and on both occasions the game resulted in a draw. Friday's game was not more decisive. The College team won the toss and chose the goal that would give them the wind. In the first half the Abegweits several times scrambled the ball down near the Dalhousie twenty-five yard line, only to have it returned by a vigorous punt from McKinnon, the Dalhousie half-back. Sullivan did good work in returning the ball and the Abegweits quarter back play could not be excelled. Once Rundle had the ball almost over the Dalhousie goal line, but was called back by the referee. In the first half the Abegweits roused once. This was the only rouse in the game. In the second half the Abegweits were kept pretty much on the defensive. The scrimmages were the hottest the "Abes" had ever been in. Both the Abegweits quarters were injured and rendered incapable of any offensive play. But the half backs all did good work and every attempt of the Dalhousies to carry the ball over the line was frustrated. The excitement and cheering were tremendous. Once Percy Macdonald, by a fine run, succeeded in carrying the ball well down the field, but it soon came back to within the Abegweits twenty-five, where it remained for the rest of the game. The game thus resulted in a draw, with a slight advantage to the Collegians, inasmuch as the Abegweits were on the defensive during the second half, and had roused once. In the evening the Abegweits were the guests of the College boys at a dinner in the Queen. Everything went off very enjoyable, and by all the hope was expressed that the next merry meeting would not be at a too distant date.

Western Notes.

(From the Pioneer.)

Potatoes were selling here on Saturday at 21 cents—an advance of one cent since Thursday.

The Presbytery of P. E. Island meets in the Presbyterian Church here on Wednesday next, the 12th inst., at 11 a. m.

On Saturday, the 1st inst., the M. A. Starr took over to Point du Chens seventeen carloads of freight, probably the largest amount of freight taken away at one time by any of the Island boats.

On Thursday morning Messrs. Avar & Drummond shipped 400 sheep and lambs on board the St. Lawrence, and on the following morning Mr. John H. Henry shipped 410 for the United States. On the same days twelve horses were sent across, six of which belonged to Mr. Edward Kinsman.

An event which has been the frequent topic of conversation for some time past occurred on the evening of Wednesday last, viz., the nuptials of Mr. George A. Godkin, jeweler of this town, and Miss Sadie M., daughter of W. H. Brown, Esq., of St. Eleanor's. The marriage knot was tied by the Rev. Henry Dickie, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride.

Rev. D. J. Gregory McDonald held a meeting of the leading men of his congregation in the vestry of St. Paul's Church here on Thursday evening, at which the subject of temperance was discussed. It is the intention of Rev. Mr. Macdonald to establish a branch League of the Cross in this community, a society which was organized by Cardinal Manning in England. Father Gregory intends preaching upon the subject of temperance on Sunday, the 16th inst., when this matter will be brought before the congregation. We also learn that the pastors of Miscouche and Kinkora intend establishing similar societies in their congregations at an early day.

Boston Markets.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.

EGGS.—The market is still ruling firm for strictly choice fresh-laid, but the supply of held stock is large and increasing. Strictly choice fresh-laid Eastern are in light supply and some marks bringing 28c. Good Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and P. E. Island steady at 26c.

POTATOES.—Receipts continue quite liberal, but so far have met with a very ready sale, and there has been a further advance in prices during the week of 5 and 10 cents per bushel. For the past day or two the best Eastern Hebrons have been selling at 85c, with Rose at 75 and 80 cents as to quality. Burbanks and Chenangoes in moderate supply and firm at 80c. P. E. Island Chenangoes, per bushel, 80c. Maine Rose and Hebrons, per barrel, $2.25 to $2.50; Nova Scotia and New Brunswick Rose and Hebrons, per barrel, $2.25 and $2.50. At the close trade is more quiet and the feeling is that prices have reached top for the present at least.

Couldn't Fool the Boy.

Mr. J. S. Mayo, the well-known oil dealer, arrived from New Brunswick the other day, and told of an incident that took place recently on board the C. P. R. train from St. John. Amongst the first-class passengers was a burly-looking Prince Edward Islander, who took particular delight in displaying his wealth in the shape of several ten dollar bills, and teasing the newboy on the train. When within a few miles of McAdam Junction the man in question purchased a prize package for a quarter, and handing a $10 bill of the Confederate States of America to the boy, promptly asked for the change. The news agent quickly put the bill in his pocket, and said: "See here, mister, as soon as we arrive at McAdam Junction you will be arrested for endeavoring to pass worthless money, and this is not your first attempt." "Mister" wilted in a moment, and begged so hard that the boy decided not to prosecute, but the Prince Edward Islander soon left the train. —Quebec Chronicle.

[Had the "alleged" Islander been in Quebec he would not have much difficulty in passing the note in question. That province is somewhat celebrated for its "out of date" currency.]

The Young Memorial.

SIR,—I observe that the fund towards the erection of a monument to the memory of J. Fred. Young (who recently lost his life at St. John, N. B., while striving to recover a drowning boy), now amounts to upwards of $1,500. Would it not be well for THE EXAMINER to open a list towards the object, especially as the hero was a native of this city? BRAVEY.

Nov. 10. [THE EXAMINER will gladly receive, acknowledge, and forward amounts left at this office for the purpose indicated by its esteemed correspondent.]
