MOUNT STEWART NOTES.

The farmers of this locality are nearly all through with their harvest. They report the oat crop fair, but the wheat crop is a failure with most of them.

Our school is progressing favorably under the guidance of our distinguished teacher, Mr. J. C. McDonald.

We are sorry to learn that Miss Blanche Coffin is suffering from an attack of typhoid fever; but she is rapidly recovering, thanks to our noted and skilled physician, Dr. Walsh.

Mr. J. J. Dunn is about starting a travelling butcher shop in opposition to H. D. Coffin. Success to the enterprising gentlemen.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald McNeill are the guests of Mr. Eneas McDonald, Mrs. MacNeill's uncle. They have recently arrived from Boston.

The roads in this part of the country are utterly impassable. Deep ruts and trenches are prevalent throughout, and people who are travelling after nightfall are in imminent danger of being thrown from their vehicles and sustaining severe injuries. We may now ask are the people of the country to blame for having such roads? We all answer, no. Who, then, is to blame? The question is simple and easily answered. When Peters, the late Premier, and Cumiskey, his colleague, were returned they promised to put the country "up in G." Now we find it away down to B flat—excuse the musical terms. It is now the people—Liberal people I mean—are getting their eyes opened, and no wonder. If some more men like the late Premier would make promises and not fulfil them, then take a sneak to a foreign clime, we would have a clear country in the near future. As for doing good to the country, they cannot do, nor can we expect, any good while a tyrannical Government prevails. Let us hope that at the next election all honest men will cast their votes for the Conservative party, so that peace, happiness and prosperity will reign throughout the country.

APPEAL TO CLERGYMEN

Of All Denominations in All the Province.

The Provincial Temperance Alliance, in view of the tremendous crisis which has arrived in the history of Canada, and for the sake of fallen humanity, whom our churches desire to rescue, earnestly requests all clergymen to do their utmost on the coming Sabbath, 25th inst., to awaken their hearers to the necessity of using every means in their power from that date until the 29th to roll up an overwhelming majority for prohibition. The liquor men are at work.

The future is uncertain, but if you keep your blood pure with Hood's Sarsaparilla you may be sure of good health.

Our boot and shoe department contains many bargains. See the gent's shoe we offer at $3; equal to any $3.50 shoe ever sold. at the Model Store, R H Ramsay & Co.

ISLANDS.—There are 800 Islands around Scotland, of which 182 are inhabited. They lie mostly on the west coast. The Orkneys (29) inhabited and Shetland (28) inhabited stretch away to the north—north east Shetland is famous for its sheep and its wool we have imported real Shetland wool underwear for men, also Ayrshire wool blankets direct from the Land of Burns.—Paton & Co. Have also on hand. Hand knit undrinkable wool underwear, all styles. Those in want of genuine Scotch made goods will do well to visit and purchase their winter supply before the stock gets broken. 221 d3 w —A movement that promises to greatly lessen the drinking habits of the people of the United States began as a joke in Chicago some weeks ago. It is the formation of a non-treating club. Commercial travellers, who perhaps, more than any other class of men, understand the evil of the treating system, have taken the joke in earnest, and are forming clubs in every city in the States.

MEETING AT YORK.

A very enthusiastic meeting was held at Little York last night to discuss the prohibition question. The beautiful little hall was crowded with ladies and gentlemen, evidently interested in the coming plebiscite.

The Rev. R. Opie presided with his usual dignity, and Mrs. Opie and a choice choir rendered some excellent music.

The first speaker was Premier Farquharson, who delivered a very racy and interesting address, showing the importance of the movement and need for a full vote on the question.

D. A. McKinnon, M. L. A., was the next speaker, and dealt with the common sense and the financial sides of the question.

The next speaker was the Rev. W. J. Kirby, of Charlottetown, who dealt with the three questions (1) Why am I in this fight for prohibition? (2) Why are rum-sellers in the liquor business? (3) Why are church members in this business? Each point was illustrated and evidently enjoyed by the congregation.

After a few questions had been asked by members of the audience, the meeting closed with the National Anthem.

The prospects are for a full vote for prohibition in this section, and there are not likely to be many who vote "no," or who stay at home on the 29th.

A VALUABLE STAMP.—A Canadian postage stamp, valued at seven pence half-penny, Halifax currency, or sixpence sterling, sold by auction in London and brought £9, or three hundred and sixty times its negotiable value. This stamp became obsolete in 1857.

NOVA SCOTIA GOLD.—Miner T. Foster brought up a fine brick last week. It weighed 170 ounces and was worth $3,400. Another clean-up is being made and the total returns for the month promise to be larger than ever.—Halifax Herald.

THE CHIASSON CASE.—A Chatham despatch says: In the Chiasson vs. the Walls' Estate case, instead of Chiasson getting the $5,000 claimed, the verdict was rendered yesterday, in the Newcastle Court of $1,500 advanced, also security on $11,000 mortgage with $30 cash, also advanced for the Walls' estate.

CAUGHT A SHARK.—Mr. Oscar Nickerson caught an immense shark in his net at Mud Island on Friday last, measuring over 16 feet in length and estimated to weigh nearly half a ton. The huge fish had rolled himself up in the twine—a trick of the species when hampered by a net—and was dead when found in the morning.—Goast Guard.

SCOTT ACT.—Before Stipendiary Magistrate Blanchard at Georgetown yesterday James J. Campbell, of Cardigan, was fined $50 and costs for violating the Scott Act. The two cases against John G. Springgeour and one against Daniel Skinner were adjourned for one week. The summons against Elizabeth Campbell was dismissed.

A NEWSPAPER CHANGE.—The Quebec Morning Chronicle has been sold to a syndicate for the sum of ten thousand dollars. It is reported that Mr. Wallis, of Toronto, is to be made general manager, and Trevor Foote, son of the late editor and who is financially interested in the paper, is to hold a responsible position in the counting room. The politics of the paper will be conservative.

PLATE GLASS.—The first pane of bent plate glass ever placed in a store window in Charlottetown has been successfully placed in Johnson & Johnson's new store in the Prowse Block by R. B. Norton & Co. The pane is large and fits like a glove. This firm have also supplied the rest of the glass for the building and have secured the contract for all the glass in the new Roman Catholic Church at Lot 65. This makes the seventh large order that the firm has secured this summer.

CLERGYMAN REMEMBERED.—The Rev. J. R. A. Macdonald, of St. Teresa's, was on Tuesday evening presented with addresses from the Holy Family and Children of Mary. Accompanying the addresses were a writing desk and several pieces of furniture. The rev. gentleman made a fitting acknowledgment. Previous to his departure from Charlottetown Father Ignatius was spiritual director of these societies and the beautiful and useful gifts and kind addresses tell the story of his popularity.

Things to Make a Note of.
