FOUR ABREAST.—About sixty fishing schooners have been anchored in Souris harbor since Friday last. Along both sides of the railway wharf they are tied up four and five abreast. His reward was 65 barrels of mackerel, caught in a few hours—the biggest catch of the season.

COLORADO AND CALIFORNIA.

The Rev. A. W. Nicholson was greeted with a very intelligent audience in the Upper Methodist Church last night, and held them with great attention for about an hour as he described the places and scenery in his four years' tramp abroad.

The choir opened the proceedings with an excellent anthem rendered in their usual good style, under the efficient leadership of Miss Ducharme, the organist of the church. Mayor Dawson acted as chairman and introduced the lecturer in a neat speech dealing with his acquaintance with the Rev. Mr. Daniel, 36 years ago in this city and surrounding country appointments. He told it an honor to preside on this occasion. The lecturer then proceeded to answer questions which had been repeatedly asked of him since his return home.

He showed first how he became a "tramp" and attributed it to the fact that he was of mariner stock having travelled a good bit on the sea himself. Then he described the trip over the railways, picturing the scenery until you almost felt that you were there. His graphic and eloquent description of the thunder storms in the mountains, and the cloud bursts at their destructive influence, flooding streets until the water on the principal street of one of the largest cities was several feet deep and a row boat could have been floated along—was most intensely interesting and captivating. The audience seemed fairly spell-bound.

It is difficult to choose out of so much that is good the most effective parts; suffice it to say the whole lecture was grand and sublime, in the highest sense of the word. Few lecturers have the power of describing in such chaste and magnificent language that which he himself sees. In which he makes the audience see themselves as the lecturer of last night, J. T. Melish Esq., moved and J. E. Welch seconded a vote of thanks to the Rev. gentleman, and this most entertaining lecture came to a too early termination by the choir singing the National Anthem.

TIGISH REBIVIVAS.

The New Work Rapidly and Accurately Described by an Esteemed Contributor of The Examiner.

Tigish is rising rapidly and splendidly from its ashes. Already the black locations of the destroyed buildings, in most cases, are converted into sites of better edifices than before. Besides, there is new ground broken. The railway is building a new agent's dwelling and office combined; and Dr. S. Murphy and Dorion have selected new sites in better locations than the live there. J. Albert Brennan has his new store well under way—almost ready for habitation. The Messrs. Myrick & Co. have erected large if not very beautiful sheds in which they are now doing business but which when their permanent buildings are raised will serve as warehouses and sheds. Charles Dalton, Esq., has a nice neat cottage about ready for occupation a new drug store built on the site of the old one. L'Amable Bernard will do business in a splendid store and workshop on the corner of the two principal streets. His store is a well finished and well designed one within and without and in its upstairs portion he is fitting up a cosy and convenient C. M. B. A. Hall. Mr. Garruthers, Mrs. Weeks and Mrs. Walsh have nice dwellings completed. John J. McLellan's new store and dwelling occupies the old site and looks well.

At Peter Kinch's, whence the fire originated, a long string of out-buildings and a comfortable new residence have sprung up, phoenix-like, from the sad ashes of the old establishment. Capt. Frank has not yet commenced to build a new post-office, but enjoys well equipped quarters in Lawrence Perry's store on Water street, where he is ready to greet you as smilingly as a just initiated Benedict. The worthy and respected M. P. Mr. Hackett, just home from his parliamentary labors, has taken rooms at the hotel. His is a severe loss, and he has not quite made up his mind as to building. Mr. McElroy is at work on a large sample room next to L'Impartial office, which he will operate in connection with Bellevue Hotel, of which he is the general proprietor. Mr. Cahill, the energetic and esteemed "Phil," has purchased a new house from Mr. L. Perry on the outskirts of the village, and is at work putting it in order. We regret that there is no attempt being made to replace the perfect little hostelry so worthily presided over in the past by the Misses McKenna. But their turn may soon come.

There may be other enterprises which we did not notice in our hurried glance; but those are the principal ones, and sufficiently demonstrate what is generally claimed, that for right down energy, pluck and progressiveness you must go West. Such a scene of activity—such hammering, and sawing, and hoisting and digging we have not seen east of Chicago. And the general cure steps around regularly to every centre of action, his imposing presence and hearty word of encouragement inspiring all. As he is a man of means, it is whispered about that the sinews of war have come, in a number of cases at least, from his well-filled coffers. Certainly no better use of money could be made than in assisting the unfortunate to build comfortable homes. When housed this time, the citizens of Tigish will be better than ever, and we congratulate them most sincerely on their good taste in building, their courage and determination. Such men are model Canadian citizens, and no "pusillanimous flock" Schurman, Lefurgy & Co. have the greater number of the contracts, including Dr. Murphy's fine house and the railway buildings.

LIGHT LEAN PORK WANTED.

The following letter is in line with the advice that THE EXAMINER has repeatedly tendered its readers:

DEAR SIR,—If you are interested in the farmers of your section growing hogs to suit the market requirements, we wish you would bring to their attention a few suggestions regarding the most desirable class of hogs.

While a few years ago the demand was almost entirely for heavy fat pork, a complete change has come about. The demand is now for light fleshy meat. The only call for heavy fat pork is from the lumber camps, and then the American heavy fat plate beef is fast displacing fat pork. What the market requires now is firm meat from 110 to 180 lbs., well streaked with lean. The market is not simply for a hog of light weight. If the meat is not firm and fleshy, containing a large proportion of lean, but is a mass of fat, the log of light weight is as unproductive as one of 300 lbs. or 400 lbs.

To produce well fed lean meat from hogs of 110 to 180 lbs. at six months of age should be the aim of every farmer. The most desirable breeds of hogs for the purpose are the improved Yorkshires and Danworths, while the best adapted for producing lean meat are east, lard, leary, peas, beans, shorts and skinned milk.

Yours truly, B. A. M. HATTEBERY.

Y. M. L. A.

The annual meeting of the Y. M. L. A. of St. James' church was held last night for the election of officers and transaction of business. The treasurer reported that the loan some sum of $235.85 was the proceeds of last year's course. The officers for the ensuing year are as follows:—

Capt. Stewart, Pres. Prof. Shaw, Vice Pres. Charles B. Perkins, Secy. D. R. McLennan, Treas.

Executive Com.—Fred McLean, chairman; A. E. Morrison, W. A. Stewart, J. Melonis, Sydney McLeod.

In connection with the regular course a literary and debating society was organized to meet every Tuesday night, first meeting to take place on the 27th inst., subject, Silver vs. Gold. Season tickets have been reduced to 75c. A cordial invitation is extended to the voycees and of Charlottetown. Chas. B. Perkins, Secy.

The sale of the household furniture of the estate of the late John Jury will take place at the residence of the late Mrs. John Jury, Grafton Street, on Thursday next, 22nd inst., at 11 o'clock a. m.

Boys are revolutionizing affairs in Charlottetown. I saw one of the late Lady Warwick and Lady Forbes were seen riding home from a dinner party not far from Warwick castle, looking very graceful in their evening gowns. In the western Highlands the most picturesque and romantic scenery is sported with bicycles and their riders. An enthusiast was gazing at a waterfall, only to turn around and see four cyclists cismunt and prepare to boil water, make tea and set out a lunch.
