NIGHT SCENE IN A BOARDING HOUSE.

A lady, whose husband is in California, Calcutta, or Chicago, suddenly awakened from her sleep the other morning about 2 o'clock, and springing from her bed, dashed out of the room, en dishabille, screaming at the top of her voice, "Murder! help! murder! man in my room!" etc., etc. Under the circumstances this was quite natural, inasmuch as more than one mistake of this kind had happened in this house recently. Now it happened that no less than three husbands were absent when they should have been there, and consequently there was more or less wonder, mixed up with a species of apprehension, on the part of the wives, each one wondering whether it was her husband who had thus forgotten himself or the room.

"Oh, come quickly," shouted the terrified female, holding on to the outside door knob; "I've got him in."

"If it's my Josey," said another disconsolate, "I'll learn him better. Confound these night suppers; now he's been at one of them and has mistaken the room and there I've been alone all night."

"Has he got whiskers," anxiously asked the wife, upon reaching the landing on the upper floor.

"Yes ma'am, great big, bushy whiskers, laying right alongside of my cheek when I awoke. Dear me, if my Alexander was here, he'd learn him better, I'll warrent you."

"Joseph, Joseph, Josey!" shouted the wife at the door.

No answer came; not even a grunt, incident to inebriation.

"May be he has jumped out of the window," suggested the four or five females all at once, who made a splendid group of long white drapery.

"Here—help! bring a light—bring a light," shouted several of the females.

Presently a light was brought, and several of the male boarders appeared, all armed to give the thief or robber such treatment as he had justly earned for himself.

The door was opened, and in rushed the valiant squad, and sure enough the fellow was still in bed, with the top of his head just peeping above the sheet.

"Come out of here, you scoundrel!" said one of the men, at the same time grasping him by the hair.

The tableau was striking, interesting and graphic.

The resolute boarder almost fell from the impetus he had given himself, for, instead of jerking out a man, it was nothing more than a "frizzed chignon," which the lovely occupant of the bed had forgotten to take off when she retired for the night. It had been detached in her sleep, and grazing her cheek, awakened her. The alarm, of course, was quite natural. The boarders had a hearty langh, and all retired to happy dreams.—Philadelphia Press.

An Irishman had been sick for a long time, and while in this state would occasionally cease breathing and life be apparently extinct for some time, when he would again revive. On one of these occasions, when he had just awakened from his sleep, Patrick asked him;

"Ah, how'll we know, Jimmy, when you're dead? You're after wakin' up ivery time."

"Bring me a glass of grog," he replied "and say to me," "Here's to ye, Jimmy; and if I don't rise up and drink, then bury me."

NOT IMPROBABLE.—A certain young clergyman, modest almost to bashfulness, was once asked by a country apothecary of a contrary character, in a public and crowded assembly, and in a tone of voice sufficient to catch the attention of the whole company:

"How it happened that the patriarchs lived to such extreme old age?"

To which the clergyman replied:

"Perhaps they took no physic."

Two Mcn in Devonport, Iowa, claim the same woman as their lawful wife. They have gone to law about it, and the judge is puzzled as to which man to assign her to. The woman herself don't care particularly which of the two wins she's sure of having one no matter how the case is decided.

A lady having accidently broke her smelling bottle, her husband, who was very petulant, said to her:

"I declare, my dear, everything that belongs to you is more or less broken."

"True," said the lady; "for even you are a little cracked."

A Quizzical Editor in Arkansas, who rejoices in the rather quizzical name of Harry Hurry, says that "truth is generally slow in its progress." Probably, it is never in such a hurry as he..

"Come here, you mischievous little rascal you!" "Won't you lick me, father?" "No!" "Will you swear you won't?" "Yes." "Then I won't come, father, for Parson Awloop says, "he that swears will lie."

It is a singular fact that ladies who know how to preserve everything else, can't preserve their tempers. Yet it may be easily done on the self-sealing principle. It is only to keep the mouth of the vessel tightly closed.

When Haddox's wife kicked him out of bed, said he: "Look here now, you better not do that again; if you do it will cause a coldness in the family."

What air does the young mouse sing to the old mouse, while biting his way through the scenery at the Opera House? "Hear me knaw, ma."

Give me a retired life, a peaceful conscience, honest thoughts and virtuous actions, and I can pity Cæsar.

There are multitudes of folks that mean well enough, but how like the evil one they act!

Thieves hunt in couples; but a liar has no accomplice.

A very unpopular officer for the ladies—General house work.

HORSES FEET REQUIRE MOISTURE.—Nine-tenths of the diseases which happen to the hoofs and ankles of the horse are occasioned by standing on the dry planks of the stable. Many persons seem to think, by the way they keep their horses that the foot of the horse was never made for moisture, and that, if possible, it would be beneficial if they had cowhide boots to put on every time they went out. Nature designed the foot for moist ground—the earth of the woods and vallies; at the same time that a covering was given to protect it from stones and stumps.—Ohio Farmer.

MANURING TREES.—Too many, in applying manure to their fruit trees, forget the position of the roots and apply within a foot or so of the body. If they were carefully to remove the soil, they would find that trees of vigorous growth and from seven to ten feet high, have roots that are really the main sources of nourishment, varying from six to ten feet from the body. The application of manure, therefore, to give the best results, should be distributed around the tree at from six to eight feet from the trunk. In positions where the turf is desired to be maintained, cut and roll it back, put on the manure, fork it lightly, and then replace the turf.—Horticulturist.

UNFERMENTED MANURE.—Many excellent farmers have an idea that manure to be most efficient in raising crops, should be well rotted; this is a mistake. Manure loses a very heavy percentage of its real value by decomposition. Fresh manure, dripping with animal urine, hauled directly from the stable on the land and ploughed over, is worth nearly double that which has decomposed to a sponaceous consistency. When it is convenient to farmers to haul their manure on corn-ground from the stable as fast as it is made, it saves handling it twice, and forwards the work in busy spring time. No fears need be entertained that the atmosphere will carry off the strength of the manure it left on the surface. The only danger to be apprehended by this method, will be in case of the ground being frozen and covered with snow and ice when the manure is applied; if upon sloping land, the virtue of manure might wash away; but on level land there is no exception to this plan of operation during the entire fall and winter season.

Mrs. S. A. Allen's PREPARATIONS FOR THE HAIR.

Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Restorer

is suited to both young and old. It strengthens the Hair, prevents its falling or turning grey, and imparts to it a beautiful glossy appearance. It never fails to RESTORE GREY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL YOUTHFUL COLOR.

IT IS NOT A DYE, but acts directly upon the roots of the Hair, giving them the natural nourishment required, producing the same vitality and luxurious quantity as in youth. It will restore it on bald places, requires no previous preparation of the hair, and is easily applied by one's self. One bottle will usually last for a year, as after the hair is once restored, occasional applications once in three months will insure against grey hairs to the most advanced age.

Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Dressing, or ZYLOBALSAMUM. is essential to use with the Restorer, but the Hair Dressing alone often restores, and never fails to invigorate, beautify and refresh the Hair, rendering it soft, silky and glossy, and disposing it to remain in any desired position.

FOR LADIES AND CHILDREN, whose hair requires frequent dressing, it has no equal. No lady's toiletis complete without it. The rich glossy appearance imparted is truly wonderful. It cleanses the Hair, removes all dandruff, and imparts to it a most delightful fragrance. It will prevent the Hair from falling out, and is the most economical and valuable Hair Dressing known. Millions of bottles sold every year.

The Restorer Reproduces and the Hair Dressing Cultivates and Beautifies.

New Triumphs of Roger's Medicines.

Run your eye over them and tell your afflicted neighbor about it.

PUGWASH, May 29, 1863

Messrs. Rogers & Co,

Gentlemen—I think it a duty I owe to you and the public, to state the following facts, as well for the benefit of humanity as in justice to yourself—although it should have been done long before this; but better late than never.

About four or five years ago I had a cancer in my breast, which had been coming on for a long time before but at last it became very painful, with sharp and severe pains darting through it at certain times. I applied to several doctors who advised that it should be cut out; and being afraid to submit to the operation, and hearing that you had cured many cancers, I, as you know, applied to you and submitted to your treatment, and used your medicine, and in a few months was thoroughly cured, and have been in perfect health ever since. I wish this to be made public for the benefit of others.

Yours with much gratitude,
ELIZABETH RYAN.

We know of no worse case—judging from the description given by letter—than a son of W. B. Weldon, Esq., of Kouchibouguac, N. B. He was reduced to a mere skeleton. He suffered most intense pain for many months His leg was ulcerated, and the bone diseased a large ulcer on his chin and face. Medicine and skill utterly failed, until all hope of saving his life was gone. Mr. Weldon's was a sorrowful house, no doubt, until our wonderful medicine dispelled the gloom. The lad is now nearly well, smart, cheerful and happy The parents too look more cheerful, and happy, and have lighter hearts, we judge by the cheering tone of their letters. It is refreshing to us to be thus the instruments of good to afflicted humanity. What care we for the slanders of the unprincipled! Our motto is onward. Our business to save human life, and cause the suffering to rejoice; and to make money you will add. Yes certainly we respond, and do you not think we deserve some of the large sum annually sent to brother Jonathan for useless articles.

Mr. Thomas Faulkner, of East River, Pictou N. S,, is cured of a sore leg of nineteen years standing. The best physicians in the Province, after exhausting their skill, recommended amputation as the only remedy. His health was very much reduced, but is now completely restored

Mrs. Hannah Balmain, of Wickham, N. B., after using our medicine for over one year, for an ulcerated cancer of the breast, writes under date of Oct. 15, 1865, as follows:—

"My breast is doing well; there is but one small lump on it now. It only discharges from on ulcer: the rest are all healed up I have not enjoyed such good health for several years, as I do now. I have only received three bottles of your Syrup since I last wrote. being a poor woman it is out of my reach, or I would be entirely well before now.
