ing your friendship might be worth while.

Your first suggestion is the one I think most advisable. If Clyde really cares for you, he'll make at least some effort to prove his worth. The possibility of being married to a chronic alcoholic is one that no girl in her right mind should risk. There is absolutely no worse, no unhappier or more tragic life.

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband, who is 28, has been bringing a neighbor of mine home from school each afternoon, as she has quite a walk. She is 18, and I am afraid he may stir up gossip by his act of kindness. It isn't taking him out of his way, since he passes school just at the time she gets out.

ANSWER: It's too bad one can't do an act of kindness without becoming the target of gossip, but unfortunately that is so. The mother of the girl makes it quite evident that she approves of the arrangement, the busybodies will have little to work on. Another solution would be for your husband to pick up one or two other young people at the same time and give them a lift.

Down The Back Stretch

owned by the Bright Spot Club and driven by M. Lawson, won the 3rd dash from Royal, Jr. (Langille) in 2:13 4/5, Time Table (Downey) 3, Single Streak (Belliveau) 4. In the 7th dash R. H. Byrne 2:08 1/5, that had finished eighth in the previous dash and had not been better than fifth in ten previous starts, led the field with the exception of Peter Lee Brewer to the wire with Peter Lee Brewer (Coughlan)—the expected winner placed 2, Time Table 3, Ramona Chips 4. No time was recorded because of the setting back of Peter Lee Brewer, that finished first but broke a short distance from the wire and the heat was awarded to R. H. Byrne. Some unofficial watches claimed that the time was 2:11 which if it had been officially timed would have been a new season's track record. As it is Sep Hanover's mile in 2:12 is the fastest.

Over 1400 spectators saw a very exciting card of racing at the Charlottetown track Monday night. Outstanding features of the evening were the 4th and 8th dashes which brought together such stars as Lucky Chief 2:04 1/5, Babe Britton 2:08 1/5, A. G. Scott 2:09 4/5, Hedgewood Chief 2:06 2/5, Johnnie Kalmuck 2:08 3/5 and the up and coming pacer Whispering Hope 2:12 3/5. One of the big surprises was Hope's performance in such fast company. In the 4th dash he was leading for quite a part of the way and finished third and in the 8th dash brought this 7-year-old gelding from nothing to be one of the best in his class in the Maritimes. Luck Chief (Stead) was the winner of the 4th dash with A. G. Scott (Moreside) 2, Time, 2:11 1/5. In the 8th dash Babe Britton (O'Meara) finished like a runner to nose out Whispering Hope in 2:10, Luck Chief 3. In the curtain raiser the trotter Muriel E. owned by Cliff Ellis, O'Leary, and driven by Lorne Kelly won with Miss Palli (E. Smith) 2, Time, 2:18—a new record for Muriel. In the 1st and 5th dashes Sea Plant (C. Smith), owned by Ray Stewart, Murray River, won the 1st in 2:15 2/5—a new record—Judith Budlong (Clark Chief) 3. In the 5th dash Suffolk (E. Downey) owned by Comdr'g G. H. Buntain, that had finished third in the 1st dash, paced around the field to win nicely in 2:15 1/5.

The Stars Say

may look ahead to a year which brings satisfying recognition for past efforts. Do not let your thoughts be colored by past disappointments. Instead keep your ambitions high. While slow and conservative methods are best now, results of past endeavors should be evident by mid-fall. By December you should find that personal, domestic and romantic matters have turned out most satisfactorily and you should begin to enjoy the good things of life. Be alert to new opportunities, especially those which will come your way early in 1955, when you will enter an unusually productive cycle. A year which on this day will be self-confident, fun-loving and endowed with a dynamic personality as well.

The Day After Tomorrow Astrological influences on Monday favor those with ambition and enterprise. Emergencies and emotions will be keyed to the high pitch required for satisfying accomplishment and where new ventures are concerned, the aspects are all in favor of successful chance-taking—especially in the early hours. Later in the day the situation becomes a little more complex so, if you find yourself faced with an unusual problem, do not hesitate to ask for advice. You should find all the cooperation you need.

For the Birthday If Monday is your birthday, your occupational activities are under fine aspects now and your horoscope also indicates that a profitable consolidation of financial benefits is in the making. Imaginative and creative ideas will be under excellent aspects during the next five months and you may be offered an exciting opportunity for travel during the same period. If so, try to take advantage of it, not only for the sake of the trip itself, but for the new contacts which could result therefrom. Romantic and domestic affairs should prosper for the balance of the year. A child born on this day will be talented, imaginative and endowed with both executive and selling ability.

a new record. In the 2nd and 8th dashes for Trotters, Bud's Best, owned by Ralph McFadyen and driven by E. Smith, won both. Chet Lyn Clever (Kennedy) 2-4, Fletcher Duster (MacKinnon) 3-2. Best time 2:17. In the 3rd and 7th dashes the finishes were exceptionally good and True Hal 2:07, a favorite of some years ago, showed his best performance since returning, winning the 3rd dash for Joe Hennessy and owner Walter Hennessy, from Billy Budlong (Semple), Time, 2:13 3/5. In the 7th dash Royal Scott Jr., that had finished seventh in the 3rd dash, was a surprise winner for owner George Gregory and driven Roach MacGregor. He had been on the trot until about a week before the race and had only a couple of work-outs with the hoppers. Time, 2:18 1/5. Royal Scott Jr. raced on the pace during his campaigns in the U. S. A. prior to coming here and had a record of 2:07 3/5.

Last Saturday night's racing was postponed until Monday night at Truro Raceway due to weather conditions. One of the features of the night was the winning of Race 1 by the 4-year-old Prince Jolly by Jolly 2:08 1/4. He is owned and was driven by Colin MacKenzie (Semple), Time, 2:18 1/5. Belwin Budlong (Fletcher) was 2. Sid Stead's former pacer Hardrod Bill (Daniels) won Race 2 for owner Duncan Lanor, time, 2:22; Federal Reserve (Barriera) 2. David G. was the only double winner, leading the field in races 3 and 6 for driver Clayton MacLeod and N. B. Er G. W. MacLeod, Westville. Best time, 2:14 1/5—a new record. Future Counsel (Conroy) was first to the wire in Race 4 with Headway (Given) 2 and the favorite, Judge Miller (MacLeod) 3, time, 2:09 1/5, making good Pergie Baxter's prediction. Future Counsel is owned by A. D. Napke, Newcastle, N. B. In Race 7 with the same field Headway, owned and driven by Jimmie Given, was the winner with Judge Miller 2, Future Counsel 3. Races 5 and 8 uncovered another big surprise when the pacer Miss Cherry Valley, owned by Eric MacMillan, Truro, and driven by Clayton MacLeod, headed an classy field with the trotter Nell Kalmuck (Harrison) second both trips. Texas Hanover (Barriera) 3-6, Andy's Right (Carter) 5, May S. Grant 4-5, Seven-Up Direct 6-4, Time, 2:13, 2:10 4/5—a new record for Miss Cherry Valley; her former record was 2:13.

Freehold, N. J., Raceway starts its 102nd year of uninterrupted harness racing on August 7th and although the oldest in America, it is the first to install air conditioning in the grand stand. In addition to its cooling function the gigantic unit has an advanced type of fan-blowing motors which are guaranteed to remove thick hazes of smoke or heavy, muggy air. It also has a new sound system with 94 loud speakers operating under a noise-proof ceiling; 78,000 plants have been planted in the infield and other areas and a complete reurfacing given to the track.

William Barefoot, who was 92 years old, died at Muncy, Indiana, last week. He was born and lived practically all his life in Cambridge City and his road to fame and a modest fortune began some 45 years ago when he was engaged in the poultry business. He paid a horse trader $250 for a mare called Little Gyp and planned to race her but she became lame. However, on April 4th, 1910, she foaled a colt with a nearly perfect letter G outlined in white on his forehead, so he was named Single G, and raced 14 seasons—until 1926. He was called "The Horse That Time Forgot" and set many world's records, met the fastest pacers in the land and vanquished them and in 1923 when he was 13 years old he paced his fastest mile at Syracuse, N. Y.—1:58 1/2. Back in the early 1920's he set up a new race record at Fredericton, in fact there must have been dozens of tracks over which Single G established new marks. He raced free-legged and was a perfect mannered horse.

Monday night's race meet at Fredericton was another great success with photo finishes and fast time and new records made. The 3-year-old pacer Bank's Bell by Bell Boy 2:01, owned by W. M. Stiles, Woodstock, and driven by Frank McAduff, won the 1st and 5th races, taking a new mark of 2:15. Hero's Child by Hero Mine, driven by Billy Burt, was 2-5 and Lou Merrill by Volo H. owned and driven by G. H. Barnes, St. Stephen, was 6-2. The 2nd and 6th races were won by Ableway, bown stallion by King's Counsel 1:58, owned by Miss Halliday, Calais, Me., and driven by Frank Carr. Best time, 2:12 2/5. Brighton, owned and driven by Henry DeWitt was 2-2. The 3rd and 7th races were won by Nottingham Chuck 2:05, a 12-year-old pacer owned and driven by George Walker, St. Stephen; Marion Budlong 2:11 3/5, owned by E. A. Grant, Houlton, and driven by Jensen, was 2-3 and Top Royal was 5-2, Time, 2:12 3/5. The 4th race was one of the best programmed this season, featured by fast time and very close finishes. Senator Hedgewood, owned by R. Giberson, Bath, N. B., and driven by Billy Burt, won by a nose from the Wisconsin pacer Ritakey 2:08, owned by Percy Bridges, Gagetown, and driven by Lindon, Time, 2:10 4/5. In the 8th race with the same field Henry Hedgewood, owned by R. Giberson, and finished third in the previous race, won out in a close finish with Ritakey 2, Time and Senator Hedgewood 3, Time, 2:10 4/5—a new record.

We had a telephone conversation with Frank Ryder, well known horseman of Moncton, N. B., yesterday afternoon. He informed us that everything will be ready for the opening of Moncton Raceway under the lights Wednesday night, August 4th and racing will continue Saturday and Wednesday night throughout the season. Quite a number of horses are already on the grounds and others are shipping in, so that the first night's racing will have good classes and give the public a good show. A great amount of money has been spent in building a grand stand, new stables and improving the race track and the whole project is up to date with the latest lighting equipment and pari-mutuel services. Mr. Ryder is the owner of Roy's Bank 2:06 1/5, at present racing in Danie Stee's stable at Foxboro, but it is planned to bring him back the end of the month and race him at Moncton. Associated with Mr. Ryder in Moncton Raceway is Bill Stiles, well known harness horseman and businessman of Woodstock.

Attendance records at Exhibition Park, Saint John, were shattered Wednesday night when a total of 3,800 fans were present to see a splendid program of eight dashes. A feature of the night was the brilliant performance of the 11-year-old trotter Tim Oshanko, 2:14 2/5, that raced around fast fields of pacers to win the 8th dash in 2:15. He is owned by Cormier and Bernard and was given a great drive by Bernard. Tim Oshanko was raced in this province some years ago by Earle Semple. Other winners were: 1st and 4th dashes, Princess H., owned and driven by E. H. Horvath, Moncton; Model Budlong (Burdell) 2-4; New Look (Devlin) 3-2; best time 2:16. The 2nd and 6th dashes were won by Carl Scott, owned and driven by Tom Etter; Amy Girl (Wood) 2-2; best time 2:24 1/5. In the 3rd and 7th dashes Twinkle Dawn, owned and driven by Walter Akers, was 1-4; Flaxey Pointer (Armstrong), owned by V. L. McNamara, Saint John, 1-1, Time, 2:19 4/5, 2:19. In the 5th dash Cedric Hanover, owned and driven by Herb Chase, Fredericton, led to the wire with Single Streak (Belliveau) 2, Tim Oshanko 3, Morris Direct (Wood) was in a photo finish with Tim Oshanko in the 8th dash with Ramona Chips (Lawson) 3.

Hunters' Corner

with any degree of certainty but it is expected the unseasonably wet summer, this month in particular, may have a retarding effect on our Hun and pheasant crop, also our Ruffed grouse to a lesser degree. Quite a few coveys of Huns were reported this year in June which is rather unusual. Methinks the early hatched broods will have an advantage over those that break the shell in mid July. In some districts the Hun coveys are reported quite plentiful and in others below last year at this season.

It has been poor weather for spotting coveys of either Huns or pheasants but by late August or early September we will know pretty well where we stand in respect to both migration and upland game birds. Some nice broods of black ducks have been observed but the number is not quite up to the mark the heavy population of breeding pairs present in April and May lead us to expect. Predation among our ducks has been heavy particularly in regard to eggs. Here is a case in point: On the Moore sanctuary at Milltown Cross a pair of wild mallards nested to remain with us and raise a family. It was particularly interested in this pair of ducks. I felt if they were successful in rearing a brood we would have the start of a local population of mallards.

The caretaker informed me the female had selected a nest location well down the brook below his dam. A few weeks later he informed me she must have been destroyed for she had appeared back at the dam and had a nest in some mill material that had been hauled to bolster the waste gate. It resembled excelsior and was not the regular sawdust. In late June she began laying and started to set when she had a clutch of nine eggs. Incubation had progressed two weeks when this nest was also destroyed. The con is suspected but definite proof is lacking. The mother duck escaped but whether she became discouraged and quit housekeeping activities for the season I do not know at time of writing. Somehow I imagine the urge has worn off at this late date.

A bear has again made itself known. This time on the Log Lake. On Thursday morning of this week it was awakened at 12:30 a.m. (D.S.T.) by someone thumping at the door. To be perfectly truthful it was my better half's nudging in my ribs that awakened me. The screen door had been locked and there was no way to reach the bell. I had a delegation of three men calling on me... two from Rustico and one from Milltown. This is their story in condensed form. At about 11:30 Standard Time they were driving along a winding lonely road between the old Wiltshire Creamery and MacLean's Store, Wiltshire. I know this road fairly well. It's bush lined, narrow and winding.

Suddenly when rounding a turn they saw a large animal sort of roll over and rise to its feet beside the road. It walked across the road and up a bank on the opposite side and entered the woods. It didn't run but wasn't losing much time nevertheless but travelled in a shuffling, rolling gait. It was described as large, approximately two and a half feet high, black in colour with a reddish tinge on the tips of the hair. Its tail was 10 inches or a foot long and just as it entered the woods it turned and looked back. It had a long, narrow face. One of the men remarked it had mean, sloping hinc quarters like a mishapen horse cut down badly on the rump. The weight was estimated at several hundred pounds. All three definitely convinced it was a bear they saw. I asked could it have been a large raccoon. "Definitely not," was the answer, "it didn't have a raccoon face and was too large. It was also a different colour."

The description about "rolling to its feet" interested me greatly. Bears have a habit of rolling in sand to rid themselves of fleas. Naturalists tell us it's more effective than water although the water treatment is also invoked. Maybe this is the bear the young the from Seven Mile Road met one night at Annandale. Both must have received a very bad scare for neither have been seen in Annandale since. If it's the same bear he sure made tracks.

Pownal sportsmen are in for a treat on Monday evening, August 9. The Queen's County Branch Game Association are holding their monthly meeting in Pownal Hall when two excellent films depicting hunting will be shown. The time is tentatively set for 8 p.m. Standard Time. Pownal is generally conceded to be the home of crowd shooters and a good attendance is anticipated.

EMOTIONAL FACTOR Basic emotional conflicts are frequently the precipitating cause of respiratory allergy attacks. Weep having the greatest attendance of horsemen in its history. They are coming from the north, south, east and west—hundreds of them—and accommodations are being booked up in cabins, hotels and elsewhere. It will surely be a record show. There are 234 entries in the harness racing classes and the individual horses total 114; 55 of them are from New Brunswick and Nova Scotia and they are the cream of the breed and pacers that have been campaigning there. The balance that makes up the 214 are stabled in Summerside and other points of the Island. Old Home Week dates are August 9th to 14th.

Let's Talk It Over

Tourists in general speak highly of our Island hospitality. They find Islanders for the most part a friendly people. They are quite often willing to forgive our rough highways because we offer them other attractions which the disadvantages. They like our quiet pastoral scenery, our cool evenings (though this can be carried to an undesirable extreme) our sea-breezes that help to temper even our warmest days. Some of them have read the "Anne" books, and come down to savor the distinctive Island atmosphere which the author has succeeded in making so genuine in her stories.

That we Islanders have inherited a legacy of tourist attractions is undeniable. You can get fishing, sea-bathing, golfing, tennis, and other similar vacation recreations at just about every tourist resort as just about every tourist has ever described with a flourish of penmanship in the circulars. The distinctive Island charm, which can only be felt and not adequately described, you can get only on Prince Edward Island. This rich legacy of ours should not make us too complacent about our power to attract summer visitors, however.

Anything we can do to improve our highways, our recreation facilities and our tourist accommodations will enhance our chances of attracting more and more tourists as time goes on. Our "Garden of the Gulf" must be kept free of the weeds of inferior service and the slugs of indifference to the tourists' needs. Take for just one example our highway signs. They are improving but there is still room for more.

A tourist strayed off his route recently because of the absence of a sign at a cross-road, ran over a road with ruts so deep that the under-carriage of his car dragged. On finding out his error he had to retrace his way over the bad spot again. When he got back to the corner he noticed that the three-way sign was broken off, and lying in the ditch. Let us make sure we have signs to tell the tourist where to go, or he may tell us as this enraged tourist did in no uncertain language.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—A surface crack developed in the rock at Prospect Point, famous observation area at the brink of the American falls, and the area was roped off in fear that a segment might collapse into the gorge. A member of the staff of the Commission on the State Park started at the edge of the river about 50 feet upstream from the brink of the falls and shot straight inland about 50 or 60 feet.

PRECAUTIONS DURING POLIO SEASON

Polio (poliomyelitis) occurs more frequently during July to October than at other seasons.

- General precautions to lessen the effect of the disease are: 1. KEEP OUT OF CROWDS. Avoid unnecessary contacts in trains, buses, and indoor gatherings. Keep children with their own friends. 2. AVOID OVER-FATIGUE. Too active play, late hours, worry, long swimming periods, and irregular living schedules cause fatigue. If polio infection is present in the body extreme tiredness may bring on an attack of the disease. 3. AVOID CHILLING. Take off wet clothes and shoes at once. Don't stay too long in cold water or in wet bathing suits. Chilling may lessen your body's resistance against polio. 4. KEEP CLEAN. Wash hands carefully before eating and always after using the toilet. Avoid swimming in polluted waters. 5. WASH RAW FRUIT AND VEGETABLES before eating. 6. USE SAFE MILK AND WATER. Drink only pasteurized milk or milk which has been brought to a simmer. Drinking water should be tested for contamination. 7. KILL FLIES. Screen windows, doors and outside toilets. Use fly sprays around house and barns. Protect food, dishes and cooking utensils from flies and insects. Keep garbage and waste tightly covered or bury garbage. FLIES ARE CARRIERS OF DISEASE. Flies germs have been found on flies and in nose, mouth and bowel discharges of humans.
