USC Is Helping To Support Hong Kong Day Nurseries

HONG KONG — (Special) — From the diary of Dr. Lota Hirschmanova, Executive Director, Unitarian Service Committee, Ottawa.

There is probably no other part of the world where the proportion of Government support to private charity is as high as in Hong Kong, but "Hong Kong will need international charity for years because the need is so great," an informed Canadian social worker told me.

With 1,000 to 2,000 persons still arriving secretly every month, once they are in the Colony, they have to stay — there is no way out.

The Government is opening one resettlement block every nine days, but cannot keep up with the influx of refugees and the natural increase in population. Theoretically the minimum space per person in one of the resettlement blocks is 16 square feet, but there are often a dozen adults in one room and a number of children. In the Crown Colony a baby is born every five minutes.

By October 1964, the Hong Kong Government has resettled 600,000 people, all slum dwellers, but there are still 500,000 squatters and street sleepers. Because there is such overcrowding, rent is the largest single expenditure in a household budget. Bed space per person per night costs about 20 cents. With the mounting cost of living, both parents must work to make ends meet and the children of pre-school age are on the streets. School begins in Hong Kong at the age of seven. That is why Day Nurseries for children between two and six are such a god-send.

With so many adults in one room and so many children and adults sharing one bed, naturally the children sleep very poorly. Thus it is a luxury in a Day Nursery for a small lot to have its own cot where he can sleep two to three hours absolutely undisturbed.

In one of the two day nurseries which the Unitarian Service Committee is helping a Chinese indigenous agency to support, I saw Ko Kim Fan, a little boy of five whose father was run over by a truck and killed. The mother makes artificial flowers in a shack which she and her six children call "home." After the accident, the boy was admitted to the Nursery and still looked very shocked and miserably undernourished, with torn shoes and the faintest of shirts.

This year the USC gave a grant to the Family Planning Association of Hong Kong, an agency which is doing an extremely urgent and successful job. Family planning and Day Nurseries are certainly two of our Committee's most worthwhile and deserving contributions to Hong Kong.

USC headquarters, 56 Sparks Street, Ottawa 4, is currently appealing for $840,000. Contributions may also be left at the Main Bank of Montreal, Charlottetown. Clothing for the USC should be left at the Dominion Building, Fourth Floor, Room 12, Charlottetown, P.E.I.

WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS

Montgaue WI To Cater For Leadership Course

Mrs. Roy Gillis was re-elected president of the Montgaue Women's Institute at the annual meeting recently. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Gillis with 14 members and three guests present.

Following the opening ceremony, the minutes of the last annual meeting and the last regular meeting were read by Mrs. Byron Stewart, and the financial report for the year was presented by Mrs. Lyle Boehner.

In her address, the president gave a brief resume of the activities of the past year and expressed her appreciation for the co-operation of the officers and members.

The welfare committee reported that there is a need for children's clothing and bedclothes. Mrs. Lorne Wigginton and Mrs. V.R. Pepler volunteered to attend to this matter.

The report of the nominating committee was adopted and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: president, Mrs. Roy Gillis; vice-president, Mrs. Frank Greene; secretary, Mrs. Cecil Beck; treasurer, Mrs. Kenneth Clements; directors, Mrs. Keir Clark, Mrs. Ganet Moore and Mrs. J.C. MacLure; auditors, Mrs. Lorne Wigginton and Mrs. Lester MacLeod and Red Cross convener, Mrs. Arnold Vaninderstine.

Mrs. Vaninderstine was asked to send for knitting and sewing materials for Red Cross work. Arrangements were discussed for serving a noon meal at the WI Leadership Course which will be held at the United Church Hall on Dec. 2nd. Mrs. Lester MacLeod, Mrs. Wigginton and Mrs. Clements were appointed as a committee in charge of catering.

A committee, comprising Mrs. Boehner, Mrs. Pepler, Mrs. Cecil Beck, Mrs. Albert Fraser and Mrs. George Preece, was appointed to assist the Cancer Dressing Group on Nov. 9th. A donation was voted towards the Crippled Children's auction.

At the close of the meeting, an interesting program, featuring the highlights of her recent trip to the West Coast, was presented by Mrs. Wigginton. She was assisted by Mrs. Elsie Watterworth. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Vaninderstine and Mrs. Watterworth.

Brooklyn WI non-Brooklyn, entertained the members of the Women's Institute on Thursday evening for the annual meeting. Members contributed articles for two layettes for UNICEF and plans were made to pack used clothing for overseas relief.

An agreement has been made with Kilmuir district to co-operate with them in their centennial project, which is the renovation of their community hall, and the development of the grounds into a park.

New officers were appointed for the following year and several members expressed their intention to attend the leadership workshop in Montgaue on December 2nd.

It was noted that the latest edition of the Institute News contained an article on one of the members, Mrs. Lloyd MacKinnon, who has recently been appointed to the provincial executive as convener of cultural activities. Mrs. MacKinnon, who accompanied by her husband and family has recently returned from a holiday in Newfoundland, gave an interesting outline of her trip and answered several questions concerning that province.

Another pleasant feature of the meeting was the presentation of Institute pins to five charter members of 25 years, who still reside in Brooklyn, namely, Mrs. Robert Whiteway and Mrs. Preston Beaton who were present, and absent were Mrs. Marjorie MacPherson, Mrs. Sadie MacKinnon and Mrs. Marjorie MacKinnon.

Mrs. Whiteway and Mrs. Beaton expressed their pleasure in receiving the pins presented by Mrs. Lloyd MacKinnon.

At the conclusion of the presentation members enjoyed a dinner served by the hostess, assisted by several members.

The Guardian, Charlottetown, Tues., Nov. 23, 1965.

Woman Is Now Accepted As Editor And Publisher

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Two years ago, Mrs. Guy Easterly was told that her husband, for 30 years publisher of the LaFollette Press in Tennessee, had cancer.

Five weeks later he was dead. "That was when she took over the newspaper to carry on as she thought her husband, a former National Editorial Association president, would have wanted."

Now, she said in recalling her decision, she is accepted as an editor and publisher and businessmen and politicians confide in her.

Mrs. Easterly was in Omaha for the National Newspaper Association convention and recalled that while her husband was living she went to many conventions with him — and passed up the temptations to go shopping in favor of attending convention sessions.

"I never realized then that I'd have to use the information," she said.

Mrs. Easterly said her experience had convinced her that a woman with a proper background can operate a newspaper as well as a man, and has brought to her a fuller and deeper appreciation of a newspaper's role in a community.

Couple Celebrate 25th Anniversary
Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Boudreau of Georgetown celebrated their silver wedding anniversary recently when relatives and close friends called to offer congratulations on this special occasion. A mass by the family pastor of St. James Parish at 7 p.m., served by their son Philip.

The couple were honored to be able to renew their marriage vows, as this was the first ceremony of this kind performed in St. James Church.

Following the mass, relatives and friends returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Boudreau where many useful gifts were presented. Refreshments were served by their daughters, followed by an enjoyable evening of singing and dancing.

Festive Plans
It's not too soon to begin collecting lists for the holiday season. Once the festivities get into full swing it's wonderful to have a treasury of good food ideas for family reference.

Bosper Starter
Start off holiday suppers with a special Bosper Soup. Combine a can of consommé soup and cream of pea soup with a soup can of water. Heat as usual, then just before serving top individual bowls with whipped cream and broil until the cream is lightly browned.

Holiday Alaska
Baked Alaska, a splendid holiday dessert, takes to Christmas dining easily. Try filling a 9-inch round pie shell with 1/2 cup of soft-serve vanilla ice cream, and spoon 1 cup of your best instant oatmeal over top. Keep the pie frozen until serving time. Then cover completely with meringue, bringing it out to the edge of the pastry all around. Bake in a 450° oven until the meringue is golden and crisp immediately.

Cranberry Special
For Santa's helpers, a Cranberry Special, adds a lift during the pre-Christmas rush. Just combine cranberry juice cocktail and vanilla ice cream and beat until smooth. Blender cooks can mix their own!

Sweet Nibbler
Who'll know the fine old way of candy making this Christmas? Our favorite recipe for Maple Pecan Fudge, calls for 3 cups brown sugar, 1 cup dairy sour cream and a pinch of salt. Boil this mixture over medium heat until the soft ball stage (238° F on a candy thermometer). Remove from heat and stir in 1/2 cup butter and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Cool without stirring to lukewarm and beat until mixture begins to lose its gloss, add 1 cup of chopped pecans and quickly turn into a buttered pan. Dairy sour cream adds a distinctive flavor to this wonderful candy.

Freezer Reminder
Tender flaky shortbread, made with butter, taste kindly to the freezer. Why not bake up a batch or two now. Wrap them well in heavy-duty foil and they'll keep until Christmas.

Party Parfaits
Folks will never guess you were short of time when you serve them pretty minted parfaits. For the sauce start with 1/2 cups bottled mint jelly; beat until smooth; then fold in 1 cup whipped cream. Layer in parfait glasses with vanilla ice cream. Quick and glamorous!
