

RUSSIAN SEES
U.S. PROTEST

MOSCOW (Reuters) — One of the Soviet Union's political commentators says American youth is in the same position as German youth during the rise of the Nazis.

But, writes Vikenty Matveyev in the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia, there is one significant difference — more and more young Americans are joining a protest movement against their government's policies.

Matveyev compares the burning by Nazi Hitler youths of works of classical literature with "fires on the land of Viet Nam from American bombs and napalm."

But he says U.S. authorities are powerless to cope with a growing protest movement.

Although the movement has not turned the authorities from their "reckless, dangerous course," they have not been able to overcome U.S. public opinion and "make sure of a peaceful, reliable rear, as the Nazis did."

Suggestions in the U.S. for the formation of a "national youth service" and a proposal by former president Eisenhower for general military training for youth show how some persons are "dreaming of a resurrection on home soil of the Hitler youth," Matveyev says.

Matveyev also says the cult of the British pop-singing group, The Beatles, in Britain and the U.S., was seized on by ruling circles there to distract the attention of youth from politics.

Adopted Child Becomes Heiress

GRAND HAVEN, Mich. (AP) — A woman who had no idea she had been an adopted child, was found to be the sole heir of a $1,600,000 estate.

Ottawa County Probate Judge Fred Niles ruled that Mrs. Rosemary Jelneck, 42, of the small community of Swartz Creek is the sole heir to the estate of Chicago insurance executive Arthur S. Kruse who died last March.

At the 40-minute hearing, Mrs. Jelneck was found to be Kruse's niece. She had been adopted as an infant by Mr. and Mrs. William Lindeboom, who took her from an orphanage in Grand Rapids.
