The Marguerita was forced to leave port without loading any of the 55,000 bags of spuds she was to pick up, because of the cold weather.

Well out in the harbour the Saurel encountered ice up to eight inches in depth. It is believed that there might possibly be ice as far east as Cape Bear, which would be some 40 miles before the Marguerita would be in open water, and a long hard job for the Saurel.

It's Time To Close the Store

Here it is Christmas Eve already. Only a few weeks ago it seemed so far off. But here it is. A few more hours and it will be Christmas again.

Christmas is a family time and a reflecting time. We are all grateful for the families with which we share the joys of Christmas. We are all grateful for the prosperity of our country which allows us to enjoy this Yuletide in such comfort and leisure.

We have much for which to be grateful. Henderson and Cudmore, have you for which to be grateful . . . and the wonderful support you have given us since we opened our doors 45 years ago.

One reason we like Christmas is because we then have the opportunity to see so many of you again, while you are doing your Christmas shopping. Believe us, it's fun helping you select just the right tie for Uncle Joe, to advise on the kind of sport shirt The Mr. would buy if he were doing it himself, and to give the kids a hint or two on what Dad really goes for.

Well, that's enough reflecting for one day. Soon it will be time to close the store and go home to the families.

Merry Christmas Everybody!

Island's Transport Systems Report Heavy Traffic Flow

Prince Edward Island train, rail and bus transportation systems all report increases in traffic as holiday travelling nears its peak.

The unexpected cold weather has influenced many motorists to go by train rather than travel by car to face unpredictable road conditions and this has contributed in the increase in traffic on the CNR, officials state.

This past weekend saw a heavy movement as students arrived home from institutions in many parts of Canada and the U.S., and those attending university and college here left for their homes elsewhere.

The heavier traffic on the trains is expected to continue through today until tonight when a lull is looked for until the reverse movement starts with the beginning of new school terms.

Maritime Central Airways carried 1,546 passengers to the Island last December and took 1,461 on departure flights. It is believed this year's total will be at least equal and possibly surpass last year's figures, provided good flying weather prevails.

Officials say they will carry all traffic even if extra flights are necessary to handle it.

MCA also said it will limit its Christmas Day and New Year's Day flights to the minimum to permit employees to spend as much time as possible with their families.
