Mayor Currie Lauds Work Of S'Side Fire Department

SUMMERSIDE—"You have an enviable record, and you face great dangers many times in the performance of your duties." Those were the words of His Worship Mayor W.A. Currie as he gave unqualified praise of the work of the Summerside Fire Department at the department's annual banquet held Wednesday night at the Canadian Legion Hall.

Town Manager J.A. Brophy echoed the Mayor's tribute. Town Manager Brophy said the firemen are "always dependable". He said they risk their lives even when they are criticized and are always there when they are needed.

S'Side Mayor Addresses Y's Men

SUMMERSIDE — Mayor W.A. Currie was guest speaker at the regular weekly supper meeting of the Summerside Y's Men's Club held at the Y Centre last evening.

Mayor Currie, who was the first president of the club, traced the history of the Summerside Y's Men's Club from the time it was organized in 1937 to the present.

He read the minutes of the first meeting after the club was organized by the Charlottetown club under the dynamic leadership of Jack MacNair who is still one of the most active Y's Men in the movement.

He noted that one of the first projects of the club was the sponsorship of the boy scout movement. In Summerside, a project which is still carried on.

His humorous account of the numerous and varied places where the supper meetings were held, from the Nanking Cafe to the present beautiful Y Centre was thoroughly enjoyed.

He thanked on behalf of the club by Edgar Ramsay.

J. Frank Cameron reported on the Prince County hospital drive in which all Y's Men took part. It was a feeling of the members that although the weather on the night on which the drive was conducted was very bad, the heartwarming reception they received from the residents west of the railroad tracks more than made up for the inclement weather.

The club decided to join the Prince County Hospital Century Club and $100 was voted for this purpose.

Y's Bob Hogg was chairman. Art Holland led the sing song with Edgar Ramsay accompanying. Dick Hinton was finest master.

S'Side Trinity United Church Launches Fund Campaign

SUMMERSIDE — A unity dinner served in Epworth Hall and the Trinity United Church preceded to some 400 church members Wednesday evening preceding a meeting in the church which launched a campaign or funds.

The objective of the campaign is to raise $60,000 in 60 weeks for church work and expenses locally, and the campaign which follows an earlier one in which funds were sought for an extension of the church building and modernization of the church interior will be known as the "second Mile Canvass."

Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell was chairman of the meeting, and outlined the financial needs of the church which led to the current campaign.

The development of the church during the past three years was recalled by Mrs. Arthur Allen, while Mr. Charles Linkletter presented facts and figures of the present condition of the church.

and pointed out some of the challenges for the future which are presently before the congregation.

Dr. L.M. Callbeck emphasized that the real goal of the canvass is equal sacrifice, not equal pledges.

Dr. Bert Hunter, chairman of the canvass committee, outlined the plan and explained how it will be conducted.

Mr. Horace MacFarlane read a list of pace setting pledges which had been made previous to the meeting.

At the conclusion, the Minister, Rev. C.R. Webber, spoke words of encouragement and summarized some of the points made by the various speakers.

Mr. Keith Lapp was in charge of raising the money for the Wednesday night meeting.

In addition to the various campaign officials there are also about 50 hostesses, 12 team captains, and approximately 60 canvassers who will be participating in the campaign.

through piles of rock and debris. AIR PUMPED IN

A steady flow of air has been directed through the mine since it was shattered by a bump—an underground shifting of strata. Barriers have been built to push the air toward the sections where men are entombed.

The men rescued from their waist-high pocket at the 13,000-foot level had sufficient air to breathe after initial gas was dissipated. Others may not be so fortunate.

During the six-day ordeal, the 12 men—Protestants and Roman Catholics—prayed together and occasionally sang hymns, led by choir member Caleb Rushton.

They found a couple of lunch pails and shared the little food until it ran out. Their water was also exhausted after a short time.

Some admitted they had abandoned all hope. Others said they never gave up their faith that somehow they would be rescued.

Several times in the early days of their imprisonment they heard what they thought were noises from outside.

But it wasn't until mid-day Wednesday that tapping on a broken air pipe 60 feet away behind a barrier of rock revived flagging hopes of rescue.

Their shouts were heard through the pipe.

Dr. R.A. Burton, the first doctor to talk to the men through the wall of stone, supervised the insertion of a 60-foot copper pipe through the air tube. Fresh water was pumped in and the miners caught in their lunch tins.

Though their throats were parched and their tongues and lips dried and cracked, the men obeyed Dr. Burton's instructions to drink the water slowly.

Hot coffee was pumped through next, following by tomato soup.

The grim humor of the mining fraternity appeared in this unlikely situation. One trapped miner, asked if he wanted soup, promptly asked what kind it was.

FIREMEN HOLD BANQUET

Master of Ceremonies Herbert Schurman (standing) obviously just completed telling a rather humorous story judging from the smiles so prevalent at the annual banquet of the Summerside Fire Department held Wednesday night, Mayor W.A. Currie was guest speaker and had high praise for the town's firefighters. Seen at the head table are Mrs. Heath Warren, Fire Chief Heath Warren, Mr. Schurman, Mr. S. Schuman, Mayor W.A. Currie and Mrs. Currie.

Expert Advises Against Breaking TCA Monopoly

By JOHN LEBLANC Canadian Press Staff Writer OTTAWA (CP)—An expert on transportation economics Thursday advised the air transport board against Canadian Pacific Airlines' application for a transcontinental franchise.

Dr. A.W. Currie, professor of political economy at the University of Toronto and author of standard books on Canadian transportation said the time has not yet arrived for competition with publicly-owned Trans-Canada Air Lines on the east-west route.

Should CPA get routes on the transcontinental service, Mr. McGregor said, his company would expect to have to give duplicating services, "with resulting substantial deficits for TCA."

Dr. A.W. Currie, professor of political economy at the University of Toronto and author of standard books on Canadian transportation said the time has not yet arrived for competition with publicly-owned Trans-Canada Air Lines on the east-west route.

He was still under examination at Thursday's adjournment.

"FEELS STRONGLY" Dr. Currie said he "feels strongly that the time is not opportune for the permitting of another carrier to fly the main east-west route."

He testified as a TCA witness in the board's long hearings of a CPA bid to crack TCA's monopoly and it feels it would have to continue this service except perhaps for considering the dropping of some non-paying short lines.

"I take this position," he said, "because of the low net earnings of TCA, the uncertainty of the general business outlook, the financial burden of introducing jet aircraft and the fact that, instead of receiving the benefits which it expects from pure competition, the public would suffer."

Grade I: No tests. Teacher: Mrs. Margaret Macdonald.

Even with fares maintained at present levels, Dr. Currie predicted, there would be heavy losses for TCA. And "losses suffered by a competitor might result in a request for government aid."

SUMMERSIDE—The cases of three residents of Lennox Island charged with assault causing actual bodily harm received disposition yesterday afternoon in Magistrate's Court before Magistrate R.S. Hinton.

The toast to the ladies was proposed by E.F. Arsenault and replied to by Mrs. Leo Wood.

Herbert Schurman presided. Films on fire prevention were shown courtesy of the National Film Board.

At the refreshment hour the table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom. The cake was cut by the brides-to-be.

Tignish School Teachers Open Season's Workshops

TIGNISH — A large number of teachers from Tignish and the surrounding districts assembled in Dalton School on October 24th to hold their first workshop of the season.

The local president Aubin J. Gallant acted as chairman. The subject under discussion was the teaching of arithmetic to the intermediate grades. Each teacher in turn presented some difficulty in the teaching of this important subject such as the teaching of fractions. Helping pupils to understand written problems and the making of good statements for written problems. Working with percent teaching fractions, percent and decimals together and many others were lengthily discussed and solutions were agreed upon.

The chairman spoke on the provincial conference on education to be held in Charlottetown on Nov. 3, and encouraged teachers to attend this all-important event.

Also asked the teachers to send any suggestions they might wish to have presented to the Board of Governor's meeting.

It was decided to hold another workshop on November 28, and the topic to be studied and discussed.

He was told not to re-enter the mine until his doctor gives permission.

Mr. Doxey said no rescue miners have had to be treated for exhaustion yet and none has shown any other ill effects. The crew change shifts at regular intervals and are replaced by fresh men.

Three digging crews worked to get into the remaining 420-foot section on the 13,000-foot level from three different directions.

One crew of bare-faced men, working without gas masks, advanced 120 feet during the day. A crew of dragsmen hampered by heavy breathing apparatus made only slow progress.

On the surface the mine entrance was all but deserted. The crowds that waited through Wednesday night for the "miracle" rescue had gone home.

In the town the excitement died down in the seventh day since the mine caved in Oct. 23. Mine officials said the rescue job might go on for days.

Meanwhile, in All Saints Hospital joyful scenes took place. Wives and children of the 12 rescued men rejoined their loved ones. Tears mingled with smiles.

Boysman Madison cried when his family told him they had bought a cemetery lot for his burial.

SCOTS' SETTLERS

Glenegary County in Eastern Ontario was settled in 1784 by Scottish loyalists from New York.

It was decided to hold another workshop on November 28, and the topic to be studied and discussed.

REOPENING UNLIKELY The Cumberland mine was its only large industry. Sir Roy Dobson, head of the British company that controls the Cumberland Coal Company, says the mine is likely to reopen. It employed about 900 men. Springhill has a population of about 6,500.

Federal Revenue Minister Nowlan met with the provincial cabinet. He promised that the federal government will give every possible assistance. But later in Springhill he said it is too early to say what this assistance will be.

In London, Prime Minister Diefenbaker said of the rescue of the 12 men: "It's the best news I've had for several days."

He expressed the hope that further survivors will be found.

GROWING FEAR But there was growing fear here that 50 men still missing in the heart of the smashed colliery may be dead.

There were rumors during the day that 24 bodies had been reported in the area where the 12 were rescued but mine officials refused to confirm them.

Asked at a press conference how long men could live in the mine, Dr. J. G. B. Lynch recalled that J. W. Had survived for 10 days in the Moose River Gold Mine in 1936. But they had water and were not endangered by gas.

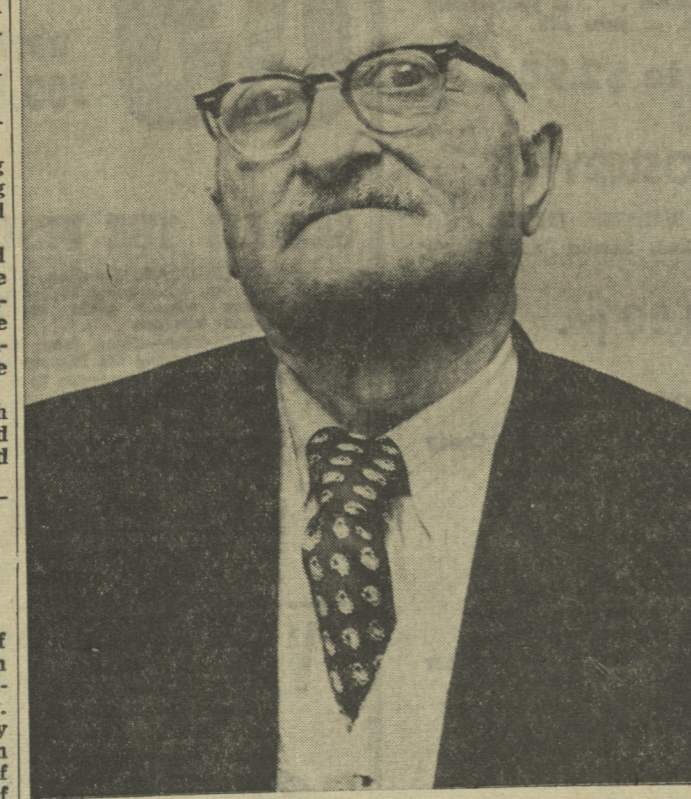

There is no water in the sections of Cumberland colliery where rescue workers are digging when it was stolen.

Several experts from the crime detection laboratory of the RCMP at Sackville, N.B., have been called in on the case and one Madame Rolande Rouen, chemical expert, after analyzing the green paint found on three pieces of wood in the trunk of the car driven by the accused when apprehended, and the paint on the wooden framework that enclosed the safe in the Gaudet store said she believed they came from the same batch of paint.

Powers was remanded until Saturday for hearing.

J. Watson MacNaught is counsel for the accused and D.O. Stewart is crown prosecutor.

WRESTLER AL CONNELL

Kensington Farmer Is 91 But Still Likes To Wrestle

KENSINGTON — Undaunted by a lifetime of hardwork, 91-year-old Al Connell, retired Kensington farmer, is shopping around to find someone with whom he can continue his favorite pastime—wrestling!

With wrestling as a prime interest throughout his lifetime, he says he is not deceived by the wrestling exhibitions on television, stating that this can scarcely even be called wrestling, and alleging that, "the biggest part of it is a fraud."

Now retired with his wife, on a small farm near Kensington, he walks more than a mile into the town almost daily to shop, and enjoys nothing better than a lively conversation with friends in town or those who call at the Connell home where visitors are always assured of a hearty welcome.

Only his sight is not as good as he would wish, but says Mr. Connell, "I have an excellent appetite, and my memory and hearing are as good as ever."

Indeed, if a suitable opponent can be found, Mr. Connell has expressed interest in participating in a public contest, which he suggests might be held after his 92nd birthday next July.

This remarkable man who did take time to learn to dance until about 50 years of age, recalls that he is the only one still living from among a group of much younger men who once worked the dig which was too old for the work of digging and loading mussels mud at which he was then employed.

He states that when living in the Wellington area he cleared, by hand, an 80 to 90 acre farm which had once been covered with green timber, and slyly recalls that he would then leave his farm-

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved by this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of even 16 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.
