ed about the river's currents and eddies. He participated in numerous rescues. Once, he swam into the whirlpool rapids to save his father, caught in an eddy during his second attempt to ride the rapids in a barrel. William's next trip came Sept. 8, 1948 when he completed a daring five-mile run down the rapids in a steel barrel. He was taken from the river with only a few bruises. Major, on leave from the army, saw the plunge. He said later that he intended to go over the falls himself in a barrel, probably next Sunday. Major tried the stunt with a steel barrel in June last year but lost the barrel go over empty. During the last 50 years five other persons have gone over the famous cataract. Of these, two died—both in 1930. Charles G. Stephens, a Briton, tried it with an anvil strapped to his legs as ballast. When his barrel hit the water below the falls, Stephens went with his anvil to the bottom. Found in the wreckage of his barrel was one arm hanging to the straps. George I. Stathakis, a Greek, ended up trapped below the falls. His barrel sprung a leak and when it finally floated free, its occupant was found drowned inside. Red Hill saw both of these men die. Mrs. Anna Edson Taylor, a little school teacher, made it. She went over in a wooden keg in 1901. Her manager, who could bear to look, hid out in a local bar. Bobby Leach survived the trip in a steel-bound barrel in 1911 and Jean Lausier bounced successfully over the falls in a rubber ball in 1928. Ironically, Leach later went to New Zealand where he slipped on an orange peel. He died of gangrene.

W. I. CONVENTION

parts of the world are already ripe for its acceptance if the democracies do not give them a better way of life. The courtship committee report was given by Mrs. John Wedlock and resolution committee report by Mrs. Edward Turner. The exhibits, which consisted of three hooked rugs from each district, were judged by Mrs. Isaac Dunbar and Mrs. Archie Barbour of Alma. The prize, a lovely serving tray donated by O'Leary Institute, was awarded to Knutsford Institute. A delicious supper was served, bringing to a close an enjoyable convention.

Compton's Funeral Home After 74 Years Of Service

Compton's Funeral Home, one of the most modern funeral homes in Eastern Canada, has been expanding its facilities for the past few years and now has a service which is to be envied by all progressive funeral home directors. High efficiency and good taste, combined with a courteous director, makes this home a pleasant haven for those bereaved.

Started in 1877 by the late Mr. H. A. Compton, who was well known and respected as a citizen of Summerside, serving his home town for years as Councillor and Mayor in the civic interest, the standard of service in the establishment has developed and maintained the faith of the citizens. Many complimentary letters from large funeral parlors (one especially from the Boston School of Anatomy), have been received by the director rendering complimentary remarks as to the efficient manner in which bodies have been prepared and forwarded abroad to the homes of the deceased.

In 1915 the business was taken over by the late Mr. Compton's son, Mr. Keith Compton, who immediately took a keen interest in maintaining and improving the high standard of service that became synonymous with his father's name. Recently the funeral home took on a new residence on Summer Street adjoining Mr. Compton's own home. This large, spacious establishment is considered one of the best in the Maritimes today. The home, which was only recently renovated, has one of the most modern and pleasing annexations of rest room, embalming room, preparation room, chapel, display room, slumber room and choir, which are excellently furnished and admirably kept.

The equipment used in the funeral home is of the most modern and of the finest calibre. Ambulance service is also an integral part of this home and as such is available at all times. Mr. Fred Perry, an assistant to Mr. Compton, has been in the latter's service for the last four years.

The grounds outside the building are indicative of what the inside portrays, they being laid out remarkably well and are beautified by many flowers which are cultivated each year by Mr. Compton.

The funeral home is now celebrating its 74th anniversary of satisfactory service.

Tignish

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Oliver were recent visitors here from the U. S. A. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bernard of Haverhill, Mass., have returned to their home after a pleasant holiday on the Island where they were the guests of Mrs. Hazel Cameron.

Mrs. Hammond Johnston, Charlottetown is a guest at the home of her brother, Mr. Kenneth R. Matthews.

Mr. and Mrs. James O'Brien were visitors to Grand Ave. recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John S. McKinnon.

Miss Jean Wallace is spending a holiday at the home of her aunt Mrs. Lorne Leard, Alberton.

Miss Lawrence and Master Willard Morrissey, Tignish, have returned after a pleasant holiday with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. O'Brien.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Callbeck were recent guests at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Claude MacNeill and Mr. MacNeill.

Miss Frances Christopher, Tignish spent a brief holiday recently at the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. O'Brien.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bradshaw, Summerside were recent visitors with the latter's mother Mrs. Basil MacNeill.

Mrs. Emerson Hardy was a recent visitor to Charlottetown with her mother, Mrs. Melvin McAusland, who has been ill. Mrs. McAusland's many friends here are pleased to know she is recovering from her recent illness.

A very pleasant evening was spent on Saturday, July 28, when about forty women—neighbours and friends—invaded the home of Mrs. Basil MacNeill to welcome her home from Toronto where she had spent the past several months. Mrs. MacNeill was the recipient of many useful gifts for her pantry, accompanied by the good wishes of all. Mrs. Barton Stewart presented the guest of honour with each gift and Miss Betty MacNeill placed them on a large table. Although Mrs. MacNeill was completely taken by surprise, in a brief speech, she thanked one and all for the kindness shown. The singing of "For She's A Jolly Good Fellow" was followed by delicious refreshments daintily served by Mrs. Ralph Rennie, Miss Betty MacNeill, Mrs. Clark and Leigh MacNeill, Mrs. Maxwell Cameron, and Mrs. Burton Stewart.

When Verdun No. 133 came into existence, it was organized on the night of the great victory at Verdun, hence its name. It flourished and was successful for a time, when one by one the interested members began to move away and the others began to lose heart and interest; in the end the Lodge lost its usefulness and all efforts to revive it failed. Down through the years, however, Oddfellowship has progressed steadily in Charlottetown, Summerside, Alberton and Montague, and the Lodges in these communities are doing splendid work in propagating the principles of the Order.

At a meeting of Acadians held at St. Jacques-d'Emmont, Bay a resolution was unanimously adopted requesting the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to authorize operation of a French-speaking radio station in P.E.I. Most Rev. James Boyle, Bishop of Charlottetown, attended.

Large Attendance

crowned beauty queen, Miss Donalda MacLeod of Victoria and her four princesses Misses Roma Cavannah, Jennie Kowanz, Lorena Rooney and Anne Ruth Boswell. One of the highlights of the gathering was the excellent program of musical selections by the New Glasgow Girls Highland Pipe Band under the direction of 12-year-old Pipe Major Fay MacKie. Composed of 17 girl pipers, the band received an ovation of applause from the large crowd as their lilting Scottish strains echoed and re-echoed through the hills and valleys of beautiful Strathgartney. Pipe Major Fraser Holmes, who piped for most of the highland dancing, is the instructor of the girl's band.

Athletic Program

The athletic portion of the program also provided keen entertainment when large entry lists in seven lists in seven events displayed the best in good sportsmanship and athletic prowess, the first and second place winners being engaged with the name of the visiting honored guest, Chief Flora MacDonald.

In the hammer throwing competitions Bill MacMillan of Wood Islands placed first with his brother, Stewart MacMillan running him a close second. Their distances were 120 feet and 81 feet.

J. K. MacDonald of Kilmuir was the winner of the shot put with a heave of 40 feet four inches, while Ronnie Atkinson, City, was runner-up with a distance of just two feet less.

In a keenly contested broad jumping event, Wendall Barrett, City, was top winner with an 18 foot, 11 inch jump, while Burt Lank, also of Charlottetown, placed second with 16 feet six inches. Fred Finness of Vernon tossed the caber a distance of 35 feet to win that event while Stewart MacMillan took his second prize of the day with a toss of 29 feet three inches.

Elwin Corbett of Milton, was the fleet footed youngster to head the list in the boys 12-year-old run, while Wendall Barrett, while Wendall Mayne was second. Both winners are from the City.

Officials who presided over the sporting events were C. Spurgeon Judson, formerly of Pownal but now of Philadelphia, J. K. MacDonald, Kilmuir and Clarence Walker, City.

Highland Dancing

The Highland dancing competitions drew great interest and all the competitors were roundly applauded. In the junior class, nine years and under, and closed to Prince Edward Island entrants, there were seven competitors. First place was awarded Beverly Jewell, Cornwall, and second to Norma Howatt, Cornwall.

In the senior closed Highland Fling closed competition, Jessie McGowan, Kilmuir, placed first, and Barbara Stewart took second. There were some eleven contestants.

Evelyn MacKinnon won first place in the open competition for the Highland Fling in which some twenty-five participated. Patsy MacKay, New Glasgow, was runner-up.

Pipers for the dancing were, Fraser Holmes, Trenton, N.S., and Fay MacKie, New Glasgow.

Judging the dancing were, Mrs. J. Woilrige-Gordon, Mrs. Earl Taylor, Mrs. Creighton and Miss Beverly Cameron.

Catering on the grounds was by the Women's Institutes of Bonshaw, New Haven, Aryle Shore, Riverdale and Churchill.

15 Air Cadets Leave Today For Summer Camp

Fifteen members of Summerside Air Cadet Squadron and two officers will leave this morning on an R. C. A. F. plane for two weeks summer camp at Greenwood, N. S. The officers are Flying Officer Harold MacLeod and Flying Officer Derek Hughes.

This is quite a treat for the Summerside boys because for the first time in three years they are getting away from home for their camp. During recent years R. C. A. C. Station, Summerside, has played hosts to cadets from other parts of the Maritimes and this was not much fun for the local cadets who did not get a trip at all. This year they are not only getting a trip but going by air as well.

During the two week period they will have an intensive program of drill, lectures, tours of various sections of the station and what will be considered best of all, flying. There will also be sports and entertainment. Camp will break on Saturday, August 18th and the cadets will probably return by air as well. Flying Officer Elmer Pineau, Adjutant of the squadron, returned on Friday evening from attending another camp.

Sudden Death While On Visit To Alberton

The very sudden and unexpected passing of Miss Annie O'Brien Winnipeg, occurred at Alberton yesterday morning while attending mass at the Sacred Heart Church, Alberton, apparently suffering a heart attack. The deceased was attended by Dr. Shea and the last rites of the church were administered by Rev. Father Monaghan.

A former resident of Alma, P.E.I., Miss O'Brien arrived from Winnipeg about a month ago to visit her old home at Alma. She is survived by three brothers, Con and Peter of Alma, and Auisin in Calgary. Two sisters, Mary at Athabaska Landing, Alberta and Margaret in Winnipeg.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Reds Patch

tor, called the Reds' attention to the troops' presence at Saturday's meeting.

The New China News Agency correspondent alleged that Joy had proposed a meeting Sunday afternoon at the Alberton Club. The broadcast implied, without directly stating, that Joy thus had been satisfied all along. "However, the other side has now made this accidental affair a pretext for not coming to Kesong." The Reds' spokesman asserted. There was no immediate confirmation of any of this from the Allies.

In Sharp Message

General Ridgway broke off the conference in a sharp message to the Reds at 6 a.m. Sunday (5 p.m. EDT Saturday). Neither of the Red broadcasts said just when on Sunday morning they had sent their explanation to the U. N. leaders.

Instead, the Peiping radio beamed the Allies for not showing up at the scheduled hour of 11 a.m. Sunday.

Red Explanation

The Red explanation said the soldiers whom Ridgway and Joy objected were merely proceeding to a meeting to discuss details of guarding the conference area. It added that both North Korean and Chinese commanders had ordered the guard commander to make sure his troops did not enter the conference area again.

There was no inkling whether Ridgway would consider this explanation satisfactory or this assurance adequate. It was the second time since the negotiations started July 10 that Ridgway had halted them on the grounds the Reds were violating the pledged neutrality of the Kesong area.

The Peiping broadcast was attributed to a New China News Agency correspondent in Kesong. This is the official Chinese Communist agency. Earlier today, the Pyongyang Radio, official mouthpiece of the North Korean Reds, charged that American "insincerity" in the Kesong talks had shattered all its hopes for a peaceful solution. Reuters' News Agency quoted Allied officers as saying in off-the-record conversations that expectations of a cease-fire in the Korean war have dwindled nearly to zero.

The talks have been deadlocked for the last six days on where to draw a demarcation line for a demilitarized zone across Korea. The Reds insisted the line be centred on the 38th parallel. The Allies want it along defensible positions, south of 38 in the west and north of that old political boundary in the centre and east.

Death At S'ide Of Mr. J.Z. Gallant

The death occurred last evening at his home on King Street, Summerside, of Mr. Joseph Z. Gallant in his 76th year. The late Mr. Gallant was a respected resident of the town and for many years up to his retirement eight years ago was an employee of R. T. Holman Ltd.

He had been ill about two months. He is survived by his widow and the following sons and daughters: Edward and Joseph in Toronto, Wilbert and Gustie at home, Ida, Mrs. Joseph Arsenault, Beatrice, Mrs. Wilfred Arsenault, both of Summerside, Alice, Mrs. Savte, Montreal, and Peggy at home.

He is also survived by a brother Sylvère Gallant in Seattle, Washington. Funeral services will be held on Wednesday morning at St. Paul's Church. Burial will be in St. Paul's cemetery.—S.

Holland Cove Camp

The second of three Y.M.C.A. camps this summer was completed August 1st when 44 campers arrived back at their homes. A total of 48 boys, ages 8 to 11 were in camp for the thirteen day period.

Campers were in six groups, each group having a counsellor in charge. Soon after arriving the boys selected Indian names and groups and as a special event a big Indian day was held. The high point of camp life was the sleep-out on Monday night. Previously the tribes had constructed an outdoor bivouac from evergreen boughs, moss, branches, and small items. The boys then moved into their Monday evening bivouacs and returned to camp next day. The boys were very enthusiastic about this and would have returned to their homes in the woods the next evening had it not been the last night at camp.

Campers also enjoyed archery, hikes, crafts, woodcraft and special events. On Saturday the whole camp enjoyed a field day. High point winners at this were Bobby Simmonds and Ronny Burden with 21 points each.

Every morning at eleven there was swimming instruction under the direction of Don Clark and Charlie Hine.

On closing night swimming cards were awarded as follows: Beginners: Marvin Block, Alan Brady, Donnie Constable, Bobby Cox, Donald Currie, Floyd Hicken, Darrell Jenkins, Gordon Lank, David Large, Gerry Lavers, Eldon Lutz, Roger MacDonald, John Massey, Gerry Matthews, Ian Miller, Jimmy Mitchell, Donald Pickard, Sonny Pippy, David Rodd, Maurice Ross, Roy Scantlebury, Bobbie Waugh, Ronnie Waugh, Raymond Wilson, Maurice Wood, Preston Wotton. W.I. Executive Discuss Handicraft Exhibit Plans

The first meeting of the newly-elected executive of the P. E. I. Women's Institute met in Central Office rooms at 11 a.m. Aug. 3rd, with an almost perfect attendance.

After the introduction of new members, the president, Mrs. Harold Laird, proceeded with the business of the meeting. Main topics discussed included arrangements for the Handicraft Exhibit at the coming Provincial Exhibition; Institute programmes for fall and winter months; the appointment of: (a) publicity director, (b) radio director and (c) representatives to F. W. I. C.; and the acceptance of a resolution on rural health.

Much interest was expressed in the plans for demonstrations to be held in the Handicraft Building at the Exhibition. These will cover a larger scope than previous years, and will include demonstrations in pottery, basketry, wood-working, and silver. There will also be an interesting sketching project, as well as the usual display of sewing, cooking and garden products. Another booth will be operated by Homecraft.

The Handicraft Building will be open for inspection on Monday night, when it is expected that judging of sewing exhibits will have been completed. Regret was expressed that the building must be closed on Tuesday until 6 p.m., in order that the receiving of entries and the judging of the cooking and flower classes may be done without interference during the day. This ruling is restrictive for those visiting the Fair on Tuesday, but it is a necessary one.

The problem of canned goods opened for judging was discussed, and it was decided that in order to avoid fermentation, the contents of cans be immediately processed in sterilized sealers.

Mention was made of complaints about exhibitors who bordered on the professional class in cooking. It was agreed that there is a necessity for an "open" class in cooking as well as in the flower class, but because the prize list this year did not include such, this will be put into effect next year.

After recess for luncheon, business was resumed.

Mrs. Gates having declined to reconsider her resignation as publicity director owing to the pressure of other duties, several names for the office were submitted for approval of the meeting. It was decided to invite Mrs. Laughlin of Sherbrooke to look after publicity for the present term. Appreciation for Mrs. Gates' service was expressed by all, and regret for her absence at future meetings.

It was unanimously agreed that Mrs. Herring be invited to direct radio programmes, with power to add to her committee.

The president, Mrs. Laird, was elected F. W. I. C. representative for two biennial terms, with Mrs. MacLeod, the past president, to serve one term.

Since the "Associated Country Women of the World" (A.C.W.W.) Conference will meet in Canada in 1953—to which Conference this Province is entitled to send five delegates—it was agreed that a fund must be set up to defray expenses. It was suggested that the best way of accumulating the necessary funds would be to increase the annual membership fee to thirty-five cents.

During the discussion concerning Institute News, the presidents (past, present, and vice-president) agreed to edit the News for the coming year. Included will be news from A.C.W.W. and F. W. I. C., as well as provincial and local contributions.

The resolution on rural health was submitted. This resolution was presented by the Federation of Agriculture for approval, and dealt with the problem of obtaining general practitioners in medicine for rural areas. It was decided to have the resolution worded in order to make its meaning more clearly defined before its approval by the Executive.

Mrs. Laird, Mrs. Matheson and Mrs. MacKinnon were appointed to act as the policy committee for the present term.

Upon motion the meeting adjourned.
