Then Her Love Grew Cold.
Not long ago a servant living in Derbyshire gave notice to leave her situation, informing her mistress that she was about to be married. As the time drew near for leaving she addressed her mistress thus: "Please, ma'am, have you got a girl yet?" "No, Bridget. Why do you ask?" "Because if you haven't I should like to stay." "What! I thought you were going to marry the chimney sweep!" "Oh, yes, ma'am," replied Bridget hesitatingly, "but when I saw him after his face was washed I felt I couldn't love him."—Answers.

When the Ass Spoke to Him.
A doctor at one of the London hospitals was one day lecturing to a class of medical students, when he stopped and asked a question which for some time none of them answered. But one man, who had never answered a question before and was looked upon as the fool of the class, answered him correctly. The doctor was astonished and stared at the man in amazement. "You look surprised, sir," said the student. "So did Balaam," was the doctor's sharp reply.—Argonaut.

The Mad Mollah.
Todgers (with the evening paper)—I see the mad mollah is at it again.
Mrs. Todgers (who doesn't read the papers)—I should say she was. She broke down the fence this afternoon and chased me half way to the trolley station.
"Wh-what are you talking about?"
"Why, that mad mooley cow of Hopwood's."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Jolly" a King.
One day, when George IV was talking about his youthful exploits before the Duke of Wellington, he boasted of having led a charge of cavalry down the Devil's Dyke, near Brighton. Upon which the Duke of Wellington merely observed to him, "Very steep, sir."—Household Words.

An Anglomanie Bird.
"Can that parrot talk English?" asked the shopper.
"He just can," said the dealer, with much enthusiasm. "He won't talk United States at all. When you ask him if Polly wants a cracker, he answers, 'Polly wants a biscuit.'"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Vain Longing.
Ardup looked up bitterly from the book he was reading. The words "one touch of nature" had caught his eye and had started a train of thought.
"I wish it were possible," he soliloquized. "I've touched everybody else."—Chicago Tribune.

Bald as a Billiard Ball.
Tomtom—What in the world has old Baldpate gone west for?

THE CAT CAME BACK.

That's a peculiarity of cats; they always do; so do the thousands of persons who buy their Clothing from us. They don't return from force of habit merely like the feline, but because they have learned that in the three great essentials—Quantity, Quality and Price—we are never found wanting. A matter worthy of your careful attention is our line of Men's Ulsters at $3.95, $4.50, $5, $6, $7, $8, $9, $10, $12.

MISCHIEVOUS BOYS

All boys who amount to "shucks" are mischievous—so it is said—still they do wear out clothing very fast. There fore any possible saving on these essentials must be taken advantage of. Here is an opportunity right now. We have just put on sale some boys' and youths' Overcoats at very nearly tq

COST LINE

Tributes to the wearing qualities of our Clothing are coming to us every day in the shape of new customers sent by old patrons. That is an indorsement worth having. We want you to become a new customer now. If you intend to buy a suit you want to feel certain that you will get 100 cents of value for every dollar invested. You may do this at other stores? you are certain to do it at ours.

You may get over that slight cold all right, but it has left its mark on the membranes lining your throat. You are liable to take another cold and the second one will hang on longer than the first. Scott's Emulsion is not an ordinary cough specific, but it is "the ounce of prevention." It builds up the system, checks inflammation and heals inflamed membranes. "Slight" colds never bring serious results when it is promptly taken.

THERMOMETER TALES.

The Temperature Taker and What the Patients Thought of It.
To people who are fortunately unfamiliar with sickness the thermometers used in taking the temperature of patients are always a source of considerable interest. A professional nurse whose experience has led her to numerous localities and brought her in contact with many phases of life tells two stories which illustrate the foregoing statement.
In one of the local hospitals she had a male patient who was threatened with a run of fever. As she approached his bedside one morning he querulously complained of a lack of nourishment. "I didn't get enough to eat," he said. "I feel almost starved."
"Well, well," she said soothingly, "we will see about that. "Here," she added, "let me put this in your mouth."
She inserted the thermometer between his teeth and turned away a moment. When she looked back, he was working the bulb around between his jaws at a great rate.
"Hold on!" she cried, "You will break the thermometer!"
He drew in his cheeks and apparently gave a mighty pull on the little instrument, and then she removed it.
"Say," he grumbled, "there's no use giving me that. I couldn't suck a blame thing out of it."
Another patient, a woman, begged of the nurse for a drink.
"Wait," said the nurse and thrust the thermometer in her mouth.
The patient lay back on her pillow and placidly closed her eyes. A satisfied expression slowly stole over her face. When the time was up, the nurse withdrew the tube.
"Why," said the patient, with a sigh of gratification, "what a lot of good a little thing like that will do you."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Reflections of a Bachelor.
No man can be very lazy in a mosquito section.
Before love grew blind it became very farsighted.
No woman who believes in cookbooks believes in total depravity.
It's a smart girl that can keep a man thinking long enough that he's only flirting with her.
The trouble with women in politics is that they are always wanting to rip the government up and see if it will go bias.—New York Press.

To Save Repairs.
A son of the Emerald Isle who had commenced building a wall round his lot of rather uncommon dimensions—viz, four feet high and six feet thick—was asked the object of it by a friend.
"To save repairs, my honey. Don't you see that if it ever falls down it will be higher than it is now?"—Nuggets.

The Law's Delays.
"Oh, the law's delays!" sighed the fair young girl.
How they tried her heart.
Her case had dragged along for years and years.
When—when, oh, when would young Lawyer Siroome Locution proceed—Brooklyn Life.

Not to Be Outclasssed.
"No," said Mr. Hubblets, "I don't find the atmosphere of refinement here that we have in Boston."
Miss Westlake—Oh, if you're looking for an atmosphere of refinement, we can furnish that too! We have a branch of the Standard Oil works here.—Chicago News.
