PROBLEMS IN ANIMAL LIFE.

Some of the Unaccountable Things Done by Birds, Fowls, Beasts and Insects.

The greyhound runs by sight only, says the Philadelphia Times. This is a fact. The carrier pigeon flies his hundreds of miles homeward by eyesight, noting from point to point objects that he has marked. This is only conjecture. The dragon fly, with 12,000 lenses in his eye, darts from angle to angle with the rapidity of a flashing sword, and as rapidly darts back, not turning in the air, but with a clash reversing the action of his fours wings and instantaneously calculating the distance of the objects or he would dash himself to pieces. But in what conformation of the eye does this power consist? No one can answer.

Ten thousand mosquitoes dance up and down in the sun, with the minutest interval between them, yet no one knocks another headlong on the grass or breaks a leg or a wing, long and delicate as they are. Suddenly a peculiar, high-shouldered, vicious creature, with long and pendant nose, darts out of the rising and falling cloud and, settling on your cheek, inserts a poisonous sting. What possessed the little wretch to do this? Did he smell your blood while he was dancing? No one knows.

A carriage comes suddenly upon some geese in a narrow road and driver straight through the flock. A goose was never yet fairly run over, nor a duck. They are under the very wheels and hoofs, and yet they contrive to flap and waddle safely off. Habitually stupid, heavy and indolent, they are, nevertheless, equal to any emergency.

Why does the lonely woodpecker, when he descends from his tree and goes to drink, stop several times on his way and listen and look around him before he takes his draught? No one knows. How is it that the species of ant which is taken in battle by other ants to be made slaves should be the black or negro ant? No one knows.

The power of judging actual danger and the free and easy boldness that results from it are by no means uncommon. Many birds seem to have a correct notion of a gun's range, and are scrupulously careful to keep beyond it. The most obvious resource, would be to fly right away out of sight and hearing, but this they do not choose to do.

A naturalist of Brazil give an account of an expedition that he made to one of the islands of the Amazon to shoot spoonbills, ibises and other magnificient birds which are abundant there. His design was completely baffled, however, by a wretched little sand-piper, which preceded him, continually uttering his tell tale cry, which at once aroused all the birds within hearing. Throughout the day did this individual bird continue its self-imposed duty of sentinel to others, effectually preventing the approach of the hunter to the game and yet managing to keep out of the range of his gun.

Dairy Notes.

The best foods for blood are the best for milk production.

Neglecting to salt the cows regularly is often a cause of the butter not coming.

Take care of the young cows, that they may continue profitable when they are old.

Sour the milk and the sugar in it is all changed to acid; this has little or no feeding value.

The dairy farm must be reasonably fertile if the best quality of milk is produced at the lowest cost.

In the dairy, as in other lines of feeding, it is well to remember that it requires fully one-half the food that an animal can consume to sustain it and that the profits must come from the last half.

While the calf is probably the most effective milking machine so far known, he is not a profitable one to operate. He doesn't milk clean and takes too heavy toll for the returns he makes. Yet thousands of him are in use every year. Isn't there a heavy loss here for some one?

The Power of Conscience.

The proverb, "A guilty conscience needs no accuser," has been discounted in one Maine village by the effects of a general accusation published in the local paper. A tradesman had missed articles from his stock from time to time, and at length the clerk saw a woman take things she did not buy and pay for. This furnished the desired opportunity. An advertisement in the paper over the merchant's signature said that he had positive proof that "some of the best ladies" of the town had taken articles from his store, and if matters were not fixed up there would be a rumpus. This was only last week, and so far four women have been in to "settle up," with possibly more to follow. One woman came from an adjoining town to admit that she took up an article one day with the thought of stealing it, but repented and put it back again. In these cases the guilty conscience alone was not enough to do business; the accuser was needed as well.—Boston Journal.

A New Lingerie Material.

Women who are fastidious concerning the daintiness of their lingerie will be pleased to hear of a new material for making the undergarments. Heretofore French batiste has excelled all other fabrics in delicacy of texture; elegantes have for some time past refused to buy any other stuff. But really batiste is shockingly expensive, and besides it is too frail to endure the rough handling usually meted out to one's cloths in the laundry. Fancy, then, what a boon is the discovery of China linen, imported direct from the Orient and possessing every imaginable virtue. The goods is woven of attenuated threads of ramie, is thin and light, has a marvelous gloss and is cool as rose leaves next the skin. Its wearing qualities are surpassing, and even from the crudest washing it comes out crisp and smooth as satin. The best grade is 36 inches wide and costs about 95 cents a yard and once used it wins and holds its own.

Being Agreeable.

"Harry," said the hostess to her son, "why don't you make yourself agreeable to the gentleman in the corner?"

"Who—the inventor?"

"Yes."

"I tried," was the despondent answer, "but he won't talk of anything except his airship."

"Can't you say something about that—something nice and encouraging?"

"I did."

"What was it?"

"I told him that, judging from his description, there were no flies on it."

LANSING, Mich., July 2—A friend of William Langley formerly of this city, now of London Ont., received a letter a few months ago stating that Mr. Langley had Bright's disease. Of course no hope of his recovery could be held out. Within a month, the same friend has received a letter from Mr. Langley stating that he is completely cured of the supposed fatal disorder. Mr. Langley says no medicine did him any good until he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. These helped him from the first and in the end restored him to perfect health.

CAUSE OF BOWEL COMPLAINTS.

The direct cause of pain and looseness of the bowels, is an irritation of the mucous membrane of the same, sufficient to produce excessive peristaltic or worm-like motion in the interior of the bowels, thus the partly digested food matter is kept constantly passing along and evacuated freely. This is called a diarrhœa; where the irritation is enough to cause bleeding, we have dysentery. Indirect causes of diarrhœa, by which an irritation is started are intestinal dyspepsia, overeating unripe or over-ripe fruit, tainted meats, or oysters etc.; torpor of liver, by which not enough bile is secreted; excessive flow of bile, etc.; TREATMENT. Thoroughly evacuate the bowls with Parsons' Pills, they are among the best to get rid of all irritating matter. Then take Johnson's Anodyne Liniment in teaspoonful doses diluted with water, every four hours, and oftener if the case is severe. In case of Asiatic cholera, one teaspoonful should be given every half hour. Thousands of people remember the year 1849, when the worse known epidemic disease spread over this country. Johnson's Anodyne Liniment at that time was little known outside of the state of Maine. But for its use at that time by its friends, many would not now live to spread the joyful news that any case of diarrhœe, dysentery, cholera-morbus, or kindred diseases, can be cured by Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. It nevr yet failed. The proprietors, I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., will send their new illustrated book, entitled "TREATMENT FOR DISEASES," free to any person for the asking. July 25
