Closed Session Asked In Hearing

The public and press may be excluded from the preliminary hearing in the case of Mrs. Phyllis Ethel Dickieson, New Glasgow, charged with the theft of some $21,000 from the New Glasgow Dairy Co., if defence lawyer, Kenneth R. MacDonald, can present sufficient authority to warrant such action.

Queen's County Magistrate James B. Johnston, QC, presiding at the opening of the hearing yesterday adjourned the case to Jan. 31 to give Mr. MacDonald opportunity to search for the authority.

At the beginning of proceedings Mr. MacDonald made request for exclusion of the public and the press, stating that this was not an ordinary case, the accused being a woman, and the large amount of money being involved.

He stated that the ends of justice would be best served by a closed hearing in that public knowledge gained from the enquiry could influence a jury and bring on more public attention.

Crown prosecutor Alan Scales argued that these reasons were not sufficient. This was only a theft case, he said, and it was presupposing a great deal that more gossip would be caused. There was no precedence to show that the ends of justice would be served best by this action.

Magistrate Johnston stated that Mr. MacDonald must show some authority to the effect that this case deserved special consideration, and at the latter's request, over objections by Mr. Scales, granted him a week in which to do so.

It was reported by Dr. G. G. Houston that Dr. T. A. Laidlaw had been re-appointed chief of staff and Dr. L. S. Cox is chairman of the medical staff.

The property committee chairman, D. N. Bell, said that the work of connecting the heating system for the nursing school with the main boilers in the heating plant of the hospital was proceeding satisfactorily. He stated that the work should be completed within two weeks.

A. G. MacMillan presented the financial statement and William Hayward presided. Reports were also heard from the senior and junior ladies aids.

Wind Rolls Snowballs

An unusual sight was reported yesterday by Bill MacLaren and Allison Horne who saw snow rolled up into balls and rolls of various sizes Wednesday evening, as they drove past the Charlottetown airport and out the Brackley Point Road.

Some of the rolls were practically round and more than a foot thick. Others were about three feet in length and as thick as a nail keg, Mr. MacLaren said.

Apparently the wind caught the snow and rolled it up much as a youngster rolls a snowball, or in some cases as though some were rolling the base of a snowman, it was explained. The unusual rolls and balls of snow were seen all over the fields, and they were noticed as far out as Harold Stead's place on the Brackley Point Road, Mr. MacLaren stated.

FIRE FUND TOTAL IS $2,300

The fire fund for Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Jackson of Mount Stewart soared to $2,309 yesterday largely as the result of donations taken in at the Mount Stewart branch of the Royal Bank of Canada.

Meanwhile contributions have been coming in steadily at the offices of The Evening Patriot, sponsor of the fund, with $79 collected yesterday.

News of the tragic fire that took the life of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson's son Carl, has reached into the United States through this newspaper and contributions have started to come in from Massachusetts.

A donation of $10 was received from Mrs. Margaret Donohue of Paris Steet, Medford, Mass., and her daughter Rita. In a short note Mrs. Donohue, a mother of a large family, sent her heartfelt sympathy to the Jackson family.
