Prospects For Pickup In Employment Locally

Adverse weather is hampering the return to employment of many people in Charlottetown, and the rest of Kings and Queens Counties. The National Employment Office in Charlottetown, which administers the National Employment Insurance for Prince County, reports that the long winter has undoubtedly put a damper on the resumption of construction work and many other activities in the Province. Officials of the local Office further states, that the past winter because of its severity, resulted in more men being seasonally unemployed than for many years, and the number of people drawing claims reached a new high. At the peak of unemployment in March and February, more than three thousand people in Kings and Queens Counties were drawing unemployment insurance. These figures apply to Kings and Queens Counties only; the Prince County figures are compiled by the National Employment Office in Summerside, which administers unemployment insurance for Prince County. It is understood that the Summerside Office, paid benefits to approximately eighteen to nineteen hundred people during the peak winter season. During the past week there has been some evidence that seasonal unemployment is coming to an end. A number of the larger employers have placed orders with the Charlottetown Office for men, and there is every indication that most of the out-of-work people will soon be re-employed.

CONSTRUCTION OUTLOOK The outlook for the construction industry is particularly good with a number of fairly large projects already approved, and only awaiting favourable weather to get underway. These projects include the new Charlottetown High School, the new Royal Bank, the very large extension to the Prince Edward Island Hospital, and the construction of the new naval headquarters on Pownal wharf. These are the biggest jobs contemplated, but there are a number of others which will engage many carpenters and construction workers. Aside from the very promising construction outlook, fishing operations will resume on May 1st, when the lobster season opens, and the numerous packing plants in Kings and Queens Counties, will provide employment for hundreds of men and women. The two large fish processing plants, Eastern Packers and Griffin Fisheries in Souris alone will give employment both ashore and afloat to upward of seven hundred workers.

STREET REPAIRS It is expected also that the City of Charlottetown will take on its usual complement of men for the repair of streets and general maintenance work to the number of one hundred. The Provincial Government will continue its building of remaining portions of the Trans-Canada Highway and in addition will do the usual amount of bridge construction and repair of damaged highways. Companies like Central Creameries, and other dairies will re-engage a number of men as the highways improve, and the amount of milk and cream reaching the dairies increases because of better highway travelling conditions.

DOMINION GOVERNMENT projects and general maintenance work will also play a big part in reducing unemployment. There is much work to do in the National Park in the way of highway construction, and a large bridge at Rustico is planned. The Rustico bridge is part of a larger project a highway which will skirt the National Park and connect the Stanhope area with Rustico. When this connecting link between Rustico and Stanhope is completed along with other highway projects, tourists will have a scenic view of the ocean along the entire coast front of the National Park.

In other parts of the Province, the Dominion Department of Public Works will be carrying out improvements to harbours and wharves, and these lesser projects in total will provide employment for hundreds of men.

Walter Wheeler, newly elected president of the Board and Henry MacWilliam were declared winners by judges Allan Holman, past president of the Maritime Provinces Board of Trade and A. Walter Gaudet, secretary of the Charlottetown Senior Board of Trade. The two semi-finalists will compete with Robert E. Younker in the local finals to be held at the next regular meeting of the Board on May 2nd.

One of the very active committees in the Junior Board of Trade, the effective speaking committee, thus completed their years training and were highly commended by the judges for their outstanding presentations.

LADIES LEGION Auxiliary Meets With 21 members present, the president opened the April meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Charlottetown Branch of the Canadian Legion last night. Minutes of the last meeting, of an executive meeting, and the financial report were read and accepted. The ways and means committee reported catering to the B.I.S. banquet. The house committee reported progress in decorating of rooms. A letter was read from the Red Cross commissioner asking for assistance at the forthcoming blood donors clinic. By unanimous decision, it was decided to offer the usual services and many ladies volunteered to help. Mrs. Foley was appointed to serve on the Playground Commission. After the meeting adjourned, lunch was served by the refreshment committee.

SLIDE BLOCKS BRIDGE BRANTFORD, Ont. (CP) - The Cockshutt bridge, a heavily-travelled structure over the Grand River at Brantford's southern limits, was closed to traffic Wednesday after a massive slide of thousands of tons of earth, rock and trees. County Engineer Ross Cox said it could not yet be estimated when the bridge would be reopened.

Experiences At U. N. Commission Are Described

Miss Helen Yeo, who recently returned from New York, was guest speaker at the University Women's Club meeting held last night in the University School. Miss Yeo, one of the club members, had the signal honor of receiving a fellowship from the Business and Professional Women's Club as a delegate to the Status of Women Commission of the United Nations. She described very vividly her experiences while attending these sessions. Some topics on the agenda she heard discussed were: political rights and access for women to education. Two achievements of the commission were the political rights of women and the convention on the nationality of women. Miss Yeo outlined some of the highlights of the work carried on by the Status of Women Commission and emphasized the contribution of the members of the International Federation of University Women.

The business part of the meeting was presided over by Miss Doris Anderson. Mrs. Lawson reported that the musical evening held on April 12th had an outstanding success in every respect, and she voiced the appreciation of the club for the very fine entertainment presented by the performers.

The possibilities for a study group on puppets were discussed enthusiastically by Mrs. Lothian. Mrs. Lawson very kindly invited the members to her summer home in Inkerman for the next meeting which will be the annual one.

Nurses Hear Dr. O'Hanley On Rh Dr. O'Hanley emphasized that "to prevent the death of these babies, every mother must have her blood grouping determined and further to this, every child of an Rh negative mother should have early diagnostic tests performed at birth to determine whether the blood is normal."

As Dr. O'Hanley explained, the technique of the transfusion, he demonstrated the equipment which is used. Assisting with the demonstration at the morning session was Miss Frances MacMillan, R.N. and with the evening session sister Mary Hermina, R.N., B.Sc. Both nurses repeated the demonstration of use of equipment for a small group of nurses as they examined it at close view.

ACCREDITATION The three day Institute for Nurses closed with a talk on accreditation of nursing schools by Mrs. Vernon Bolger, R.N., Executive Secretary of the Association of Nurses. Mrs. Bolger traced the steps leading to the way to accreditation of nursing schools in Canada and pointed out the purposes and values of such a program to the nursing school, the nursing student, the nursing profession and the general public.

She said, "We are following the pattern set by other academic and professional groups when we take the responsibility for evaluating our own educational programs." "It has been through accreditation of educational programs that other professional groups as doctors, lawyers and college professors have raised their standards and thus have provided better service to the public.

"We cannot truly be called a profession if we do not take in this responsibility. We must guarantee our own product, which is the well equipped graduate nurse. The Public is at the mercy of nurses and we must insure that it is the tender mercy of a nurse skilled in meeting the needs of this public."

Funeral Yesterday Of R. E. Mutch The funeral of the late R.E. Mutch was held from his residence, 185 Euston St. yesterday afternoon to Trinity United Church where service was conducted by Rev. Dr. A.S. Weir and Rev. G. Howard Christie. During the service the Male Eight sang "God Is Waiting."

The active pall bearers were Justice George J. Tweedy, Capt. C.B. Huter, Dr. Frank MacKinnon, Dr. D.T. Wray, Arthur H. Peake, Walter Pickard.

Interment was in Sherwood Cemetery, service being conducted by Dr. Weir and Mr. Christie. The funeral was very largely attended.

He so dependent on her in so many ways." PILOT STUDY Nurses learned that the Canadian Nurses' Association is proceeding with a plan for evaluation of twenty nursing schools in Canada during the next two years. This is done in preparation for accreditation of all nursing schools on a voluntary basis at some later date. This Evaluation or "Pilot Study" of schools will cost about $50,000.

Nurses were edified to learn that the Executive of the Canadian Nurses' Association voted $10,000 of its capital funds to be expended on this project. There are 48,000 members of the Canadian Nurses' Association, 985 of whom are "Island" Nurses. It is contemplated that the rest of the cost of the pilot study will be financed by contributions from individual nurse members who will be proud to participate in a program for improving nursing education and nursing service in Canada.

Miss Ruth Ross, President of the Association of Nurses, expressed her appreciation and the thanks of all nurses who attended the Nurses' Institute, for the stimulating, well organized program presented by the Nursing Service Committee under the chairmanship of Sister Mary Patricia, R.N., Surgical Supervisor at the Charlottetown Hospital. She extended thanks, too, to the Directors of the two Charlottetown Nursing Schools in arranging for auditorium space to hold the meetings.

Miss Geraldine MacDonald, R.N., staff nurse at the Charlottetown Hospital, presided at the evening session.

Inquest Held Last Night In Death Of Charlottetown Man

"That Joseph John Francis Wedge came to his death on Wednesday, March 27, 1957 at the Charlottetown Hospital and that the cause of death was a toxic reaction of ethylene glycol and diethylene glycol taken into the system by an unknown method", was the verdict given by a coroner's jury assembled at the City Hall last night. Members of the jury were: Wendell Beaton (foreman), Ernest Maclellan, Raymond Archer, Thomas Davies, Clark Innis, Elmer Maclellan and Harold Larler. The jury deliberated for almost an hour before returning the above verdict.

Having read Section 13 (3) of the amended Coroner's Act, which provides that a jury may not view the body if the coroner decides that it is unnecessary and obtains the assent of the Attorney-General, Dr. L.E. Prowse, the coroner, summoned the first witness, Dr. T.L. Farmer. Dr. Farmer said he was called to see the deceased at 5:00 p.m. on March 24, but was unable to go; he next saw the deceased on March 25, in Hospital, and noted a marked change in his condition.

The second witness, Dr. Allan MacMillan said he was called on March 24 and saw the deceased, inhibited other dangerous symptoms, the amended Coroner's Act, which who appeared dehydrated and exalted and the following day suffered the deceased was taken to Hospital. His condition rapidly deteriorated in spite of all efforts to rectify it, and he soon passed away. The next two witnesses were the step-mother and step-brother, respectively of the deceased, Mrs. Mary Wedge and Andrew Wedge, both of 7 Stewart Street. The latter the events of the illness suffered by the deceased, and he concluded that the presence of ethylene was the reason such changes occurred; it was beyond a reasonable doubt.

The jury strongly recommended that any anti-freeze containing toxic materials be plainly labelled as such by the manufacturer. The report of the manufacturer showed that the anti-freeze placed in the container was composed of 95 per cent ethylene glycol base and a number of additives. On the deceased's bed, he said, was a stain on the mattress cover, a bluish-green colour, in the area at the head of the bed. PATHOLOGICAL REPORT Dr. H.N.J. Boyd, Pathologist of the Provincial Laboratories, in the following witness, stated that he had examined the body of the deceased. Externally he noted fine white crystals covering the face and a general dehydrated appearance. Internally, the kidneys and lungs were very pale, and not of their ordinary composition. The changes indicated were characteristic of either ethylene or diethylene poisoning, or both. There was no evidence of mercury poisoning.

Dr. Boyd stated that 3 1/2 ounces of ethylene glycol is considered fatal in most cases, and that one ounce of diethylene glycol was fatal. The substances had a pleasant taste, he said. Questioned as to his opinion of the cause of death, Dr. Boyd said the deceased apparently had in his system these glycols, as the liver and kidneys showed every indication of their ordinary composition. The changes indicated were characteristic of either ethylene or diethylene poisoning, or both. There was no evidence of mercury poisoning.

He also noted the presence of calcium oxalate crystals in the kidney tubules, which would block the passage - the crystals in such an area would be caused only by ethylene glycol, which also caused hydropic degeneration, a destruction of the tubules' cells. Boyd concluded that the presence of ethylene was the reason such changes occurred; it was beyond a reasonable doubt. The jury strongly recommended that any anti-freeze containing toxic materials be plainly labelled as such by the manufacturer.
