FALLOUT STATION PREPARED

A radio-active fallout reporting station, one of many built on the Island within the past few weeks, was completed in the basement of the Tignish post office on Wednesday, April 4. In case of a radio-active fallout the station will be manned by two operators, who will take readings of the fallout. Roy Pedersen one of the masons with M.F. Schurman Ltd. of Summerside, is seen putting the finishing touches to the cement blocks that were used to erect the cement shelter.

Waterford House Burns

TIGNISH — A large two-storey house at Waterford, owned by Stanley O'Brien was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon.

Mr. O'Brien and another workman had just finished shingling the roof when fire was seen coming out the eaves of the modern dwelling which was valued at over $5,000. Only a television set and some other small articles were saved.

Mr. O'Brien and his mother were the only occupants of the house. The Tignish fire department was called but the fire was far advanced by the time it arrived.

Only a small amount of insurance was in effect.
