Patrick Nowlan Addresses Group

Patrick Nowlan, MP for Digby-Annapolis, referred briefly to the recent parliamentary debates (Spencer and Munsinger) at a combined meeting of SDU-PWC Young Progressive Conservative Students' Federation last night at Montgomery Hall.

Mr. Nowlan said that never in the history of political affairs in Canada have so many ministers been maligned so maliciously by a minister.

In commenting on items of the judicial inquiry, he noted the fact that the charge was who "may" be a security risk and that all could possibly at some time have fallen under the cloak.

He suggested that one solution to the problems of parliament lie in the relocation of mutual respect and confidence between members, and the debate between them should again be on the issues of principle policy rather than on personalities.

Other guest speakers at the rally included: Heath Macquarrie, MP for Queens and David MacDonald, MP for Prince.

Mr. Macquarrie congratulated the students on forming their club and assured them assistance in any way possible. Mr. MacDonald who mentioned problems that tend to divide Canada, stated that it is not a problem of the French not being able to understand the English but one of the English not able to understand the French.

PATRICK NOWLAN

Mr. MacDonald said that there are presently over 2,000 civil servants in Ottawa learning to speak French as well as 40 parliamentarians that he knows.

Chairman of the meeting was Frank MacGregor, Bloomfield, president of the Progressive Conservative Federation of P.W.C. Bill MacDougall, Summerside, chaired a panel discussion following talks from the speakers.

Also at the head table were: Art McInnis, president of the P.E.I. Young Progressive Conservative Association; James Lee, provincial organizer for the Conservative party; and Philip MacDonald, president of SDU Young Progressive Conservative Students' Federation.

Export Zinc Prices Cut

MONTREAL (CP) — Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. of Canada Ltd. has announced that its price for zinc in markets other than Canada and the United States will be reduced to £102 per long ton or 13.77 cents per pound, effective March 23.

A spokesman for cominco said the company's last price change was Sept. 9, 1964, at 14.77 cents per pound. The reduction followed announcements Wednesday by Imperial Smelting, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Rio Tinto - Zinc Corp. of London, which reduced prices to £102 per ton, or 13.77 cents a pound, and Noranda Sales, a marketing subsidiary of Noranda Mines, which announced a similar drop.

Producers in the United States said the new prices announced in London may reduce quotations in North America.

PEARS CARRY WEIGHT — The giant clam of the Pacific Ocean sometimes produces pearls weighing up to 14 pounds.

Unusual optimism among the dairymen is partly due to the fact that dairy products have finally passed a lengthy period of surpluses, and the situation now is that the demand will probably exceed the supply.

One Island man told this paper today that the higher guarantee would mean about $500 extra per year for his dairy revenue.

Souris Team Wins Debate

SOURIS — The Souris Regional High School debating team of Mary Power and Joseph Mullaly upholding the affirmative side of the topic, resolved that the emergence of women from the home is a depressing feature of modern society, won a unanimous decision over Montague last night at the SRHS auditorium.

Montague was represented by Mary MacInnis and Mary Doyle.

Judges for the event were Mrs. Melvin J. McQuaid, Souris; Rev. A.G.J. Sleeves, Montague; Francis White of Morell; and Chairman was Gerard Gallant.

This was the final debate of the school year and the SRHS team ended the year with three victories to take the Kings County debating title.

The Director of Physical Education, Earl Nicholson and Dr. J.J. Coyle, Athletic Faculty Advisor, represented Prince of Wales at the meetings. The College representatives reported that, as a new applicant to the M.I.A.A., they had been given a very courteous and understanding hearing and their application received unanimous support from the eleven universities represented at the meeting.

One of the three was arrested inside the store by Tignish Policeman Robert May, who took over the duties of policeman earlier in the week.

Entry into the building was made by way of a small barred window. A case of liquor stolen in the break was recovered yesterday. A number of breaks have occurred in the former store but this is the first one in new premises. Alberton detachment of the RCMP is assisting in the investigation.

NO REASON

This is in line with trends across the whole country, where consumer eating habits have changed a great deal since the 1930's.

LESS MILK

Today, he said, the average Canadian drinks about 70 pounds less fluid milk than the average Canadian drank in the 1930s. But he is eating a little more than twice as much cheese, about eight and a half pounds compared to four.

This is a trend that has not been missed by Prince Edward Island dairy farmers. While production of fluid milk and of butter have risen at only a relatively slight rate since 1957 the production of cheese has doubled during the same period, Mr. Greene observed.

"But I think," he said, "this is fairly typical of the canny perceptiveness of the Prince Edward Island farmer. The potatoes produced on this island are famous all over the world as the finest seed potatoes available anywhere. The hogs produced in this province are also of as high a quality as any in Canada, and higher than a good many. In Canada as a whole, for example, some 37 per cent of all hogs produced in 1963 were in the Grade A quality level, while 56 per cent of P.E.I. hog production made that Grade in 1963.

"The same is true of P.E.I. dairy cattle. Because of their well established blood lines, purebred cattle from this province are in great demand by breeders elsewhere.

"I think this diversification of agriculture which is found on this province provides a good example of what is needed in agriculture all across Canada," the genial minister told a naturally appreciative audience.
