Dead Heat Main Highlight In Season's Final Card

The 1958 harness racing season at the Charlottetown Driving Park ended last evening with Dunlop B and Ginger E providing the grand finale with a dead heat for top spot in the sixth dash of an eight-dash program. This closed what was one of the greatest harness racing seasons ever on P. E. I.

In the second last dash of the evening Nell's Lad came home in front but was set back to seventh position for interference on the back-stretch. The second quinella was also on this race with the second and third horses, Vivien M and Sally Volstead ending up 1,2 and paying the handsome sum of $41.40.

SPORTS FRONT

By PIUS CALLAGHAN

THIS WEDNESDAY a track and field competition between Birchwood and Queen Charlotte High schools is being staged at Memorial Field.

Before world series fans start muttering that the Braves and Yankees open at County Stadium that afternoon, let us assure you that you can see the entire track meet and get home in time to get all set for the first ball pitched in the world series.

THIS COMPETITION in track and field between these two schools is the beginning of something that Spy and Bill believe will lead to much greater things.

PARENTS ARE reminded to show an interest in this phase of school work. The educational authorities have recognized its importance by placing two qualified instructors on the staffs of both schools.

LOS ANGELES DODGERS "clinched" seventh spot in the National League. This was quite a far distance from first where this columnist picked the Alouettes to finish.

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON he again made his prediction to his readers. We must admire his courage because it does really take courage (some might not call it that) to repeat such an utterance.

MIND YOU, the Braves and Yankees were last October's opponents and the Braves, with Lew Burdette winning three games, managed to grab the series 4-3.

HE'S BANKING on Burdette again and that's asking a lot of a fellow who had to do it all by himself last fall. He likes to think that the Yankees aren't the power hitters like the Braves, that follows like MacDougall, Bauer, Kubek aren't the type that are likely to break open a ball game.

OF COURSE one of us is going to be wrong. That will be nothing new for either columnist. We still like the Yankees despite all the propaganda to the contrary.

Our friend has the entire Milwaukee mound corps in a healthy state and he has, after due examination, classified the Yankee hurlers (the majority) as unfit to do battle. He may find out to his grief that the sick have recovered, at least sufficiently to attend to the little detail of sidelining the Braves.

WE repeat that six games should do the job of bringing the world championship back to Yankee Stadium.

Minn. Millers Capture Series

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minneapolis Millers won the little world series title Monday night by crushing Montreal Royals 7-1 for a four-game sweep that ran their playoff winning string to 11 straight.

Tom Borland, 25-year-old Miller lefthander, retired 20 consecutive batters between the second and ninth innings after Minneapolis had bombed Bobby Gialombardo for five runs in the third, all the Millers needed.

Borland yielded five hits and struck out seven to climax a season of strong-armed Minneapolis pitching that carried the Millers to third place in the American Association and then to victory in three playoff series.

The victory was the fifth in a row for the American Association over the International League in their annual post-season playoff.

Rookie right fielder Lu Clinton swung the big bludgeon for Minneapolis. He banged a bases-loaded triple to banner a five-run third inning and then hit a solo homer in the seventh.

Art Schult, the Miller bellwether throughout the playoffs, lashed a 400-foot homer behind Clinton's triple in the third.

Borland himself produced the other Miller run by tripling in the seventh and riding home when the relay was mishandled by second baseman Sparky Anderson.

Montreal got its run in the second inning when Dan Gatta singled and scored on Gialombardo's triple.

Legion Sponsors Juniors Next Year

Charlottetown Junior Legionaires baseball team, Island champions this year, will be together for another season as a result of a decision at a meeting of the Charlottetown No. 1 Branch of the Canadian Legion last week.

It was the unanimous opinion of those attending the meeting that the money spent on the team was well worth while and as a result the sports committee chairman Ev MacNeil was given the go-ahead to make plans for next season.

The meeting was the first since the summer races. Legion president S.W. Leard Presided.

The Legion parking lot was another subject that provoked considerable discussion. It was pointed out that the project, believed to be worthwhile in the beginning had proved to be a "financial flop", due mainly to the fire which destroyed the old market building and civic Centre.

The area was later turned into a free parking lot.

It was decided to retain the Legion parking lot as free parking space for Legion members.

A resolution was adopted under motion of Ira Brown seconded by Phil Palmer that the resolution re-free school books be held for further study before being presented to the Provincial Government.

A period of silence was observed in memory of fallen comrades. Regular committee reports were read and adopted.

Southpaws Ford, Spahn To Hurl World Series Opener

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Just as everybody expected, Whitey Ford and Warren Spahn will be the opening left-handed pitchers Wednesday when New York Yankees and Milwaukee Braves open the world series at County Stadium.

Despite last year's Milwaukee victory and the strange last-half slump of the Yankees, the American League champions remain 7-to-5 favorites. The opening game is rated even money.

Ford has appeared in five series for a 5-3 record, pitching the opener for the Yanks the last three years. Last October he beat Spahn in the opener 3-1, in New York.

HAD SORE ELBOW Ford's ability to pitch nine innings under pressure is unknown since he was sidelined by his sore elbow.

and six innings. In his last test run Friday night he allowed only one hit—an inside-the-park homer—in six innings against Baltimore. The chunky blonde probably could have gone all the way without trouble in all three starts but nobody can say for sure.

YANKEE MANAGER CEASES Stengel plans to get three games out of the 29-year-old lefty if the best-of-seven series goes the route.

Moore Floored By Ex-Employee

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A man who exchanged blows at a bus depot with light heavyweight boxing champion Archie Moore said Monday: "I propelled him to the floor with force."

The report that William Samuel Ross, 38, had made earlier to police said Moore had propelled Ross to the floor first with such force that a lacerated eye required several stitches at a hospital Saturday.

They had argued, the report said, over Ross's contention that Moore owed him back pay for employment at the champion's camp-ranch at Ramona.
